Reshaping The National Health Service Reshaping The Public Sector Vol :

Managing the National Health Service Stephen Harrison, 2013-11-11 Shaping Health Policy Mark Exworthy, 2012
This collection written by leading health policy researchers examines the role that case studies play in British health policy covering key health policy literatures in the policy process analytical frameworks and seminal moments of the NHS The Road to Better Public Services G. Bruce Doern, Institute for Research on Public Policy, 1994 This report examines how to improve the way governments serve Canadians using case studies of five agencies of the Canadian Federal Government including their attempts to improve service delivery and the constraints or obstacles they face as they seek to make such improvements The agencies studied include the Canada Communication Group formerly the Queen's Printer the Passport Office the Geological Survey of Canada the Aboriginal Business Canada program in Industry Canada and the Marketing Practices Branch of the Bureau of Competition Policy in Industry Canada The report examines the concept of service as it relates to the theory of bureaucracy implementation theory and the policy instrument mix and the institutional economics of bureaucracy the re-invention of government theory and the four service attributes A National Health Service? John Mohan, 1995-03-20 This book contrasts the proposals of the Royal Commission of the late 1970s with the very different set of priorities enshrined in the 1989 White Paper and describes how the changes between the two documents came about It argues that the NHS reforms should be seen not as the inevitable product of technical developments nor as a consensus response to narrowly managerial difficulties within the NHS but rather as part of a wider political strategy towards state provision of welfare The book strongly emphasises the uneven geographical impacts of post 1979 changes a topic usually underplayed by analysts of social policy and draws heavily on previously unpublished material Medical and Health Care Books and Serials in Print, 1997 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2003-04 Privatisation and Deregulation in Canada and Britain Institute for Research on Public Policy, 1990 Self Reliance David Marsland, In the United States Great Britain Western Europe and almost everywhere else in the developed world except Switzerland and Japan a massive bureaucratic apparatus of state welfare has been built up since the Second World War It has proven to be costly inefficient and grossly counterproductive Everywhere governments are desperately seeking ways to reduce the size of state welfare Efficiency particularly in education and health care must be improved Above all an alternative is urgently needed to the inherited cradle to grave welfare approach which multiplies unemployment generates dependency and creates a fractious subjugated underclass Self Reliance has been written by four leading experts on welfare and social policy Using British experience as a case study the book analyzes the failings of state welfare and provides detailed practical proposals for reform Specific parallels with the American situation and implications for United States social policy are examined in a special opening essay by the editor The key significance of this work for policy personnel and economists is that the authors argue for a structure that can be built up gradually out of the existing outmoded system They detail methods by which this can be successfully accomplished despite financial constraints likely to be imposed by government officials Changes in Health Care Paul Anand,Alastair McGuire,2016-07-27 This collection originated from a conference at Templeton College Oxford by leading practitioners and researchers and has been revised updated and edited for publication The collection provides an evaluation of the implementation of health reforms and will be of interest to readers interested in health policy and health management Bioterrorism: The History of a Crisis in American Society David McBride,2020-12-17 Originally published in 2003 and now reissued with a new introduction this collection provides an invaluable academic resource on the challenges bioterrorism posed for American society and institutions Critically selected essays from a wide range of disciplines document and analyze the problems and implications for political economic and legal institutions as well as the challenges a weapon of disease and fear can impose on public health and public policy By placing bioterrorism into its historical context this collection also traces the academic research and historical decisions that have contributed to the formation of American policies attempting to cope with a potentially catastrophic attack on the population in general and urban population in particular Shaping Neighbourhoods Hugh Barton,Marcus Grant,Richard Guise,2021-06-29 Shaping Neighbourhoods is unique in combining all aspects of the spatial planning of neighbourhoods and towns whilst emphasising positive outcomes for people s health and global sustainability This new edition retains the combination of radicalism evidence based advice and pragmatism that made earlier editions so popular This updated edition strengthens guidance in relation to climate change and biodiversity tackling crises of population health that are pushing up health care budgets but have elements of their origins in poor place spatial planning such as isolation lack of everyday physical activity and respiratory problems It is underpinned by new research into how people use their localities and the best way to achieve inclusive healthy low carbon settlements The guide can assist with Understanding the principles for planning healthy and sustainable neighbourhoods and towns Planning collaborative and inclusive processes for multi sectoral working Developing know how and skills in matching local need with urban form Discovering new ways to integrate development with natural systems Designing places with character and recognising good urban form Whether you are a student faced with a local planning project a public health professional planner urban designer or developer involved in new development or regeneration a council concerned with promoting healthy and sustainable environments or a community group wanting to improve your neighbourhood you will find help here Science and Technology, Shaping the Twenty-first Century ,1997

Shaping Minds Guy Malcolm Ramsay,2008 Mental illness is an increasing concern of government health services across the globe It is timely therefore that community education about mental illness is subject to discourse analysis Shaping Minds explores how the psychoeducational message is presented to Chinese speaking audiences in China Taiwan and Australia The book uniquely examines community education materials in a language rarely examined by discourse analysts but which is nevertheless spoken by around a fifth of the world s population and constitutes an important minority language throughout the Western world The book identifies the discursive features that characterise the Chinese language texts and analyses them cross culturally highlighting the impact of cultural traditions political systems and dominant conceptions of society These insights into how Chinese language community health pamphlets and handbooks are positioned to shape the minds of readers will engage both discourse analysts and mental health professionals providing services to Chinese speaking communities across the globe Shaping of the Medical Profession Kordesch,1999-07-01 Traces the establishment of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow as a licensing body to its eminence as a centre of teaching in the 18th century The text then covers the subsequent decline of the college in the 19th century with an account of how in conjunction with Glasgow University it re established itself as the guarantor of high medical standards of learning and practice

Shaping Long-Term Care in Emerging Asia Vasoontara S. Yiengprugsawan,John Piggott,2022-12-15 Countries are facing increasing life expectancy and a shrinking family size and in effect this may escalate demands for medical and supportive services The role of families in providing informal care will remain important However the simultaneous decline in the supply of informal caregiving caused by changes in family structure and higher female labour market participation necessitate the expansion of the public role in care provision This book analyses the challenges of long term care LTC policy development and implications from advanced LTC systems and a current trajectory in emerging economies in Asia The book approaches the subject through comparative analysis on what works and what does not to provide insight into public policy options for sustainable LTC provision and financing mechanisms How the countries adopt different approaches to health and social systems towards LTC development could provide important insight and perspectives into policy options in the region This book aims at academics policymakers and practitioners in health social and aged care services and could also be used as a teaching resource for undergraduate students in health and social sciences and postgraduate programs in public health epidemiology social demography gerontology and nursing The book will be of interest to a wider audience not only on social and health consequences of population ageing but also health and social policy relating to older persons BMJ ,2002

Hodes, Petrus J. De Vries, 2022-09-19 Shaping the Future of Child and Adolescent Mental Health Towards Technological Advances and Service Innovations coincides with the 25th International Association for Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and Allied Professions IACAPAP Congress in Dubai from December 5-9, 2022. There are three overarching themes of this book. Firstly, the impact of the Internet and digital technologies on the mental health and well-being of children and adolescents, including computerized therapies and the fundamental role of technologies to advance knowledge in the field. Secondly, a theme on harnessing the expansion of knowledge on psychiatric disorders and their treatment for children and adolescents, exemplified by chapters on different kinds of adversity in child and adolescent mental health and a chapter on precision therapeutics. Given the location of the IACAPAP Congress, the third theme focuses on aspects of child and adolescent mental health in the Eastern Mediterranean Region. Chapters provide insights into a broad range of contemporary technology and service innovation-related topics in child and adolescent psychiatry and mental health. These include growing up in the digital age, cyberbullying, clinical applications of big data and machine learning, computerized cognitive behavioral therapy, technology-enhanced learning, lessons from COVID-19, new understanding of the consequences of psychological trauma, autoimmune encephalitis, and precision therapeutics in depression. Acknowledging the global challenge of child and adolescent psychiatry and mental health, readers will find an emphasis on contextual challenges in the field, including innovations for scaling up of mental health intervention in low and middle-income countries and research and training in the Eastern Mediterranean Region. Emphasizes digital influences and applications in child and adolescent mental health research, psychiatric treatments and training. Highlights children and adolescents in adversity, including COVID-19 and psychological trauma. Appraises new approaches to understanding selected psychiatric disorders in children and adolescents. Addresses the research in child and adolescent psychiatry and mental health across the Eastern Mediterranean Region and training in the Gulf Region.
