Homely Atmospheres and Lighting Technologies in Denmark Mikkel Bille, 2020-05-26 Using case studies such as the use of candlelight and energy saving lightbulbs in Denmark this book unravels light's place at the heart of social life. In contrast to common perception of light as a technical and aesthetic phenomenon Mikkel Bille argues that there is a cultural and social logic to lighting practices. By empirically investigating the social role of lighting in people's everyday lives Mikkel Bille reveals how and why people visually shape their homes. Moving beyond the impact of its use Bille also comments on the politics of lighting to examine how ideas of pollution and home act as barriers for technological fixes to curb energy demand. Attitudes to these issues are reflective of how human perceptions and practices are central to the efforts to cope with climate change. This ethnographic study is a must read for students of anthropology, cultural studies, human geography, sociology and design.

Global Trends in Human Resource Management E. Parry, E. Stavrou, M. Containing contributions from a range of well-respected HRM scholars across the world, this collection is based upon data from a unique research project.

Work Organisation in Practice P-O Börnfelt, 2023-05-27 This textbook provides an overview of organisation models used in practice from over a century ago to the present day. It outlines the effects these models have on efficiency, learning, innovation and workers' health and offers critical reflections for students. Some of the models covered are Taylorism, bureaucracy, the socio-technical school, process organisation, such as lean production, learning organisations, knowledge management, project organising, including agile, platform economy, professional organisations, new public management and sustainable organisations. Featuring learning objectives and reflective questions for students of organisation studies and design, this textbook has a pedagogical structure based on the division of work and the coordination of work. Conclusions are presented on contemporary work organisation models' impact on working life, ultimately encouraging students to ask the question: how can we create more sustainable work organisations?

From Superman to Social Realism Helle Strandgaard Jensen, 2017-03-31 Can children's media be a source of education and empowerment? Or is the commercial media market a threat to their sense of social and democratic values? Such questions about the appropriateness of children's media consumption have recurred in public debates throughout the twentieth century. From Superman to Social Realism provides an exciting new approach to the study of children's media and childhood history, drawing on theories of cross-media consumption and transnational history. Based on extensive Scandinavian source material, it explores public debates about children's media between 1945 and 1985. Readers are taken on a fascinating journey through debates about superheroes in the 1950s, politicization of children's media in the 1960s and about television and social realism in the 1980s. Arguments are firmly contextualized in Scandinavian childhood and welfare state history, an approach that demonstrates why professional and political groups have perceived children's media as the key to the enculturation of future generations Social Glocalisation and Education Hans Hobelsberger, 2020-12-14 This book discusses the local effects of globalisation especially in the context of social work health and practical theology as well as the challenges of higher education in a troubled world The more globalised the world becomes the more important local identities are The global becomes effective in the local sphere This phenomenon called glocalisation since the 1990s poses many challenges to people and to the social structures in which they operate Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office United States. discusses two circuits of labour migration that of mostly high skilled and regulated work and that of mostly low skilled and unregulated work However it also shows that the boundaries between those two are not always clear Part III focuses on how work itself is changing using the examples of women attorneys pro bono work in Finland and Poland and the use of lean management in the Nordic public sector Finally in Part IV the authors explore the power of institutions and ideas in reshaping the way we work while labour markets are under pressure education has been a focus of global interest since its first PISA success in 2001. After years of superficial celebration, astonishment, and educational tourism, the focus has recently shifted to what is possibly the most interesting element of this Finnish success story: that Finnish schools have been effectively applying methods that go against the flow of global education policy with no testing, no inspection, no hard evaluation, no detailed national curriculum, no accountability, and no hard competition. From a historical and sociological perspective, the Finnish case is not merely a linear success story but is part of a controversial and paradoxical struggle towards Utopia towards egalitarian schooling. Bringing together a collection of essays by Hannu Simola and his colleagues, this book analyses the key dimensions of schooling in Finland to provide a critical, analytical, and uncompromising picture of the Finnish education system. Going beyond the story of success, the book reveals the complexities of educational change but also identifies opportunities and alternatives for smart political action in complex and trans-national societies. Including a selection of key chapters on Finnish education policy and governance, teacher education, and classroom cultures, the book will be of interest to researchers, academics, and postgraduate students in comparative education, teacher education, educational policy, and educational reform.

The Finnish Education Mystery Hannu Simola, 2014-11-20 Finnish

Dynamics in Education Politics

Hannu Simola, Jaakko Kauko, Janne Varjo, Mira Kalalahti, Fritjof Sahlström, 2017-03-16. Dynamics in Education Politics: Understanding and Explaining the Finnish Case introduces a new theoretical framework characterised as Comparative Analytics of Dynamics in Education Politics (CADEP). Albeit the topicality of comparative research is obvious in the current era of global large-scale assessment with its concomitant media visibility and political effects, comparative education is still suffering from certain methodological deficits and is in need of robust theorisation. Focusing on relational dynamics between policy threads, actors, and institutions in education politics, CADEP seriously considers the phenomena of complexity, contingency, and trans-nationality in late modern societies. In this book, CADEP is applied and validated in analysing the Finnish Educational Miracle that has been attracting attention in the educational world ever since they rocketed to fame following the PISA studies during the 2000s. This book will open up opportunities for mutual understanding and learning rather than just celebrating the exceptional circumstances or sustainable leadership. Areas covered include: The analytics of dynamics in education politics; The dynamics of policy making and governance; The dynamics of educational family strategies; The dynamics of classroom culture. It is vital for humankind to be able to learn from each other's successes and failures, and this applies in education too. This book is thus a valuable read for anyone interested in the education system and wanting to shape the learning environment.

Leadership Across the Globe

Vipin Gupta, Montgomery Van Wart, 2015-07-16. Leadership Across the Globe aims to serve a growing interest in how to lead in a global or cross-cultural environment. of organizations this is a relevant resource for anyone seeking a leadership career on a global scale in multinational enterprises or in a multi cultural context Class Boundaries in Europe Cédric Hugrée, Étienne Penissat, Alexis Spire, Johs. Hjellbrekke, 2022-11-30 Drawing inspiration from Pierre Bourdieu's social space theory this book provides an unprecedented overview of class relations covering topics such as class polarisation cultural reproduction political orientations and globalisation The book applies Bourdieusian social space approach to show how class boundaries have been maintained or transformed in different European countries Based on quantitative data it proposes a renewal of the analysis of distances divides and relations of domination between social classes documenting objective and symbolic boundaries that form the basis of individuals living and working conditions in 11 European countries Focusing on transformations of wealth inequalities education strategies and European labour markets the book examines the role of cultural economic and social capital It will be of interest to students and scholars across the social sciences in particular to those studying social and wealth inequalities in a comparative perspective and Master's students in European studies Peace Education in Conflict and Post-Conflict Societies C. McGlynn, 2009-04-13 This collection of peace education efforts in conflict and post conflict societies brings together an international group of scholars to offer the very latest theoretical and pedagogical developments Rather than focus on ad hoc peace education efforts this book investigates the need for long term systemic approaches and innovative pedagogies Decolonial Sweden Michael McEachrane, Louis Faye, 2024-12-16 Decolonial Sweden exposes the social and political relevance of European colonialism to Sweden and its place in the world It is a book that points to why and how Sweden is to be included in global decolonial struggles Sweden is often displayed as an ethnoracially homogenous country without any colonial history an open and tolerant human rights champion anti racist anti colonial and in solidarity with the Global South For over twenty years authors Michael McEachrane and Louis Faye have been challenging this account pointing to Sweden's involvement in colonial histories and legacies its racialized nationhood and embedded colonial structures This important new book reflects a decolonial turn in research emphasizing that coloniality is far from over and that challenging global injustices remains an unfinished and open ended process Chapters in the book consider the resistance of the Sami people to Swedish colonialism whether Sweden owes the Caribbean reparations for its colonization of Saint Barthélemy and involvement in the transatlantic trade Sweden's involvement in a colonial global economy and how white European identification is embedded in Swedish politics nation building and society Engaging and insightful Decolonial Sweden invites readers to reconsider Swedish attitudes toward race colonialism and international relations This book is an essential read for Post and Decolonial scholars and students of Critical Race Studies Critical Indigenous Studies Africana Studies International Relations Global Development and Political Science as well as for anyone interested in Sweden's place in the world The Cambridge International Handbook of Lean Production Thomas Janoski, Darina Lepadatu, 2021-03-11 This handbook focuses on two sides of the lean production debate that rarely interact

On the one hand management and industrial engineering scholars have presented a positive view of lean production as the epitome of efficiency and quality On the other hand sociology industrial relations and labor relations scholars focus on work speedups management by stress trade union positions and self exploitation in lean teams The editors of this volume understand the merits of both views and present them accordingly bridging the gaps among five disciplines and presenting the best of each perspective Chapters by internationally acclaimed authors examine the positive negative and neutral possible effects of lean providing a global view of lean production while adjusting lean to the cultural and political contexts of different nation states As the first multi lens view of lean production from academic and consultant perspectives this volume charts a way forward in the world of work and management in our global economy The Cultural and Social
