Reaching Out to Children and Families Michelle R. Dunlap, 2000 Guideline to effectively prepare students for community service projects

African Americans and Community Engagement in Higher Education Stephanie Y. Evans, Colette M. Taylor, Michelle R. Dunlap, DeMond S. Miller, 2009-09-17 This book discusses race and its roles in university community partnerships. The contributors take a collaborative interdisciplinary and multiregional approach that allows students, agency staff, community constituents, faculty, and campus administrators an opportunity to reflect on and redefine what impact African American identity in the academy and in the community has on various forms of community engagement. From historic concepts of race uplift to contemporary debates about racialized perceptions of need, they argue that African American identity plays a significant role. In representing best practices, recommendations, personal insight, and informed warnings about building sustainable and mutually beneficial relationships, the contributors provide a cogent platform from which to encourage the difficult and much needed inclusion of race in dialogues of national service and community engagement.

The Future of Service-Learning Jean R. Strait, Marybeth Lima, 2023-07-03 As a new generation of practitioners engages with service learning at a time when higher education faces questions about learning outcomes and costs and in the context of such issues as globalization and the environment, this book poses important questions about practice, institutional sustainability, and future directions. Among these are: What counts as service learning? What value does it bring to institutions? Is it appropriate for all students? How is globalization impacting service learning? Divided into three thematic parts, this book successively covers institutional and administrative issues, service learning as a springboard for research, and presents new practices that address emerging challenges and changing student populations. The contributors review how different institutional types have structured their service learning activities, address the issue of centralization or decentralization, propose better ways to form community partnerships, consider promotion and tenure implications, postulate framing service learning and community engagement as scholarship, and examine service learning as a springboard for research. Further chapters offer a new blueprint for funding to achieve sustainability, examples of international service learning from a European perspective, a case study and framework for using on-line formats to extend the reach of a program, raise the urgent issue of the experiences and contributions of underrepresented students, and present the rationale and processes for developing effective student-led evaluation of programs.
