Nineteenth Century Pottery And Porcelain In Canada:

Nineteenth-century Pottery and Porcelain in Canada Elizabeth Collard, 1967 The Potters' View of Canada Elizabeth Collard, National Museum of Man (Canada), 1983 This is the first book to be devoted exclusively to potters view of Canada Interest in nineteenth century earthenware decorated with Canadian scenes has grown enormously in recent years These ceramic pictures have caught the attention of museums and private collectors alike and have become notable features of the rapidly widening interest in Canadiana

Nineteenth-Century Pottery and Porcelain in Canada: Selections from the National Ceramic Collection, The History Division of the Canadian Museum of Civilization offers a selection of images of 19th century Canadian pottery and porcelain The division provides images and descriptions of creamware salt glazed stoneware ironstone toywares and more Art Et Architecture Au Canada Loren Ruth Lerner, Mary F.

Williamson, 1991-01-01 Identifies and summarizes thousands of books article exhibition catalogues government publications and theses published in many countries and in several languages from the early nineteenth century to 1981 Potters' View of Canada Elizabeth Collard, 1983-10-01 The potters views of Canada have a many sided appeal linking the world of artists printmakers and photographers to the ceramics industry As part of material history they reflect not only taste in the wares themselves their bodies colours shapes but also the changing ways of looking at things from the romantic to the literal Covering the period for the beginning of the nineteenth century to the end of Queen Victoria s reign this volume focuses chiefly on wares made for the dinner table or the washstand All are earthenware decorated by transfer printing and produced by British potters The scenes they depict range from the awesome falls at Niagara to early steamboats on the St Lawrence from igloos in the Arctic to a governor s residence in New Brunswick Elizabeth Collard traces the evolution of these wares placing them in their historical setting and identifying the sources from which many of the views were derived She also provides much detail on the English and Scottish potters and on the artists whose work they adapted to their own use One of the most important collections of these wares belong to the National Museum of Man Ottawa and it is from the national collection that illustrations for this book have been drawn The more than 170 photographs also include such material as the published prints on which the potters views were based border designs and potters marks This book will be an invaluable reference work not only for collectors and dealers but also for museum curators and material culture historians

Canadian Reference Sources Mary E. Bond, Martine M. Caron, 1996 This bibliography cites those Canadian and foreign reference sources that describe Canadian people institutions organizations publications art literature languages and history It lists books of a general nature as well as works in the disciplines of history and the humanities These large divisions are then broken down by subject genre type of document and province or territory Titles of national provincial territorial or regional interest are included in every subject area when available The contents of the book are indexed four ways by name title French subject and English subject And to facilitate browsing the major reference books those dealing with more than one subject or a large geographical region are also cross referenced Two entries have been created for each bilingual document in order to provide access and bibliographical descriptions in both of Canada's official languages Entries for unilingual works include citation in the language of the publication and a bilingual annotation The annotations are descriptive and provide information on the content arrangements and indexing of works the availability of non print formats previous editions and title changes and related works Canadian Reference Sources will be an invaluable reference tool for future scholars and researchers

Ceramics in the Victorian Era Rachel Gotlieb, 2023-06-29 This book broadens the discussion of pottery and china in the Victorian era by situating them in the national imperial design reform and domestic debates between 1840 and 1890 Largely ignored in recent scholarship Ceramics in the Victorian Era Meanings and Metaphors in Painting and Literature argues that the signification of a pot a jug or a tableware pattern can be more fully discerned in written and painted representations Across five case studies the book explores a rhetoric and set of conventions that developed within the representation of ceramics emerging in the late 18th century and continuing in the Victorian period Each case study begins with a textual passage exemplifying the outlined theme and closes with an object analysis to demonstrate how the fusing of text image and object are critical to attaining the period eye in order to better understand the metaphorical meanings of ceramics Essential reading not only for ceramics scholars but also those of material culture the book mines the rich and diverse archive of Victorian painting and literature from the avant garde to the sentimental from the well known to the more obscure to shed light on the at once complex and simple implications of ceramics agencies at this time A Gentlewoman in Upper Canada Barbara Williams, 2008-11-08 Anne Langton 1804-1893 arrived in Upper Canada in 1837 to join her brother John on his settler farm near Fenelon Falls Ontario An accomplished miniaturist landscape artist and writer Langton documented ten years of family and community hardship and growth in her journals letters and art and traced her own physical and psychological transformation from cultivated Englishwoman to hard working pioneer settler She became an exceptionally influential member of the community developing the first school and library in the area ministering to the sick undertaking charitable work and hosting community events all the while continuing to record her reactions to her new world in her writing and artwork First published in 1950 A Gentlewoman in Upper Canada is a classic work of early pioneering literature This new significantly expanded edition includes many of Langton's original illustrations and reveals Langton's views on writing art and women's social and familial roles in nineteenth century Europe and Canada In her extensive introduction Barbara Williams contextualizes Langton's life and work and reflects on them in light of current scholarship in life writing art history and early emigrant cultural and social history This is the definitive edition of Anne Langton's important text

Canadian craft and museum practice, 1900-1950 Sandra Flood, 2001-01-01 This book presents the first overview of craft activity as an integral part of Canadian culture between 1900 and 1950 and reviews the tone and focus of contemporaneous writing about craft It explores the diversity of all aspects of craft including makers production organization education and government involvement Published in English Carolina's Historical Landscapes Linda France Stine, 1997 Featuring contributions by leading scholars this book goes beyond conventional archaeological studies by placing the description and interpretation of specific sites in the wider context of the landscape that connects them to one another Ritchie's: The Inside Story David F. Ritchie, 2016-02-24 This insider's guide tells how David F Ritchie founded and developed Ritchie's achieving national and international recognition for skill reliability and service as auctioneers and appraisers Ritchie reminisces about the firm's struggles and successes and about prominent Canadians whose collections his firm sold In this business one never graduates The Story of Toronto G.P. deT. Glazebrook, 1971-12-15 This is the story of a town dropped by the hand of government into the midst of a virgin forest It is the story of Toronto from its earliest days to the present and of the generations who worked to bring it from clearing to town from town to city from city to metropolis George Glazebrook has drawn on unpublished papers and correspondence as well as old newspapers books and pamphlets to recount in vivid detail the evolution of the city describing its characteristics at each stage of growth and telling how it changed and why The story opens at the very beginning of Toronto's urban history and goes on to present a fresh and graphic picture of life in the town through the years Fifty nine black and white photographs illustrate the city's ever changing environment Torontonians young and old will enjoy this presentation of their history and Canadians everywhere will find much of interest in the story of one of the major cities of our country The Underpainter Jane Urquhart, 2010-08-27 The Underpainter is a novel of interwoven lives in which the world of art collides with the realm of human emotion It is the story of Austin Fraser an American painter now in his later years who is haunted by memories of those whose lives most deeply touched his own including a young Canadian soldier and china painter and the beautiful model who becomes Austin's mistress Spanning decades the setting moves from upstate New York to the northern shores of two Great Lakes from France in World War One to New York City in the 20s and 30s Brilliantly depicting landscape and the geography of the imagination The Underpainter is Jane Urquhart's most accomplished novel to date Read Canadian Robert Fulford, Abraham Rotstein, David Godfrey, 1972-01-01 Soon after its publication in 1972 Read Canadian was acclaimed as a seminal guide to books by and about Canadians. It remains a landmark guide to the headwaters of Canadian society, its history and literature. It is an absorbing, helpful guide to the books that have been written to the time of publication about this country, its people, politics, history, and arts. It also explores the world of Canadian fiction and poetry with distinguished literary critics who discuss the best novels and poetry the country had produced. Read Canadian remains a valuable sourcebook for people who want to learn more about Canada and Canadian books Pointe-à-Callière Pauline Desjardins, Geneviève Duguay, 1992 Interpreting data from urban archaeological digs in Montreal, this volume examines Pointe-à-Callière, Montreal's birthplace, revealing why Champlain wanted to establish an outpost at the most beautiful spot on the river. Also featured is the history of Maisonneuve, building Ville Marie, the first French establishment in Montreal Guardian of the Trail Peggy A. Gerow, 2004 In the fall of 1989, the Archaeological and Historical Research Institute (AHRI) entered into negotiations with the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) to establish a five-year field school at Fort Craig, beginning in June of 1990. The project was designed to serve a number of purposes: a) to operate an archaeological field school for the training of students and the interested public; b) to assess the nature and extent of cultural resources at the site; and to serve as a guide for any future research that may be undertaken; and c) to establish a foundation for the BLM's public interpretation program at the site. The five seasons of fieldwork were conducted from 1990 to 1994 during the summer and fall. This report describes the results of the archaeological excavations and historical records search conducted by the AHRI at the Fort Craig National Historic site.
