Literacy, Language and Reading in Nineteenth-Century Ireland Rebecca Anne Barr,Sarah-Anne Buckley,Muireann O' Cinneide,2019-06-04 This volume explores the multiple forms and functions of reading and writing in nineteenth century Ireland It traces how understandings of literacy and language shaped national and transnational discourses of cultural identity and the different reading communities produced by questions of language religion status education and audience

Vernacular English Akshya Saxena,2022-03-01 How English has become a language of the people in India one that enables the state but also empowers protests against it Against a groundswell of critiques of global English Vernacular English argues that literary studies are yet to confront the true political import of the English language in the world today A comparative study of three centuries of English literature and media in India this original and provocative book tells the story of English in India as a tale not of imperial coercion but of a people s language in a postcolonial democracy Focusing on experiences of hearing touching remembering speaking and seeing English Akshya Saxena delves into a previously unexplored body of texts from English and Hindi literature law film visual art and public protests She reveals little known debates and practices that have shaped the meanings of English in India and the Anglophone world including the overlooked history of the legislation of English in India She also calls attention to how low castes and minority ethnic groups have routinely used this elite language to protest the Indian state Challenging prevailing conceptions of English as a vernacular and global lingua franca Vernacular English does nothing less than reimagine what a language is and the categories used to analyze it

Monthly Packet of Evening Readings for Members of the English Church (earlier "for Younger Members of the English Church") ,1868 The Monthly Packet of Evening Readings for Members of the English Church ,1868 Read Write Speak Better English Dennis Brooks,2015-12-24 Read Write Speak Better English uses the new phonetic alphabet Fonikz to teach reading with phonics Students learn to read and speak English quickly with this new multi sensory programed learning process Reading out loud is also part of the process The study techniques include visualization syllabication pronunciation syllable stress silent association formatted vowel symbols and spelling drills This course does three things It helps those who speak English improve their speech comprehension and reading speed It is also for ESL students who want to improve their English on their own With programmed learning students learn to read on their own simply by studying and reading the book The English Grammar Schools to 1660 Foster Watson,2019-05-23 First published in 1908 this important work on the history of education traces the development of teaching in English Grammar Schools from the invention of printing up to 1660 It is not a history of the theories of educational reformers as to what should or should not be taught but a history of the actual practices of the schools of their curricula and of the differentiated subjects of instruction The author relies heavily on the textbooks used in schools in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in particular the Ludus Literarius of John Brinsley and the New Discovery of the Old Art of Teaching School of Charles Hoole and makes free use of the School Statutes which state the express intention of the Founder as to what was to be taught The period covered is one of great significance in which the Encyclopaedia of the medieval curriculum was abandoned for the modern practice of the differentiation of school subjects The new knowledge of the Renaissance and the introduction of critical methods and of close analysis gave students a detailed knowledge which could not be fitted into the rigid confines of the medieval Encyclopaedia while the invention of printing enormously facilitated the increase and spreading of text books for both teachers and pupils English Teaching Forum ,1965
