Rutherford County In World War II Volume 2 Nc:

Rutherford County in World War II Anita Price Davis, James M. Walker, 2004 This highly anticipated follow up to Rutherford County in World War II continues to illustrate the tremendous contributions of a brave community to the World War II effort. Rutherford County residents participated in almost every major campaign of the war including Pearl Harbor, the air offensive in Europe, and D Day, and those on the home front did all they could to support the troops. These patriotic photographs, many of which were collected by the authors during personal interviews with local veterans and other dedicated residents, memorialize this proud county's service and commitment to the war effort. North Carolina and World War II Anita Price Davis, 2014-11-19 North Carolina did more than its part during World War II. This Southern state trained more troops than any other state in the nation. Can one still find the military posts and shipyards, the cemeteries and memorials, the convalescent units, and R.R. facilities today? This volume describes in detail both the state's 20 plus military sites and the eight little-known North Carolina prisoner-of-war camps. Images and memories tell the story of service personnel and their families who contributed to the war effort at much personal sacrifice. The book reminds readers of how those Carolinians who remained behind did their part through supporting the troops, rationing, salvaging metals, growing Victory Gardens, and purchasing War Bonds. This work is part of The Families of Old Harrisburg Series compiled and published by The Harris Depot Project. North Carolina Civil War Obituaries, Regiments 47 - 70 Volume 2 A Collection of Tributes to the War Dead and Veterans Barry Munson, 2019-10-25 North Carolina sent over 125,000 men and boys to service in the Civil War. It is estimated that about 40,000 lost their lives through disease, accidents, or on the battlefield during the four war years. Previous to the war, death was a more private affair with family and friends there to comfort the dying and bid him or her farewell. Burials took place in the community in a churchyard or in a selected place where generations of a family lay. But with the war, what would happen to the bodies of their loved ones: fathers, husbands, sons, brothers, and other relatives so far away from home? This book, a compilation of obituaries written in NC newspapers, seeks to answer that question: what happened to a loved one? There are approximately 1,200 names in this collection.
