Joseph O'Connell, 2025-09-04 A vital re examination of Canadian cultural and commercial history told through key fashion objects from First Nations colonial settlers and contemporary Canadian culture Traditional narratives of fashion tend to ignore sophisticated pre colonial networks First Nation innovations and techniques and their contributions to colonial dress From exquisite Chilkat weavings to the iconic Hudson's Bay Company blanket coat by way of ribbon skirts quilts and a beaver fur top hat this rich study uses Canadian fashion objects as a research tool to illuminate neglected areas in North American fashion history Using vivid object based research O'Connell maps out pre colonial economic networks spanning the entire continent global colonial textile and fur trades and the material culture of French and English migrant populations in the New World and equips readers with a framework for more nuanced and inclusive histories of Canadian culture and commerce Unexpected overlooked stories emerge as central to Canada's fashion history from hybrid fashion cultures to re used textiles in settler communities and O'Connell highlights contemporary Canadian artists and designers who point to new possibilities to reclaim and preserve this cultural heritage      Jumping the Broom Tyler D. history of a unique tradition Tyler D Parry untangles the convoluted history of the broomstick wedding Popularly associated with African American culture Parry traces the ritual's origins to marginalized groups in the British Isles and explores how it influenced the marriage traditions of different communities on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean His surprising findings shed new light on the complexities of cultural exchange between peoples of African and European descent from the 1700s up to the twenty first century Drawing from the historical records of enslaved people in the United States British Romani Louisiana Cajuns and many others Parry discloses how marginalized people found dignity in the face of oppression by innovating and reimagining marriage rituals Such innovations have an enduring impact on the descendants of the original practitioners Parry reveals how and why the simple act of jumping the broom captivates so many people who on the surface appear to have little in common with each other      Affective Mapping Jonathan FLATLEY, Jonathan Flatley, 2009-06-30 The surprising claim of this book is that dwelling on loss is not necessarily depressing Instead embracing melancholy can be a road back to contact with others and can lead people to productively remap their relationship to the world around them Flatley demonstrates that a seemingly disparate set of modernist writers and thinkers showed how aesthetic activity can give us the means to comprehend and change our relation to loss
