Seasonal Workers in Mediterranean Agriculture Jörg Gertel, Sarah Ruth Sippel, 2014-04-03 Over the last three decades there has been a rapid expansion of intensive production of fresh fruit and vegetables in the Mediterranean regions of south and west Europe Much of this depends on migrating workers for seasonal labour including from Eastern Europe North Africa and Latin America This book is the first to address global agro migration complexes across the region It is argued that both intensive agricultural production and related working conditions are highly dynamic Regional patterns have developed from small scale family farming to become an industrialized part of the global agri food system which increasingly depends on seasonal labour Simultaneously consumer demand for year round supply has caused relocations of the industry within Europe areas of intensive greenhouse production have moved further south and even into North Africa The authors investigate this Mediterranean agri food system that transcends borders and is largely constituted by invisible seasonal work By revealing the story of food commodities loaded with implications of private profit seeking exploitation exclusion and multiple insecurities the book unmask the hidden costs of fresh food provisioning Three case study areas are considered in detail the French region of Provence a traditional centre of fresh fruit and vegetable cultivation the Spanish Almer a region where intensive production has accelerated dramatically since the 1970s and Morocco where counter seasonal production has recently been expanding The book also includes commentaries that refer to complementary insights on US Mexico Philippines Canada and South Pacific mobilities

Pathways and Consequences of Legal Irregularity Erik R. Vickstrom, 2019-04-10 This open access book provides a unique study of the complexities and consequences of irregular legal status of Senegalese migrants in Europe It employs sophisticated quantitative methods to analyze unique life history data to produce policy relevant conclusions Using the MAFE dataset as empirical evidence the book focuses on the legal paths of Senegalese migrants in three different European countries It shows how multiple contexts of reception produce pathways into irregular legal status and how the resulting complex configurations of irregular status shape migrants economic integration into their host societies as well as their ongoing participation in the development of their sending societies The book thereby increases our understanding of the functioning of African migration systems and the corresponding inclusion patterns in Europe As such this book will be of interest to scholars working in migration studies policy makers and legal professionals Bradshaw's illustrated travellers' hand book in [afterw.] to France George Bradshaw,1855
