Residential Care Horizons For The New Century:

Residential Care Torill Tjelflaat, 2017-03-02 Discussing key contemporary issues in residential and foster care for children this theoretically and empirically rich volume draws on new research from across Europe and Canada Contributions stem from a broad spectrum of researchers and practitioners in the field engaging in comparative international perspectives of problems of enduring relevance This book particularly focuses on anti oppressive practice foster care mainstreaming in education ethnic origin competency level and research as a tool in residential care The book will make a significant impact to the literature on social work and child and family welfare Key Concepts in Anti-Discriminatory Social Work Toyin

Okitikpi, Cathy Aymer, 2009-11-19 This is a key text that provides a well rounded introduction to anti discriminatory social work placing this underpinning concept within the context of theory methods policy legislation and skills It will be of immense value to students practitioners and service users An excellent book John MacDonough London South Bank University Addressing both the ideas underpinning anti discriminatory practice and more practice oriented approaches this is an accessible book which will be of benefit to social work students and practitioners Amanda Thorpe University of Bedfordshire This Key Concepts clearly and concisely explains the basic ideas in the field of anti discriminatory social work It Explores the range of discriminations that people experience and discusses a number of theories that inform Anti discriminatory practice Considers the legal frameworks within which anti discriminatory practice operates Analyses the skills and knowledge required to practice effectively Highlights the dynamic nature of anti discriminatory practice and points the way towards a new practice dimension Provides an essential reference guide for all social work students and practitioners as well as those taking courses in teacher training youth and community nursing mid wifery and mental health studies for whom anti discriminatory practice is an important element in their study A Quarter-century of Normalization and Social

Role Valorization Robert John Flynn, Raymond A. Lemay, 1999 During the late 1960s Normalization and Social Role Valorization SRV enabled the widespread emergence of community residential options and then provided the philosophical climate within which educational integration supported employment and community participation were able to take firm root This book is unique in tracing the evolution and impact of Normalization and SRV over the last quarter century with many of the chapter authors personally involved in a still evolving international movement Published in English The Disabling State of an Active Society Mikael Holmqvist, 2016-04-01 Across the traditional welfare states of Europe Australia New Zealand and Canada there has been increasing emphasis on activation by the unemployed as a tool for fighting unemployment The core idea of activation programmes is the integration and empowerment of jobseekers through active work related measures rather than passive income support However the empirical evidence of the efficacy of activation programmes is far from conclusive and there have been no systematic studies of the effects of activation programmes on the lives of the unemployed people who come into contact with them This book is based on a detailed ethnographic study of the highly praised Swedish rehabilitation organization Samhall The result is a key volume for those working and studying within welfare poverty disability and special needs Reintegrative Justice in Practice Helen Miles, Peter Raynor, 2016-04-08 Recent years have seen the development of a growing international literature on restorative justice community justice and reintegrative alternatives to formal criminal justice processes This literature is stronger on theory and advocacy than on detailed evaluative studies It often relies for its practical examples on the presumed historical practices of the indigenous peoples of colonised territories or on attempts to revive or promote modified versions of these in a modern context which has led to debates about how far modern communities can provide a viable setting for such initiatives This book provides a unique study of the practice of traditional reintegrative community justice in a European society the Parish Hall Enquiry PHE in the Channel Island of Jersey This is an ancient institution based on an informal hearing and discussion of a reported offence with the alleged offender and other interested parties carried out by centeniers honorary police officers elected to one of Jersey's twelve parishes It is still in regular use as an integral part of a modern criminal justice system and it usually aims to resolve offences without recourse to formal prosecution in court Helen Miles and Peter Raynor's research arising from direct observation contributes to the literature on what works in resolving conflicts and influencing offenders and their detailed case studies of how problems are addressed gives a hands on flavour of the process The authors also document the aspects of community life in Jersey that facilitate or hinder the continuation of the PHEs drawing out the implications of these findings for wider debates about the necessary and sufficient social conditions for reintegrative justice to succeed

Persistent Young Offenders David Loble, David Smith, 2016-05-13 Based on some of the most interesting research of the last ten years this book discusses effective practice in work with persistent young offenders It contrasts two major evaluations of projects for juvenile offenders one of which was successful and the other less so The projects Freagarrach and CueTen were funded by The Scottish Office and the Scottish Executive Freagarrach was evaluated over five years from 1995 and CueTen over three years its entire lifespan from 1996 This book makes the findings of these projects available to a wider readership setting them in a wider discursive framework than is appropriate in a government report The authors identify the factors that made Freagarrach a more successful project than CueTen arguing that an understanding of these factors is important in drawing general conclusions from the experience of the two projects and that this is particularly the case because some of these factors have received little attention in recent discussions of what works in community based programmes for offenders This is a detailed and thorough study of work with juvenile offenders which will be of particular value to those interested in less punitive approaches It will be of interest both to practitioners and to academics in criminology social policy and social work Children who Commit Acts of Serious Interpersonal Violence Ann Hagell, Renuka Jeyarajah-Dent, 2006 This book explores risk management and successful intervention for children in care who have committed or are at risk of committing acts of serious violence The contributors provide an overview of the factors leading to extremely violent behaviour and discuss the complexities of diagnosis and definition from a multidisciplinary perspective

Interculturality in Institutions Marilena Fatigante, Cristina Zuccheromaglio, Francesca Alby, 2022-11-24
 This book provides qualitative analyses of intercultural sense making in a variety of institutional contexts. It relies on the assumption that in an increasingly culturally diverse world individuals often enter contexts that have communal historically determined and stable sets of values, norms and expected identities with little cultural compass to find their bearings in them. The book goes beyond interpreting differences in people's ethnic or linguistic roots and discusses instead people's interpretive efforts to navigate different sociocultural situations. The contributors examine such situations in educational, organizational, medical and community settings and look at how participants with different levels of sociocultural competences such as migrant patients, migrant adult learners, children try to cope with institutional constraints and expectations, how they understand symbols, practices and identities in institutional contexts and how their creative adjustments come to light. This book provides insights from the fields of psychology, education, anthropology and linguistics and is for a wide readership interested in cultural meaning making.

Working in Group Care Ward, Adrian, 2006-11
 Working in group care, i.e. residential and day services, is a challenging and complex task demanding great skill, patience, knowledge and understanding. This book explains how best practice can be achieved through the focused and engaged work of individuals and teams who are well supported and managed. Detailed attention is paid to the value of everyday practice and its underlying principles. The book brings together theory, practice and research findings from across the whole field of group care for all user groups including health, education and probation settings as well as social work and social care. The first edition was warmly welcomed as well organised and accessible and a valuable addition to the literature. British Journal of Social Work. This second edition is updated and expanded, including substantial new material on the concept of opportunity-led work. The book will be an essential text for all those involved in residential and day care practice, whether as practitioners, students, managers or trainers. It argues strongly for seeing group care as valuable and skilled work and for a holistic understanding of good practice.

Achieving Positive Outcomes for Children in Care R. J. Cameron, Seán Cameron, Colin Maginn, 2009-09-10
 This title looks at how achieving positive outcomes for children in care is possible when the root causes of failure are tackled.

Gender and Child Welfare in Society Brid Featherstone, Carol-Ann Hooper, Jonathan Scourfield, Julie Taylor, 2009-12-09
 Considers ways in which raising questions about gender can help researchers and practitioners better understand family relationships and issues in children's development. Draws on current developments in thinking about gender relations. Offers an overview of sociological, psychological and developmental perspectives on family relationships, child welfare outcomes and the practice/policy realities of professional interventions with families. Chapters address a range of service settings including family support, child health, education, child protection, domestic violence, looked after children and youth justice Medical and Health Information Directory, 2010 Resources in Education, 1996

Dalley, 1998 Traces the changes in government child welfare services from 1902 until 1992 Back cover Seeing Sarah

Bernhardt Victoria Duckett, 2015-10-15 The most famous stage actress of the nineteenth century Sarah Bernhardt enjoyed a surprising renaissance when the 1912 multi reel film Queen Elizabeth vaulted her to international acclaim The triumph capped her already lengthy involvement with cinema while enabling the indefatigable actress to reinvent herself in an era of technological and generational change Placing Bernhardt at the center of the industry s first two decades Victoria Duckett challenges the perception of her as an anachronism unable to appreciate film s qualities Instead cinema s substitution of translated title cards for her melodic French deciphered Bernhardt for Anglo American audiences It also allowed the aging actress to appear in the kinds of longer dramas she could no longer physically sustain onstage As Duckett shows Bernhardt contributed far more than star quality Her theatrical practice on film influenced how the young medium changed the visual and performing arts Her promoting of experimentation meanwhile shaped the ways audiences looked at and understood early cinema A leading edge reappraisal of a watershed era Seeing Sarah Bernhardt tells the story of an icon who bridged two centuries and changed the very act of watching film When Home Won't Let You Stay Eva Respini, Ruth

Erickson, 2019-01-01 Insightful and interdisciplinary this book considers the movement of people around the world and how contemporary artists contribute to our understanding of it In this timely volume artists and thinkers join in conversation around the topic of global migration examining both its cultural impact and the culture of migration itself Individual voices shed light on the societal transformations related to migration and its representation in 21st century art offering diverse points of entry into this massive phenomenon and its many manifestations The featured artworks range from painting sculpture and photography to installation video and sound art and their makers including Isaac Julien Richard Mosse Reena Saini Kallat Yinka Shonibare MBE and Do Ho Suh among many others hail from around the world Texts by experts in political science Latin American studies and human rights as well as contemporary art expand upon the political economic and social contexts of migration and its representation The book also includes three conversations in which artists discuss the complexity of making work about migration Amid worldwide tensions surrounding refugee crises and border security this publication provides a nuanced interpretation of the current cultural moment Intertwining themes of memory home activism and more When Home Won't Let You Stay meditates on how art both shapes and is shaped by the public discourse on migration

Who Owns Whom, 2008 Home on the Horizon Sally Bayley, 2010 In this study of space and place Sally Bayley examines the meaning of home in American literature and culture Moving from the nineteenth century homestead of Emily Dickinson to the present day reality of Bob Dylan Bayley investigates the relationship of the domestic frontier to the wide open spaces of the American outdoors In contemporary America she argues the experience of home is increasingly isolated leading to unsettling moments of domestic fallout At the centre of the book is the exposed and often shifting domain of the domestic threshold Emily Dickinson's doorstep Edward Hopper's doors and windows and Harper Lee's front porch Bayley tracks these historically fragile territories through contemporary literature and film including Cormac McCarthy's No Country for Old Men Lars Von Trier's Dogville and Andrew Dominik's The Assassination of Jesse James by The Coward Robert Ford works that explore local domestic territories as emblems of nation The culturally potent sites of the American home the hearth porch backyard front lawn bathroom and basement are positioned in relation to the more contested sites of the American motel and hotel
