The musical score is written for three parts: Flauto (Flute), Piano, and Fl. (Flute). The key signature is B-flat major (two flats) and the time signature is 4/4. The tempo is marked as quarter note = 63. The score is divided into four systems. The first system shows the Flauto part with a whole rest for the first four measures, followed by a half note and a quarter note in the fifth measure. The Piano part plays a continuous eighth-note accompaniment, starting with a piano (p) dynamic. The second and third systems continue the Piano accompaniment. The fourth system introduces a 'poco rit.' (poco ritardando) marking for both the Fl. and Pno. parts. The Fl. part has a half note with a fermata in the first measure of the system, followed by quarter notes. The Pno. part continues with eighth notes, also marked with a piano (p) dynamic.

Si Hei Lwli:

Fragments and Meaning in Traditional Song Mary-Ann Constantine, Gerald Porter, 2003-08-07 This is a study of very short songs pieces long perceived as fragments or remnants of longer narrative texts and dismissed as the by products of a degenerative oral tradition Coverage includes English Welsh Breton American and Finnish songs The authors argue that the inherently metaphorical and connotative idiom of traditional song makes external critical notions of completeness inappropriate in practice such pieces are rarely felt to be broken or lacking by those who sing them they have a strong metonymic force A wide range of texts and traditions is explored to suggest how short songs may convey meaning both in performance and in non traditional contexts such as the literary novel

Celtic Literatures in the Twentieth Century Сборник статей, 2015-09-09 The Centre for Irish and Celtic Studies at the University of Ulster hosted at Coleraine between the 24th and 26th August 2000 a very successful and informative conference on Celtic Literatures in the Twentieth Century The lectures and the discussions were of a high standard and it was the intention of the organisers to edit and publish the proceedings as soon as possible thereafter Unfortunately due to difficulties in assembling some of the papers this was not possible and consequently publication has been delayed much longer than was originally anticipated Despite this delay we feel that those papers which we have received merit publication at this time not only because of their intrinsic merits but also because they represent the views of the authors on their respective topics at the turn of the twentieth century and will hopefully be of value to those interested in the state of the modern Celtic literatures
