consolidated their power and resisted change      American Gamelan and the Ethnomusicological Imagination Elizabeth A. Clendinning, 2020-09-28 Gamelan and American academic institutions have maintained their close association for more than sixty years Elizabeth A Clendinning illuminates what it means to devote one's life to world music ensemble education by examining the career and community surrounding the Balinese American performer and teacher I Made Lasmawan Weaving together stories of Indonesian and American practitioners colleagues and friends Clendinning shows the impact of academic world music ensembles on the local and transnational communities devoted to education and the performing arts While arguing for the importance of such ensembles Clendinning also spotlights how performers and educators use them to create stable and rewarding artistic communities Cross cultural ensemble education emerges as a worthy goal for students and teachers alike particularly at a time when people around the world express more enthusiasm about raising walls to keep others out rather than building bridges to invite them in      The Routledge Companion to Gender, Media and Violence Karen Boyle, Susan Berridge, 2023-08-25 With the heated discussion around MeToo journalistic reporting on domestic abuse and the popularity of true crime documentaries gendered media discourse around violence and harassment has never been more prominent The Routledge Companion to Gender Media and Violence is an outstanding reference source to the key topics problems and debates in this important subject and is the first collection on media and violence to take a gendered intersectional approach Comprising over 50 chapters by a team of interdisciplinary and international contributors the book is structured around the following parts News Representing reality Gender based violence online Feminist responses The media examples examined range from Australia to Zimbabwe and span print and online news documentary film and television podcasts pornography memoir comedy memes influencer videos and digital feminist protest Types of violence considered include domestic abuse honour based violence sexual violence and harassment female genital mutilation cutting child sexual abuse transphobic violence and the aftermath of conflict Good practice is considered in relation to both responsible news reporting and pedagogy The Routledge Companion to Gender Media and Violence is essential reading for students and researchers in Gender Studies Media Studies Sociology and Criminology Chapter 30 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial CC BY NC 4.0 license      Resources in Education ,1997      Shaping Human Science Disciplines Christian Fleck, Matthias Duller, Victor Karády, 2018-09-01 This book presents an analysis of the institutional development of selected social science and humanities SSH disciplines in Argentina France Germany Hungary Italy the Netherlands Sweden and the United Kingdom Where most narratives of a scholarly past are presented as a succession of ideas research results and theories this collection highlights the structural shifts in the systems of higher education as well as institutions of research and innovation beyond the universities within which these disciplines have developed This institutional perspective will facilitate systematic comparisons between developments in various disciplines and countries Across eight country studies the book reveals remarkably different dynamics of disciplinary growth between countries as well as important interdisciplinary differences within countries. In addition, instances of institutional contractions and downturns and veritable breaks of continuity under authoritarian political regimes can be observed which are almost totally absent from narratives of individual disciplinary histories. This important work will provide a valuable resource to scholars of disciplinary history, the history of ideas, the sociology of education and of scientific knowledge.

Identity and Resistance in Further Education Pete Bennett, Rob Smith, 2018-02-02

In recent years Further Education has reached a crossroads with questions being asked about its function, aims and focus as well as querying the role of the FE teacher, the key aspects of the curriculum and which values should inform FE pedagogy. Identity and Resistance in Further Education explores these questions and effectively conveys the sense of uncertainty that those in the field are experiencing today. Connecting Higher Education and FE practitioners and researchers, the book gathers a collection of essays covering a range of topics including the journey from student to teacher, critical reflective practice as a way of organising identity, values based teacher education and policy critique. In keeping with the themes of resistance and creativity, the chapters draw on a wide range of theoretical as well as literary perspectives to offer answers. Problematising relationships between the teacher and the institution and the teacher and government, the book argues that the profound challenge to teachers' values and identities finds its response in a critical collegiality. This book will be of great interest to academics, researchers and postgraduate students engaged in the study of further education, educational policy and teacher education. It should also be essential reading for practitioners and policymakers.

Maintaining Strategic Relevance Kevin J. Fleming, 2015-05-14

The community and technical college mission requires offering relevant Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs. Board policies are plentiful for creating new programs in alignment with workforce needs. However, few districts have robust policies in place to appropriately discontinue or replace CTE programs. This book identifies successful CTE program discontinuance, including how people feel about the process and the impact of institutional culture. The interviews and policy analysis conducted provide best practices to effectively and appropriately discontinue CTE programs. Eleven practical recommendations are outlined to help community and technical colleges in establishing program discontinuance processes which strategically and effectively discontinue CTE programs while making optimal use of limited fiscal and human resources. This book provides readers with information on career and technical education appropriate strategies to manage the constant churning of CTE programs, college governance and academic discontinuance policies.

Crisis in the Academy Christopher J. Lucas, 1998-03-15

Not since student turmoil and unrest wreaked havoc on the nation's campuses three decades ago has American higher education been the subject of so much controversy and popular criticism. Countless indictments compete for the public's attention as critics explore vital issues confronting today's institutions of higher learning: curricular fragmentation, declining academic standards, the apparent erosion of liberal learning within academe, widespread neglect of undergraduate education in favour of academic research.

and unprecedented financial woes Confusion over fundamental priorities and purposes the author argues lies at the heart of the dilemma facing end of the century higher education Thoughtful and timely Crisis in the Academy offers a wide ranging analysis of contemporary higher education while making an important contribution to the ongoing public debate over the future of America's beleaguered and diverse institutions of higher learning
