Frey, 2025-05 Georgia's Historical Recipes is an exploration of our state's oldest recipes from the antebellum period through World War II as painstakingly researched by Georgia archivist Valerie J Frey This volume begins with a discussion of old recipes as primary sources and what they can tell us about the history and culture of their era and how to bring them to life in modern kitchens Frey then moves into fifty sections that can be read alone yet allow readers to build an understanding of how foodways evolved over time Some sections highlight a single recipe illustrating how changes in technology agriculture transportation communication and social patterns led to changes in Georgia kitchens Most of the recipes are previously unpublished waiting in archives to be rediscovered Other sections explore our oldest cookbooks offering biographical and cultural background information that makes them more meaningful For the first time Georgians have a list of the state's early cookbooks and its cooking experts Readers will learn where to find Georgia's oldest recipes and discover many examples to whet their appetites literally and figuratively for a taste of Georgia's past Recipes and Everyday Knowledge

Elaine Leong, 2018-11-28 Across early modern Europe men and women from all ranks gathered medical culinary and food preservation recipes from family and friends experts and practitioners and a wide array of printed materials Recipes were tested assessed and modified by teams of householders including masters and servants husbands and wives mothers and daughters and fathers and sons This much sought know how was written into notebooks of various shapes and sizes forming treasuries for health each personalized to suit the whims and needs of individual communities In Recipes and Everyday Knowledge Elaine Leong situates recipe knowledge and practices among larger questions of gender and cultural history the history of the printed word and the history of science medicine and technology The production of recipes and recipe books she argues were at the heart of quotidian investigations of the natural world or household science She shows how English homes acted as vibrant spaces for knowledge making and transmission and explores how recipe trials allowed householders to gain deeper understandings of sickness and health of the human body and of natural and human built processes By recovering this story Leong extends the parameters of natural inquiry and productively widens the cast of historical characters participating in and contributing to early modern science

The Literature of Food Nicola Humble,2020-02-06

Why are so many literary texts preoccupied with food The Literature of Food explores this question by looking at the continually shifting relationship between two sorts of foods the real and the imagined Focusing particularly on Britain and North America from the early 19th century to the present it covers a wide range of issues including the politics of food food as performance and its intersections with gender class fear and disgust Combining the insights of food studies and literary analysis Nicola Humble considers the multifarious ways in which food both works and plays within texts and the variety of functions ideological mimetic symbolic structural affective which it serves Carefully designed and structured for use on the growing number of literature of food courses it examines the food of modernism post modernism the realist novel and children s literature and asks what happens when we treat cook books as literary texts From food memoirs to the changing role of the servant experimental cook books to the cannibalistic fears in infant picture books The Literature of Food demonstrates that food is always richer and stranger than we think

The Performance of Reading Peter

Kivy,2008-04-15 The Performance of Reading argues that there are distinct analogies between silent reading and artistic performance and so fashions the new role of the reader as performer An original and insightful exploration of the act of reading by the leading scholar in the field Discusses the history of reading and the transitions from reading aloud to reading silently and the changing role of literature as communal active experience to a more private endeavor

Recipes for

Thought Wendy Wall,2015-11-03 For a significant part of the early modern period England was the most active site of recipe publication in Europe and the only country in which recipes were explicitly addressed to housewives Recipes for Thought analyzes for the first time the full range of English manuscript and printed recipe collections produced over the course of two centuries Recipes reveal much more than the history of puddings and pies they expose the unexpectedly therapeutic literate and experimental culture of the English kitchen Wendy Wall explores ways that recipe writing like poetry and artisanal culture wrestled with the physical and metaphysical puzzles at the center of both traditional humanistic and emerging scientific cultures Drawing on the works of Shakespeare Spenser Jonson and others to interpret a reputedly unlearned form of literature she demonstrates that people from across the social spectrum concocted poetic exercises of wit experimented with unusual and sometimes edible forms of literacy and tested theories of knowledge as they wrote about healing and baking Recipe exchange we discover invited early modern housewives to contemplate the complex components of being a Renaissance maker and thus to reflect on lofty concepts such as figuration natural philosophy national identity status mortality memory epistemology truth telling and matter itself Kitchen work recipes tell us engaged vital creative and intellectual labors

Digesting Recipes Susannah Worth, 2015-06-26 Digesting Recipes The Art of Culinary Notation scrutinises the form of the recipe using it as a means to explore a multitude of subjects in post war Western art and culture including industrial mass production consumerism hidden labour and art engaged with the everyday Each chapter is presented as a dish in a nine course meal drawing on examples from published cookbooks and the work of artists such as Alison Knowles Yoko Ono Annette Messager Martha Rosler Barbara T Smith Bobby Baker and Mika Rottenberg A recipe is an instruction the imperative tone of the expert but this constraint can offer its own kind of potential A recipe need not be a domestic trap but might instead offer escape something to fantasise about or aspire to It can hold a promise of transformation both actual and metaphorical It can be a proposal for action or envision a possible future

Consumption and the Literary Cookbook Roxanne Harde, Janet Wesselius, 2020-11-18 Consumption and the Literary Cookbook offers readers the first book length study of literary cookbooks Imagining the genre more broadly to include narratives laden with recipes cookbooks based on cultural productions including films plays and television series and cookbooks that reflected and or shaped cultural and historical narratives the contributors draw on the tools of literary and cultural studies to closely read a diverse corpus of cookbooks By focusing on themes of consumption gastronomical and rhetorical the sixteen chapters utilize the recipes and the narratives surrounding them as lenses to study identity society history and culture The chapters in this book reflect the current popularity of foodie culture as they offer entertaining analyses of cookbooks the stories they tell and the stories told about them

Recipes for Reading Anne Bower, 1997 The community cookbook is a familiar item in many kitchens Usually compiled by women and sold to raise funds for a charitable cause these collections of recipes may seem to be utilitarian objects that exhibit little if any narrative interest But this is hardly the case In Recipes for Reading scholars from a variety of disciplines examine community cookbooks as complex texts deserving serious study The contributors contend that such cookbooks have stories to tell about the lives and values of the women who wrote them stories that are autobiographical in most cases historical in some and fictive in others Life Skills Reading: MENUS, RECIPES & COOKING - Visual Comprehension Activities Remedia Publications,2022-05-27 Life Skills Reading Menus Reading Recipes Visual Lessons Cooking Prepare students for the real world with these realistic reading opportunities Whether ordering pizza sitting in the drive thru or making dinner in your kitchen reading menus and recipes is a part of everyday life However some students need specific instruction and practice before they are able to understand interpret and use what they have read in these unique and complex formats These appetizing lessons are a great way to help students master these essential skills Contents Include 10 Full Color Realistic Menus or Recipe Cards measure 8 5x11 Print these or display them on your whiteboard or digital device 100 Follow Up Comprehension Questions This visually exciting unit provides the practice students need to build confidence while increasing reading comprehension and essential life skills Each of the 10 highly visual cards portray a specific real life reading challenge Follow up questions require students to refer back to the card as they read interpret and use the information Great for individual students or small groups Reading Level 3 4 Interest Level 4 12 Reading and writing recipe books, 1550-1800 Michelle DiMeo,Sara Pennell,2018-09-30 This collection of essays provides an overview of new scholarship on recipe books one of the most popular non fiction printed texts in and one of the most common forms of manuscript compilation to survive from the pre modern era c 1550 1800 This is the first book to collect together the wide variety of scholarly approaches to pre modern recipe books written in English drawing on varying approaches to reveal their culinary medical scientific linguistic religious and material meanings Ten scholars from the fields of culinary history history of medicine and science divinity archaeology and material culture and English literature and linguistics contribute to a vibrant mapping of the aspirations invested in and uses of recipes and recipe books By exploring areas as various as the knowledge economies of medicine Anglican feasting and fasting practices the material culture of the kitchen and table London publishing and concepts of authorship and the aesthetics of culinary styles these eleven essays including a critical introduction to recipe books and their historiography position recipe texts in the wider culture of the sixteenth seventeenth and eighteenth centuries They illuminate their importance to both their original compilers and users and modern scholars and graduate students alike Reading Between the Recipes Leslie Land,1987 Discusses New England cuisine and shares seasonal recipes for meat poultry fish seafood vegetables and desserts Best Recipes of the Maritime Provinces ,2012-09-25 Maritime cooking starts with great local produce lobster scallops oysters blueberries apples cranberries maple syrup and more There are treasured traditional dishes hodge podge baked beans gingerbread blueberry grunt as well as the simple but delicious lobster boil. Leading chefs like Craig Flinn of Halifax's Chives restaurant, Michael Howell of The Tempest in Wolfville, and many others have come up with wonderful new ways of cooking with fresh local ingredients. Best Recipes of the Maritime Provinces brings the traditional and the contemporary together in one great collection. During her many years as Canadian Living magazine's food editor, Elizabeth Baird was a great fan of Maritime cooking. She has visited every corner of the region to research and write about great local producers and cooks and their recipes. To prepare this collection, she started with well over 1,000 recipes published in cookbooks over the past three decades. From those, she has selected 400 recipes by over fifty of the region's leading chefs, including Elaine Elliot and Virginia Lee, whose bestselling Maritime Flavours has sold more than 30,000 copies. Also included are tasty recipes from healthy eating champions Maureen Tilley and Sandra Nowlan. This is the book that every Maritime cook will want and that visitors will take home so they can explore the region's rich culinary traditions.

The Art of Cooking, Pie Making, Pastry Making, and Preserving Francisco Martínez Montañó, 2023-12-18. In 1611, Francisco Martínez Montañó, chef to Philip II, Philip III, and Philip IV of Spain, published what would become the most recognized Spanish cookbook for centuries: Arte de cocinar, pastelería, vizcochería y conservar. This first English translation of The Art of Cooking, Pie Making, Pastry Making, and Preserving will delight and surprise readers with the rich array of ingredients and techniques found in the early modern kitchen. Based on her substantial research and hands-on experimentation, Carolyn A. Nadeau reveals how early cookbooks were organized and read and presents an in-depth analysis of the ingredients featured in the book. She also introduces Martínez Montañó and his contributions to culinary history and provides an assessment of taste at court and an explanation of regional, ethnic, and international foodstuffs and recipes. The 506 recipes and treatises reproduced in The Art of Cooking, Pie Making, Pastry Making, and Preserving outline everything from rules for kitchen cleanliness to abstinence foods to seasonal banquet menus, providing insight into why this cookbook, penned by the chef of kings, stayed in production for centuries.

Cooking for Geeks Jeff Potter, 2010-07-20. Are you the innovative type, the cook who marches to a different drummer, used to expressing your creativity instead of just following recipes? Are you interested in the science behind what happens to food while it's cooking? Do you want to learn what makes a recipe work so you can improvise and create your own unique dish? More than just a cookbook, Cooking for Geeks applies your curiosity to discovery, inspiration, and invention in the kitchen. Why is medium-rare steak so popular? Why do we bake some things at 350°F (175°C) and others at 375°F (190°C)? And how quickly does a pizza cook if we overclock an oven to 1,000°F (540°C)? Author and cooking geek Jeff Potter provides the answers and offers a unique take on recipes, from the sweet to the mean: chocolate chip cookie to the savory duck confit, sugo. This book is an excellent and intriguing resource for anyone who wants to experiment with cooking, even if you don't consider yourself a geek. Initialize your kitchen and calibrate your tools. Learn about the important reactions in cooking, such as protein denaturation, Maillard reactions, and caramelization, and how they impact the foods we cook. Play with your food using hydrocolloids and

Inventing Authenticity Carrie Helms Tippen,2018-08-12 In Inventing Authenticity Carrie Helms Tippen examines the rhetorical power of storytelling in cookbooks to fortify notions of southernness Tippen brings to the table her ongoing hunt for recipe cards and evaluates a wealth of cookbooks with titles like Y all Come Over and Bless Your Heart and famous cookbooks such as Sean Brock s Heritage and Edward Lee s Smoke and Pickles She examines her own southern history grounding it all in a thorough understanding of the relevant literature The result is a deft and entertaining dive into the territory of southern cuisine black eyed peas and cornbread fried chicken and fried okra pound cake and peach cobbler and a look at and beyond southern food tropes that reveals much about tradition identity and the yearning for authenticity Tippen discusses the act of cooking as a way to perform and therefore reinforce the identity associated with a recipe and the complexities inherent in attempts to portray the foodways of a region marked by a sometimes distasteful history Inventing Authenticity meets this challenge head on delving into problems of cultural appropriation and representations of race thorny questions about authorship and more The commonplace but deceptively complex southern cookbook can sustain our sense of where we come from and who we are or who we think we are

Call of the Mild Lily Raff McCaulou,2025-05-01 From an outsider perspective learning about a sometimes misunderstood cultural pastime a beautifully written and contrarian narrative about what it means to hunt in America today When Lily Raff McCaulou traded in an indie film production career in New York for a reporting job in central Oregon she never imagined that she d find herself picking up a gun and learning to hunt She d been raised as a gun fearing environmentalist and an animal lover and though a meat eater she d always abided by the principle that harming animals is wrong But Raff McCaulou s perspective shifted when she began spending weekends fly fishing and weekdays interviewing hunters for her articles realizing that many of them were more thoughtful about animals and the environment than she was So she embarked upon the project of learning to hunt from square one From attending a Hunter Safety course designed for children to field dressing an elk and serving it for dinner she explores the sport of hunting and all it entails and tackles the big questions surrounding one of the most misunderstood American practices and pastimes Not just a personal memoir this book also explores the role of the hunter in the twenty first century the tension at times artificial between hunters and environmentalists and new models of sustainable and ethical food procurement

The Recce Way Justin Vermaak,Douw Steyn,2017-10-11 Vulture soup anyone Or how about some fried python with a side order of diesel dipped dog biscuits Specialised cooking The Recce Way gives a unique perspective on the lives of South Africa s legendary Special Forces soldiers The book combines tongue in cheek recipes with anecdotes of the men s experiences during the Border War and up to 1997 putting the gruel into gruelling It shows what it takes to live out of a rucksack for weeks on end and how to make do with what nature has to offer Highlighting the scope of the activities of the first 25 years of the Special Forces the book takes us from Durban to Langebaan through Phalaborwa into the rest of Africa and from the firing line to a braai on top of a submarine out at sea Most importantly it overflows with the Recce philosophy for excelling in adverse conditions stay in the moment adapt adjust and just get on with it WARNING While most of the meals in this book are edible some should never ever be repeated
