Relating to Rock Art in the Contemporary World Liam M. Brady, Paul S.C. Taçon, 2016-12-01 Rock art has long been considered an archaeological artifact reflecting activities from the past yet it is also a phenomenon with present day meaning and relevance to both indigenous and non indigenous communities Relating to Rock Art in the Contemporary World challenges traditional ways of thinking about this highly recognizable form of visual heritage and provides insight into its contemporary significance. One of the most visually striking forms of material culture embedded in landscapes, rock art is ascribed different meanings by diverse groups of people including indigenous peoples, governments, tourism offices, and the general public, all of whom relate to images and sites in unique ways. In this volume, leading scholars from around the globe shift the discourse from a primarily archaeological basis to one that examines the myriad ways that symbolism, meaning, and significance in rock art are being renegotiated in various geographical and cultural settings from Australia to the British Isles. They also consider how people manage the complex meanings, emotions, and cultural and political practices tied to rock art sites and how these factors impact processes relating to identity construction and reaffirmation today. Richly illustrated and geographically diverse, Relating to Rock Art in the Contemporary World connects archaeology, anthropology, and heritage studies. The book will appeal to students and scholars of archaeology, anthropology, heritage, heritage management, identity studies, art history, indigenous studies, and visual theory, as well as professionals and amateurs who have vested or avocational interests in rock art. Contributors: Agustín Acevedo, Manuel Bea Jutinach, Bowonsachoti Gemma Boyle, John J. Bradley, Noelene Cole, Inés Domingo, Kurt E. Dongoske, Davida Eisenberg, Degen Dinae Fiore, Ursula K. Frederick, Kelley Hays Gilpin, Catherine Namono, George H. Nash, John Norder, Marianna Ocampo, Joshua Schmidt, Duangpond Singhaseni, Benjamin W. Smith, Atthasit Sukkham, Noel Hidalgo Tan, Watinee Tanompolkrang, Luke Taylor, Dagmara Zawadzka. Sacred Darkness, Holley Moyes, 2012-09-01. Caves have been used in various ways across human society, but despite the persistence within popular culture of the iconic caveman, deep caves were never used primarily as habitation sites for early humans. Rather, in both ancient and contemporary contexts, caves have served primarily as ritual spaces. In Sacred Darkness, contributors use archaeological evidence as well as ethnographic studies of modern ritual practices to envision the cave as place of spiritual and ideological power and a potent venue for ritual practice. Covering the ritual use of caves in Europe, Asia, Australia, Africa, Mesoamerica, and the US Southwest and Eastern woodlands, this book brings together case studies by prominent scholars whose research spans from the Paleolithic period to the present day. These contributions demonstrate that cave sites are as fruitful as surface contexts in promoting the understanding of both ancient and modern religious beliefs and practices. This state-of-the-art survey of ritual cave use will be one of the most valuable resources for understanding the role of caves in studies of religion, sacred landscape, or cosmology and a must read for any archaeologist interested in caves. Monastery, Monument, Museum, Maurizio Peleggi, 2017-10-31. Ranging across the longue durée of Thailand's history, Monastery, Monument, Museum is an eminently readable and original contribution to the study of the kingdom's art and culture. Eschewing issues of dating, style, and iconography, historian Maurizio Peleggi addresses distinct types of artifacts and artworks as both the products and vehicles of cultural memory. From the temples of Chiangmai to the Emerald Buddha, from the National Museum of Bangkok to the prehistoric culture of Northeast Thailand and from the civic monuments of the 1930s to the political artworks of the late twentieth century even well known artworks and monuments reveal new meanings when approached from this perspective Part I Sacred Geographies focuses on the premodern era when religious credence informed the cultural alteration of landscape and devotional sites and artifacts including visual representation of the Buddhist cosmology were created Part II Antiquities Museums and National History covers the 1830s through the 1970s when antiquarianism and eventually archaeology emerged and developed in the kingdom partly the result of a shift in the elites worldview and partly a response to colonial and neocolonial projects of knowledge Part III Discordant Mnemoscapes deals with civic monuments and artworks that anchor memory of twentieth century political events and provide stages for both their commemoration and counter commemoration by evoking the country s embattled political present Monastery Monument Museum shows us how cultural memory represents a kind of palimpsest the result of multiple inscriptions reworkings and manipulations over time The book will be a rewarding read for historians art historians anthropologists and Buddhism scholars working on Thailand and Southeast Asia generally as well as for academic and general readers with an interest in memory and material culture

Peoples of the Buddhist World Paul Hattaway,2004 In the past 20 years Christians around the world have launched initiatives to reach Muslims Communists Hindus and other major unreached people groups but the Buddhist world has largely been overlooked Hundreds of millions of Buddhists continue to live and die without any exposure to the Gospel In Peoples of the Buddhist World researcher and author Paul Hattaway graphically presents prayer profiles of more than 200 Buddhist people groups around the world beautifully illustrated with color pictures throughout In addition experts have contributed articles on various aspects of Buddhism helping the reader to learn pray and work until that day when the kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ and he will reign for ever and ever Rev 11 15 From publisher s description
