Raymond Williams Postmodernist Novelist:

Raymond Williams Tony Pinkney, 1991 Raymond Williams 1921-1988 was one of the most original and influential thinkers of the post-war period. Many know him for his work on mass culture and his left-wing literary criticism, yet he is also the author of six novels set in his native Welsh border country. This area was central to all of Williams' work and it seems likely that his novels meant more to him than his other writing. This is the first critical study of the novels Border Country, Second Generation, The Fight for Manod, The Volunteers, Loyalties, and People of the Black Mountains. In it, Tony Pinkney sees the novels as the battleground of political and cultural forces, particularly modernism, realism, and postmodernism. In these books, he contends Williams found a way to dramatise the pressures which society bears upon us and the ways in which we might alter that society. His close reading of the novels is an invaluable guide to them and to their author. Raymond Williams

Terry Eagleton, 1989 Raymond Williams Elizabeth Eldridge, John Eldridge, 2005-10-10 This book provides a critical introduction to the full range of Williams' work, fiction and non-fiction. It assesses the significance of his contribution in understanding culture, politics, and society. Fair-minded, accurate, and sensitive, the book makes crucial connections between the different aspects of Williams' work and the underlying concern for a democratic polity which informed it. Raymond Williams and Education Ian Menter, 2022-01-13 Raymond Williams' major contributions to intellectual progress are usually categorised within cultural theory, media studies, or neo-Marxist studies. Serious analysis of his contributions to education as a field of practice as well as a field of study have been relatively neglected. This is the first book to redress that omission, focusing on how his writing and thought have helped us to understand education in Britain and also provide analytical tools that have helped to shape educational studies in the USA and internationally. Ian Menter draws on Williams' several novels, including Border Country, as well as on his seminal contributions to cultural theory, including Culture and Society, The Long Revolution, Keywords, and Marxism and Literature. Menter also examines how Williams' life shaped his understanding of education, including his early involvement in adult education and his deeply ambivalent relationship with the academy. Public education is positioned as a key arena of social struggle where decisions shaping the nature of our futures and crucial to creating a democratic and just society. The book includes a foreword by Michael Apple, who is John Boscom Professor Emeritus of Curriculum and Instruction at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, USA, which makes reference to the importance of Williams' work in relation to education in the USA. The Centenary Edition Raymond Williams

Raymond Williams, 2021-05-01 A collection of seminal essays in the fields of Welsh literary, historical, and political studies. The book is itself a key chapter in Welsh intellectual history and an analysis of that history. It offers a revisionist Welsh view of Raymond Williams, a critic often viewed as a British Marxist or the English Sartre. Anything But Novel Jennie Irene Daniels, 2023-11-08 The first in-depth study in English to analyze post-utopian historical novels written during and in the wake of brutal Latin American dictatorships and authoritarian regimes. During neoliberal reforms in the 1980s and 1990s, murder, repression, and exile had reduced the number of intellectuals and Leftists and many succumbed to or were coopted by market forces and ideologies. The opposition to the economic violence of neoliberal projects lacked a united front and feasible alternatives to the contemporary order no longer seemed to exist. In this context some Latin American literary intellectuals penned post utopian historical novels as a means to reconstruct memory of significant moments in national history. Through the distortion and superimposition of distinct genres within the narratives authors of post utopian historical novels incorporated literary cultural and political traditions to expose contemporary challenges that were rooted in unresolved past conflicts. In Anything but Novel Jennie Irene Daniels closely examines four post utopian novels: César Aira's El correo de Bagdad, Ema la cautiva, Rubem Fonseca's Selvagem da pedra, Jos Miguel Varas's El correo de Bagdad and Santiago Pérez's Crónicas del Breve Reino to make their contributions more accessible and to synthesize and highlight the literary and social interventions they make. Although the countries the novels focus on Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador differ widely in politics, regime changes, historical precedents, geography and demographics, the development of a shared subgenre among the literary elite suggests a common experience and interpretation of contemporary events across Latin America. These novels complement one another, extending shared themes and critiques. Daniels argues the novels demonstrate that alternatives exist to neoliberalism even in times when it appears there are none. Another contribution of these novels is their repositioning of the Latin American literary intellectuals who have advocated for the marginalized in their societies. Their work has opened new avenues and developed previous lines of research in feminist, queer and ethnic studies and for nonwhite, nonmale writers.

Postmodern, Marxist, and Christian Historical Novels Lynne W. Hinojosa, 2022-06-15. Postmodern Marxist and Christian Historical Novels: Hope and the Burdens of History argues historical novels can help readers receive the burdens of history, meaning both the burdens of the past, present and future and the burden of living in time and develop a more robust conception of and concrete practice of hope. Since the 1960s historical novels have been a dominant literary genre but they have been influenced primarily not by Christian but by postmodern and marxist thinkers and writers. This book provides a theological and literary analysis of all three types of historical novels: postmodern, marxist and Christian and outlines what each school of thought can learn from each other regarding historical understanding and hope. Using Jürgen Moltmann's theology of hope and Frank Kermode's literary criticism as a theoretical basis, the book offers readings of novels by Julian Barnes, A.S. Byatt, Kazuo Ishiguro, Margaret Atwood, Michael Ondaatje, Ian McEwan and Ursula LeGuin among others and ends with an extended analysis of Marilynne Robinson's Gilead series.

Modernity, Modernism, Postmodernism Terry Eagleton, 2000. The Post-Boom in Spanish American Fiction Donald L. Shaw, 1998-07-10. Provides a clear account of the issues in Spanish American fiction in the last quarter century by attempting to answer questions on the Boom, Post Boom and its relation to Postmodernism.

Adalberto Ortiz Marvin A. Lewis, 2014-02-14. Pablo Adalberto Ortiz Quijones 1914-2002 was one of the most gifted writers in Ecuador and all of Latin America. Yet outside of Ecuador and amongst Afro-Hispanic literature scholars in the United States little critical attention has been given to this pioneer whose multi genre contributions spanned decades In his writings Ortiz explores some of the defining social issues in the Americas since the African and European encounters with the New World including the notion of race He articulates a complex process of affirming the ethnic while not denying the national Consequently miscegenation a biological process as well as acculturation are motifs in his writings which explore the essence of what it means to be Ecuadorian Ortiz does not dwell upon the so called race question the issue that causes such anxiety and hostility overtly and covertly in the United States Rather he explores in depth ethnicity class and caste in his earlier writings and evolves into an international writer while maintaining a strong black awareness Adalberto Ortiz s transcendence of victimization to a broader view of the world is indicative of the title of Marvin A Lewis analysis from margin to center and reflective of the approach taken by many Afro Hispanic writers The dialectical nature of Ortiz s writings makes his work particularly interesting and rewarding as revealed in Adalberto Ortiz From Margin to Center In this book Lewis examines the form and content relationships between works published during different literary periods and movements Emphasis is placed on Ortiz s transition from the local to the international in each genre and the theoretical approach is eclectic depending upon the exigencies of the texts Ecocriticism post colonialism post modernism and other methodologies addressing the environment place displacement identity and historiographic metafiction are fundamental to the Lewis readings of Ortiz s prose and poetry

Representations of Technoculture in Don DeLillo's Novels Laila Sougri, 2023-09-04

This book is the first to explore technoculture in all of Don DeLillo s novels From Americana 1971 to The Silence 2020 the American author anatomizes the constantly changing relationship between culture and technology in overt and layered aspects of the characters experiences Through a tendency to discover and rediscover technocultural modes of appearance DeLillo emphasizes settings wherein technological progress is implicated in cultural imperatives This study brings forth representations of such implication interaction through various themes particularly perception history reality space architecture information and the posthuman The chapters are based on a thematic structure that weaves DeLillo s novels with the rich literary criticism produced on the author and with the various theoretical frameworks of technoculture This leads to the formulation and elaboration on numerous objects of research extracted from DeLillo s novels namely the theorization of DeLillo s radiance in dailiness the investigation of various uses of technology as an extension the role of image technologies in redefining history the reconceptualization of the ethical and behavioral aspects of reality the development of tele visual and embodied perceptions in various technocultural spaces and the involvement of information technologies in reconstructing the beliefs behaviors and activities of the posthuman One of the main aims of the study is to show how DeLillo s novels bring to light the constant transformation of technocultural everydayness It is argued that though such transformation is confusing or resisted at times it points to a transitional mode of being This transitional state does not dehumanize DeLillo s characters it reveals their humanity in a continually changing world

Postmodern Fiction and the Break-Up of Britain Hywel Dix, 2010-05-04 A monograph analysing the symbolic role played by contemporary fiction in the break up of political and cultural consensus in British public life The Environmental Unconscious in the Fiction of Don DeLillo Elise Martucci, 2012-09-10 This book presents an ecocritical reading of DeLillo's novels in an attempt to mediate between the seemingly incompatible influences of postmodernism and environmentalism Martucci argues that although DeLillo is responding to and engaging with a postmodern culture of simulacra and simulation his novels do not reflect a postmodernist theory of the end of nature Rather his fiction emphasizes the lasting significance of the natural world and alerts us to the dangers of destroying it In order to support this argument Martucci examines DeLillo's novels in the context of traditional American literary representations of the environment especially through the lens of Leo Marx's discussion of the conflict between technology and nature found in traditional American literature She demonstrate that DeLillo's fiction explores the way in which new technologies alter perceptions and mediate reality to a further extent than earlier technologies however she argues that he keeps the material world at the forefront of his novels thereby illuminating the environmental implications of these technologies Through close readings of Americana The Names White Noise and Underworld and discussions of postmodernist and ecocritical theories this project engages with current criticism of DeLillo postmodernist fiction and environmental criticism The Postmodern Representation of Reality in Peter Ackroyd's Chatterton Arya Aryan, 2022-06-08 This book explores the postmodernist representation of reality and argues that historiographic metafictional texts such as Peter Ackroyd's Chatterton 1987 are hetero referential in their creation of a heterocosm as opposed to representational and anti representational views of art It argues that postmodernist historiographic metafiction is not simply self referential but hetero referential consciously revealing the paradoxes of self referentiality while simultaneously creating a heterocosmic world where the text is capable of referring to an external reality The book highlights Chatterton's narrative strategies and techniques which result in revealing the text's meaning granting process The novel acknowledges the existence of reality and the text's possibility of representation but contends that reality is a human construct In addition the book demonstrates that representation is possible through fictive referents and thus hetero referential Martin Amis: Postmodernism and Beyond G. Keulks, 2006-08-25 This is the first collection of essays ever published on Martin Amis one of England's most controversial and critically acclaimed authors It assembles the ideas of twelve scholars from different countries to clarify the major trends and transitions in Amis's work The essays will become an authoritative resource for scholars and students alike Raymond Williams Now J. Wallace, R. Jones, S. Nield, 1997-08-03 The work of Raymond Williams continues to exercise a powerful hold over the minds of contemporary cultural analysts and social commentators This collection responds to the challenge of Williams's thinking in discussions of topics of current interest and concern The essays embrace a widely divergent field of enquiry from the study of language dramaturgical theory the theory of human needs and approaches to sociology cultural studies and television to issues of history temporality and the future in relation to modernity and the postmodern The Cambridge Companion to the Latin American Novel Efraín Kristal, 2005-05-26 The diverse countries of Latin America have produced a lively and ever evolving tradition of novels many of which are read in translation all over the world This Companion offers a broad overview of the novel's history and analyses in depth several representative works by for example Gabriel García Márquez Machado de Assis Isabel Allende and Mario Vargas Llosa The essays collected here offer several entryways into the understanding and appreciation of the Latin American novel in Spanish speaking America and Brazil The volume conveys a real sense of the heterogeneity of Latin American literature highlighting regions whose cultural and geopolitical particularities are often overlooked Indispensable to students of Latin American or Hispanic studies and those interested in comparative literature and the development of the novel as genre the Companion features a comprehensive bibliography and chronology and concludes with an essay about the success of Latin American novels in translation Mourning, Modernism, Postmodernism T. Clewell, 2009-10-22 Mourning Modernism Postmodernism traces the emergence of a fundamentally new way of writing about individual and collective mourning demonstrating how a refusal of consolation and closure succeeds in promoting a progressive cultural politics crucial for reimagining gender racial and sexual subjects Metamodernism and the Postdigital in the Contemporary Novel Spencer Jordan, 2024-10-03 Drawing on a range of authors that includes Zadie Smith Sally Rooney Ben Lerner Ali Smith Tom McCarthy Jennifer Egan and Kazuo Ishiguro this book provides an innovative and original analysis of the interdependencies between digital technology and metamodernism through a detailed study of the contemporary novel We are currently living through a period of profound rupture in which the way the world is perceived is undergoing significant change Just as the interplay between capitalism and technology hastened the evolution of modernism and postmodernism then so too are those same forces now taking us into uncharted waters In an increasingly fragile world in which the very existence of humankind is threatened it is vital that we begin to understand this new landscape Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul Schellinger, 2014-04-08 The Encyclopedia of the Novel is the first reference book that focuses on the development of the novel throughout the world Entries on individual writers assess the place of that writer within the development of the novel form explaining why and in exactly what ways that writer is important Similarly an entry on an individual novel discusses the importance of that novel not only form analyzing the particular innovations that novel has introduced and the ways in which it has influenced the subsequent course of the genre A wide range of topic entries explore the history criticism theory production dissemination and reception of the novel A very important component of the Encyclopedia of the Novel is its long surveys of development of the novel in various regions of the world
