Hummel, 2019-04-30 Weaving together the stories of activists American Jewish leaders and Israeli officials in the wake of the establishment of the state of Israel in 1948 Covenant Brothers portrays the dramatic rise of evangelical Christian Zionism as it gained prominence in American politics Israeli diplomacy and international relations after World War II According to Daniel G Hummel conventional depictions of the Christian Zionist movement the organized political and religious effort by conservative Protestants to support the state of Israel focus too much on American evangelical apocalyptic fascination with the Jewish people Hummel emphasizes instead the institutional international interreligious and intergenerational efforts on the part of Christians and Jews to mobilize evangelical support for Israel From missionary churches in Israel to Holy Land tourism from the Israeli government to the American Jewish Committee and from Billy Graham's influence on Richard Nixon to John Hagee's courting of Donald Trump Hummel reveals modern Christian Zionism to be an evolving and deepening collaboration between Christians and the state of Israel He shows how influential officials in the Israeli Ministry of Religious Affairs and Foreign Ministry tasked with pursuing a religious diplomacy that would enhance

Israel's standing in the Christian world combined forces with evangelical Christians to create and organize the vast global network of Christian Zionism that exists today. He also explores evangelicalism's embrace of Jewish concepts, motifs, and practices and its profound consequences on worshippers' political priorities and their relationship to Israel. Drawing on religious and government archives in the United States and Israel, Covenant Brothers reveals how an unlikely mix of Christian and Jewish leaders' state support and transnational networks of institutions combined religion, politics, and international relations to influence U.S. foreign policy and eventually global geopolitics.

Choreographies of Shared Sacred Sites Elazar Barkan, Karen Barkey, 2014-11-11 This anthology explores the dynamics of shared religious sites in Turkey, the Balkans, Palestine, Israel, Cyprus, and Algeria, indicating where local and national stakeholders maneuver between competition and cooperation, coexistence and conflict. Contributors probe the notion of coexistence and the logic that underlies centuries of sharing, exploring when and why sharing gets interrupted or not by conflict and the policy consequences These essays map the choreographies of shared sacred spaces within the framework of state society relations juxtaposing a site s political and religious features and exploring whether sharing or contestation is primarily religious or politically motivated Although religion and politics are intertwined phenomena the contributors to this volume understand the category of religion and the political as devices meant to distinguish between the theological and confessional aspects of religion and the political goals of groups Their comparative approach better represents the transition in some cases of sites into places of hatred and violence while in other instances they remain noncontroversial The essays clearly delineate the religious and political factors that contribute to the context and causality of conflict at these sites and draw on history and anthropology to shed light on the often rapid switch from relative tolerance to distress to peace and calm
