Read My Desire:

Read My Desire Joan Copjec, 2015-06-09 In Read My Desire Joan Copjec stages a confrontation between the theories of Jacques Lacan and those of Michel Foucault protagonists of two powerful modern disciplines psychoanalysis and historicism Ordinarily these modes of thinking only cross paths long enough for historicists to charge psychoanalysis with an indifference to history but here psychoanalysis via Lacan goes on the offensive Refusing to cede history to the historicists Copjec makes a case for the superiority of Lacan's explanation of historical processes and generative principles Her goal is to inspire a new kind of cultural critique one that is literate in desire and capable of interpreting what is unsaid in the manifold operations of culture

Anxiety and the Contradictions of Culture Stephen Felder, 2024-09-20 Anxiety as not only a feeling of dread but a feeling that we dread is widely considered by both philosophical and psychoanalytic thinkers as an important signal related to our experience of the cultural and intersubjective world Stephen Felder explores the experience of anxiety through the writings of the existentialist phenomenological and psychoanalytic traditions especially Jacques Lacan to make sense out of this dreadful experience Working from Lacan's claim that the structure of anxiety and fantasy are the same Felder shows that anxiety is a signal of the Lacanian Real and thus provides us with a point of view from which to critique the cultural world by clarifying how we experience ourselves and others The chapters examine the implications of this insight for how we think about the visual field sex race consumerism and what Stuart Hall called the contradictions of culture in our attempts to live more vibrant lives and create more emancipatory practices in the twenty first century

Eucontamination Paul Hoard, Billie Hoard, 2025-07-25 For too long Christianity has been distorted by an overapplied purity disgust metaphor fueling exclusion reinforcing fear and enabling Christian Nationalism Eucontamination challenges this toxic framework arguing that Jesus did not retreat from impurity but transformed it This interdisciplinary work weaves together psychology psychoanalysis theology and sociology to expose how disgust has shaped Christian witness from theological education to church exclusion and social scapegoating But there is a better way The authors propose that Christ is not fragile in the face of sin but a good infection a force that spreads healing and redemption Instead of protecting a brittle purity true faith embraces eucontamination a sanctifying engagement with the world not a retreat from it For Christians seeking a faith that resists exclusion and embraces radical love Eucontamination offers a vision of transformation one where Truth Life and the Way are not delicate things to be defended but powerful forces moving through and within us all

Paralyses John Culbert, 2010-01-01 Modernity has long been equated with motion travel and change from Marx's critical diagnoses of economic instability to the Futurists glorification of speed Likewise metaphors of travel serve widely in discussions of empire cultural contact translation and globalization from Deleuze's nomadology to James Clifford's traveling cultures John Culbert in contrast argues that the key texts of modernity and postmodernity may be approached through figures and narratives of paralysis motion is no more defining of modern travel than fixations resistance and impasse concepts and figures of travel he posits must be rethought in this more static light Focusing on the French and Francophone context in which paralyzed travel is a persistent motif Culbert also offers new insights into French critical theory and its often paradoxical figures of mobility from Blanchot's pas au del and Barthes's d rive to Derrida's aporias and Glissant's diversions Here we see that paralysis is not merely the failure of transport but rather the condition in which travel by coming to a crisis calls into question both mobility and stasis in the language of desire and the order of knowledge Paralyse provides a close analysis of the rhetoric of empire and the economy of tourism precisely at their points of breakdown which in turn enables a deconstruction of master narratives of exploration conquest and exoticism A reassessment of key authors of French modernity from Nerval and Gautier to Fromentin Paulhan Beckett Leiris and Boudjedra Paralyse also constitutes a new theoretical intervention in debates on travel translation ethics and postcoloniality

"That Tongue Be Time" Dale M. Smith, 2025-06-03 Originally from Canada Norma Cole is a revered writer and visual artist who has authored and translated over thirty books and chapbooks Though highly esteemed internationally in both visual art and poetry circles Cole's association with the New College of California and her influence on artists and poets has been overlooked by scholars In That Tongue Be Time Dale M Smith seeks to remedy this oversight by bringing together sixteen noted scholars editors and poets to examine Cole's poetry translations and visual art in order to place her within the larger scholarly conversation about contemporary poetry and poetics The book also includes a number of black and white reproductions of Cole's art and a contextual introduction by Smith That Tongue Be Time provides a groundbreaking look at Norma Cole's lasting influence on multiple generations of poets visual artists and scholars and should be on the shelf of anyone interested in contemporary poetry

Iranian Cinema with Psychoanalysis Farshid Kazemi, 2024-12-30 Combining Lacanian psychoanalytic theory Iranian Shi'ite thought and Islamicate sexualities Iranian Cinema with Psychoanalysis The Interpreter of Desires provides a groundbreaking analysis of the logic of desire and sexuality in key films of contemporary Iranian cinema arguing that there is a profound albeit surprising correlation between post revolutionary Iranian cinema and psychoanalysis that has remained unthought Looking through the prism of psychoanalysis Farshid Kazemi argues that censorship on the representation and expression of sexual desire in Iranian films has contrary to the desired effect produced a cinema of desire This book is the first to provide an analysis of the unconscious structure of desire and sexuality operative in post revolutionary Iranian cinema demonstrating that psychoanalytic literature is uniquely positioned to shed light on this aspect of film Kazemi uncovers the hidden libidinal economy of Iranian cinema by exposing the fact that despite the State censor's desire to suppress desire it has inadvertently inscribed desire in its formal structure The book offers a compelling and innovative examination of Iranian cinema through a psychoanalytic lens contributing significantly to the field of film

Set Free Michael Gance, 2012-11-29 This is the story of how a young man with a bright future ahead of him got caught up in the drug scene as a way to deal with the unsolved pain of his childhood years In turning to drugs for diversion acceptance and self worth he ended up wasting all kinds of money and many opportunities to succeed After a ten year all consuming cocaine addiction and with no way to escape he came to the realization that he needed special help So after years of seeking help through rehab AA and NA meetings and visits with psychotherapists and new age helpers and religion to no avail he was finally introduced to Jesus in a new and personal way After struggling for a few more years he came to the end of himself and finally turned his will completely over to God At that point he was set free from his addiction and the desire to use drugs This story serves as an example of what God can do for anyone who is willing demonstrating that humanity is sexually fissured More recently further advances in the philosophy of difference and renewed emphases on embodiment materiality and life offer possibilities for attending to dimensions of gender and sexuality that were previously underdeveloped This collection examines these possibilities insofar as they can either deepen or displace the traditional centrality of psychoanalysis in matters sexual The authors come from a wide range of backgrounds and defend their approaches to the problem of sexual difference in a variety of idioms drawing on key thinkers such as Lacan Irigaray Deleuze Foucault and Badiou It is rare to come across these thinkers together but sex is too crucial a site for critical thought not to mobilize every conceptual power available This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Angelaki The Journal of the Theoretical Humanities Lacan Miguel de Beistegui, 2021-04-08 Lacan A Genealogy provides a genealogical account of Lacan's work as a whole from his early writings on paranoid psychosis to his later work on the real and surplus enjoyment Beistegui argues that Lacan's work requires an in depth genealogy to chart and interpret the his key concept of desire The genealogy is both a historical and critical approach inspired by Foucault which consists in asking how that is by what theoretical and practical transformations by the emergence of which discourses of truth which institutions and which power relations our current subjectivity was shaped Desire is a crucial thread throughout because it lies at the heart not only of liberal political economy psychiatry and psychopathology and the various discourses of recognition from philosophy to psychology and the law that shape our current politics of identity but also and more importantly of the manner in which we understand experience and indeed govern ourselves ethically and politically A novel reading of Lacan that foregrounds the radicality and urgency of his concepts and the relationship between desire norm and the law The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies James Donald, Michael Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience Finally it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film the institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological industrial and aesthetic developments Arvo Pärt's White Light Laura Dolp, 2017-07-13 The first substantial volume in English to explore the impact of Arvo Pärt on contemporary music and culture Letters of John Cockburn of Ormistoun to His Gardener, 1727-1744 John Cockburn, 1904 Jacques Lacan Sean Homer, 2005 This volume provides an excellent introduction to the work of Jacques Lacan covering all of Lacan's major concepts such as the Imaginary the Symbolic and the Real
