Emerging Hispanicized English in the Nuevo New South Erin Callahan, 2018-04-17 This volume provides a comprehensive overview of contemporary language shift and identity in a language community in the mid Atlantic South to offer a unique window into ethnic dialect formation and sociolinguistic processes underpinning dialect acquisition Drawing on data collected from over 100 interviews of members North Carolina Hispanicized English speakers in Durham North Carolina the book employs a quantitative approach and uses statistical software in analyzing the data collected to focus on the sociolinguistic variable of past tense unmarking to explore sociolinguistic processes at work in English language learner variation The focus on a specific variable allows for the opportunity to explore specific processes in more detail including the ways in which speakers accommodate regional and ethnic varieties of their peers and the internal and environmental factors guiding dialect acquisition Illuminating new facets to the processes of language learning language contact and ethnolect emergence this volume is key reading for students and researchers in second language acquisition and variationist sociolinguistics Language in Cognition and Affect Ewa Piechurska-Kuciel, Elżbieta

Szymańska-Czaplak, 2013-01-30 The volume contains most updated theoretical and empirical research on foreign or second language processes analyzed from the perspective of cognition and affect It consists of articles devoted to various issues related to such broad topics as gender literacy translation or culture to mention a few The collection of papers offers a constructive and inspiring insight into a fuller understanding of the interconnection of the language cognition affect trichotomy Early Learning and Teaching of English Jelena Mihaljević Djigunović, Marta Medved Krajnović, 2015-03-02

This book offers an insight into the dynamics and complexities of learning and teaching English as a foreign language at primary level Taking a Dynamic Systems Theory perspective the chapters present the findings of longitudinal research undertaken in Croatia into the development of English in young learners The book includes both qualitative and quantitative research and provides insights into internal individual learner factors and external micro and macro contextual factors which impact English learner development Importantly it tackles the unique position of English in today's globalised world in detail It therefore makes a major contribution to work on learning English by the digitalised generation and to understanding the impact of practices in the modern EFL classroom The volume will appeal to anyone interested in new ways of researching the complex and dynamic phenomenon of the early learning of English UPRT 2010: Empirical Studies in English Applied Linguistics ,

Bengali-English in East London Sebastian M. Rasinger, 2007 An in depth study of language and language use within the Bangladeshi community in the East London borough of Tower Hamlets Based on a corpus of spontaneous speech data collected within the area the book provides the reader with an overview of the linguistic characteristics of Bengali English as well as patterns of language use New Perspectives on Transfer in Second Language Learning

Liming Yu, Terence Odlin, 2016 When people attempt to learn a new language the languages they already know can help but also hinder their understanding or production of new forms This phenomenon known as language transfer is the focus of this book The collection offers new theoretical perspectives some in the empirical studies and some in other chapters and consists of four sections considering lexical syntactic phonological and cognitive perspectives The volume provides a wealth of studies on the influence of Chinese on the acquisition of English but also includes studies involving Finnish French Hindi Korean Persian Spanish Swedish and Tamil It will be of great interest to researchers and students working in the areas of crosslinguistic influence in second language acquisition language pedagogy and psycholinguistics Developmental and

Crosslinguistic Perspectives in Learner Corpus Research Yukio Tono, Yuji Kawaguchi, Makoto Minegishi, 2012-03-28 This volume provides a state of the art overview of current research and developments on the use of learner corpora perceived from developmental and crosslinguistic perspectives The book is divided into two parts The eleven contributions of Part I investigate the development of English language skills of young learners across seven countries regions on the basis of a new corpus resource called the International Corpus of Crosslinguistic Interlanguage ICCI Part II contains seven papers devoted to other varieties of learner corpora especially spoken learner corpora and learner corpora of languages other than English Presenting original research in corpus linguistics this book will be of interest to researchers and postgraduates in the fields of learner corpus research and second language acquisition and those who wish to apply corpus methodology in teaching and learning For sale in all countries except Japan For customers in Japan please contact Yushodo Co

Linguistic Relativity in SLA ZhaoHong Han,Teresa Cadierno,2010-06-18 Crosslinguistic influence is an established area of second language research and as such it has been subject to extensive scrutiny Although the field has come a long way in understanding its general character many issues still remain a conundrum for example why does transfer appear selective and why does transfer never seem to go away for certain linguistic elements Unlike most existing studies which have focused on transfer at the surface form level the present volume examines the relationship between thought and language in particular thought as shaped by first language development and use and its interaction with second language use The chapters in this collection conceptually explore and empirically investigate the relevance of Slobin s Thinking for Speaking Hypothesis to adult second language acquisition offering compelling and enlightening evidence of the fundamental nature of crosslinguistic influence in adult second language acquisition

New Methodological Approaches to Foreign Language Teaching Thomas H. Schmidt,Laura Torres-Zúñiga,2017-06-23 This volume explores how the traditional academic disciplines of linguistics translation literature and cultural studies can contribute to or be integrated into the teaching of a foreign language by means of innovative methodologies techniques and instruments The book begins with a selection of essays on applied linguistics that share some significant findings in the context of second or foreign language acquisition It then examines the ways in which linguistics translation theory literature and cultural studies are brought into the foreign language classroom not just as objects of study but also as vehicles for language learning By presenting studies on four main foreign languages English Spanish French and German the collection offers to the foreign language profession an opportunity for the sharing and comparison of strategies across languages at both the secondary and higher education level The text is a valuable resource for language teachers with a more philologically oriented background who would like to learn how to apply their research knowledge and experience to the design and implementation of new methodological approaches
