Handbook of the Philippines and Catalogue of the Philippine Exhibit Philippines. Exposition Board, William Powell Wilson, 1903 Democratic Education in an Armed Society Samantha Deane, 2023-11-21 Democratic Education in an Armed Society Learning to Live with Guns examines the points of intersection between school gun violence and democratic education Samantha Deane explores the connection between how we teach children to think of themselves as democratic actors and the unceasing plague of gun violence Juxtaposing two images of political agency Deane connects an essentialized view of humans as masters of themselves objects and history with discourses that aim to train individuals to be autonomous and rational users of objects like guns This liberal view gives us no way to think about how objects narratives and norms contour the selves we claim to be Deane suggests that we must learn to attend to the ways in which our ability to act in the world is shared and distributed In a society shot through with guns and enamored with individualism the future of associational life depends on whether we learn to do democracy with the objects we hold dear

Root Ecology Hans de Kroon, Eric J.W. Visser, 2013-06-29 In the course of evolution a great variety of root systems have learned to overcome the many physical biochemical and biological problems brought about by soil This development has made them a fascinating object of scientific study This volume gives an overview of how roots have adapted to the soil environment and which roles they play in the soil ecosystem The text describes the form and function of roots their temporal and spatial distribution and their turnover rate in various ecosystems Subsequently a physiological background is provided for basic functions such as carbon acquisition water and solute movement and for their responses to three major abiotic stresses i e hard soil structure drought and flooding The volume concludes with the interactions of roots with other organisms of the complex soil ecosystem including symbiosis competition and the function of roots as a food source

Plant Nutrition - Physiology and Applications M.L. Van Beusichem, 2012-12-06 Exactly 35 years after the first Colloquium was held the Eleventh International Plant Nutrition Colloquium took place from 30 July to 4 August 1989 in Wageningen The Netherlands Although impressive progress has been made during the past decades in our understanding of the mechanisms of uptake distribution and assimilation of nutrients in relation to crop yield and quality there are still significant gaps in our insight into many fundamental aspects of plant mineral nutrition and related metabolic processes In spite of improved knowledge of nutrient requirements of crops and improved fertilizer application strategies the world population remains to be burdened with an enormous shortage of plant products for food timber fuel shelter and other purposes The main challenge facing the plant nutrition research community is to at least alleviate the increasing world wide need for applying scientific knowledge to practical problems in agriculture horticulture and forestry It is therefore felt by many scientists that the Plant Nutrition Colloquia which are intended to bring together scientists and to integrate knowledge and approaches acquired in plant physiology biochemistry soil science agronomy and related disciplines have indeed made a significant contribution to the advancement of our knowledge and understanding in this vital and interdisciplinary field of agrobiology About 260 scientists from 40 nations attended the Colloquium in Wageningen

The International Legal

Protection of Children in Street Situations Sylvia Agu, 2025-08-12 The book conducts a comprehensive analysis of codified international legal instruments and documents in their application to children in street situations employing soft law documents to elucidate treaty interpretation and supplement existing legal standards The research adopts a holistic approach correlating international legal instruments with root causes and consequences for children in street situations while systematically examining issues of intersectionality such as economic social and cultural rights civil and political rights minority rights including disability rights rights of the girl child as well as LGBTQI and migrant rights reparations impact of violence and access to essential services like health food and housing with various human rights issues including economic social cultural and civil political rights It presents the plight of children in street situations as a human rights concern offering guidance on utilising international legal sources in rights claims procedures The study also integrates sociological and political perspectives with legal and governmental policy issues examining the influence of external factors such as conditional lending and structural adjustment programmes wars and decolonisation on social policies and their consequent impact on children and families by rendering children in street situations visible as a distinct category requiring urgent attention in State policy formulation By systematically integrating international legal instruments with practical policy considerations and applications concerning children in street situations this scholarly work serves as a comprehensive legal framework for State governments their bodies and social workers and a valuable advocacy guide for interest groups including non governmental organisations proposing future directions for policy and research for addressing the rights and needs of children in street situations
