Roots Of Art Education Practice:

A History of Art Education Arthur D. Efland, 1990 Arthur Efland puts current debate and concerns in a well researched historical perspective He examines the institutional settings of art education throughout Western history the social forces that have shaped it and the evolution and impact of alternate streams of influence on present practice A History of Art Education is the first book to treat the visual arts in relation to developments in general education Particular emphasis is placed on the 19th and 20th centuries and on the social context that has affected our concept of art today This book will be useful as a main text in history of art education courses as a supplemental text in courses in art education methods and history of education and as a valuable resource for students professors and researchers The book should become a standard reference tool for art educators at all levels of the field The Journal of Aesthetics and Art Criticism Efland has filled a gap in historical research on art education and made an important contribution to scholarship in the field Studies in Art Education

Roots of Art Education Practice Mary Ann Stankiewicz, 2001 Combining accepted ideas about art children and schooling the author tells the story of art education practice a century ago Readers will gain insights into the circumstances under which curricular practices originated and will better appreciate the beliefs that shape art education today Art Education in Practice Series

International Handbook of Research in Arts Education Liora Bresler, 2007-03-05 Providing a distillation of knowledge in the various disciplines of arts education dance drama music literature and poetry and visual arts this essential handbook synthesizes existing research literature reflects on the past and contributes to shaping the future of the respective and integrated disciplines of arts education While research can at times seem distant from practice the Handbook aims to maintain connection with the live practice of art and of education capturing the vibrancy and best thinking in the field of theory and practice The Handbook is organized into 13 sections each focusing on a major area or issue in arts education research

A History of Art Education Arthur Efland, 1990-01 Recent debates on the place of the arts in American life has refocused attention on art education in schools In this book the author puts current debate and concerns in a well researched historical perspective He examines the institutional settings of art education throughout Western history the social forces that have shaped it and the evolution and impact of alternate streams of influence on present practice The book treats the visual arts in relation to developments in general education and particular emphasis is placed on the 19th and 20th centuries and on the social context that has affected our concept of art today The book is intended as a main text in history of art education courses as a supplemental text in courses in art education methods and history of education and as a resource for students professors and researchers

Autobiographical Lectures of Leaders in Art Education, 2001-2021 Stephanie Autumn

Baer, Katherine Coy Smith, Stephanie Harvey Danker, 2024-03-29 This scholarly collection is a continuation of a lecture series highlighting the essential nature of biography in the history of art education The editors feature 16 prominent art educators organized into one of three chronological sections spanning the past two decades The contributing art educators explore influences that shaped their beliefs about art education and the arts describe their career paths explain their philosophy of art education and its development and advise predict or speculate about the future Every chapter concludes with essential questions and instructional resources to guide readers in their reflection In reading these lectures art education faculty students and any adjacent professional to the arts and art history can learn the importance of biographical and autobiographical study to research Beyond research readers can use the lectures to consider and question teaching and mentoring relationships the power of influence and what qualities may contribute to the recognition of exemplary success for art educators

The History of American Art Education Peter Smith, 1996-07-22 The ideas people and events that developed art education are described and analyzed so that art educators and educators in general will have a better understanding of what has happened and is happening to visual art in the schools Peter Smith raises the issue of art education's inordinate emphasis on Eurocentric art He challenges the often expressed notion that the field of education is the cause of art education's problems and proposes that confused conceptions within the art world are just as much a root of the difficulty No other book in art education history gives such close and analytical attention to the careers of women in the field The materials on Germanic cultural and historical influences are unequalled as is the scholarly treatment of Viktor Lowenfeld probably the most influential single figure in 20th century American art education

Developing Visual Arts Education in the United States Mary Ann Stankiewicz, 2016-06-15 This book examines how Massachusetts Normal Art School became the alma mater par excellence for generations of art educators designers and artists The founding myth of American art education is the story of Walter Smith the school's first principal This historical case study argues that Smith's students formed the professional network to disperse art education across the United States establishing college art departments and supervising school art for industrial cities As administrative progressives they created institutions and set norms for the growing field of art education Nineteenth century artists argued that anyone could learn to draw by the 1920s every child was an artist whose creativity waited to be awakened Arguments for systematic art instruction under careful direction gave way to charismatic artist teachers who sought to release artistic spirits The task for art education had been redefined in terms of living the good life within a consumer culture of work and leisure

A History of Disability and Art Education Claire Penketh, 2023-08-16 Drawing on recent theoretical frameworks from critical disability studies and art education including normalcy ableism disability and Crip theory this book offers an analysis of the conceptualisation of ability in art education and its relationship with disability Drawing on the work of Cizek and Lowenfeld in Austria Ruskin and Richardson in England and Dewey and Eisner in the United States it critically examines the influence of ideas such as the dominance of vision and visuality the emergence of psychological perspectives the Child Art Movement the implications of assessment regimes and the relevance of art education as a critical social practice on the production of disability Offering a sustained inquiry into the differential values attributed to learners and their work and the implications of this for framing our understanding of disability in art education this book shows that although art educators have frequently advocated for the universal appeal and importance of art education they have done so within historical contexts that have produced and determined problematic ideas regarding disability It will be of interest to all scholars and students of disability studies art in education art history and education studies An Uneasy Guest in the Schoolhouse Ellen Winner,2022 This book recounts how art education has been conceptualized taught and advocated for in the United States in the face of its persistent marginalization in the education system Tracing various rationales offered from the 19th century onward Winner argues for the importance of quality visual art education in our schools

Revitalizing History Paul E. Bolin,Ami Kantawa,2021-03-09 Historical inquiry forms the foundation for much research undertaken in art education While traversing paths of historical investigation in this field we may discover undocumented moments and overlooked or hidden individuals as well as encounter challenging ideas in need of exploration and critique In doing so history is approached from multiple and at times vitally diverse perspectives Our hope is that the conversations generated through this text will continue to strengthen and encourage more interest in histories of art education but also more sophisticated and innovative approaches to historical research in this field The overarching objective of the text is to recognize the historical role that many overlooked individuals particularly African Americans and women have played in the field of art education and acknowledge the importance of history and historical research in this digital age This text opens up possibilities of faculty collaborations across programs interested in history and historical research on a local national and international level By assembling the work of various scholars from across the United States this text is intended to elicit rich conversations about history that would be otherwise beyond what is provided in general art education textbooks
