Land and Territoriality Michael Saltman, 2020-05-26 In the past territorial conflict usually involved major powers seeking hegemony over strategic spaces and resources More recently however the decline of opposing global power blocs has elevated ethnicity to a prime cause of conflict over land This book considers the multiple roles ethnicity plays in fostering territorial conflicts both violent and non violent across the globe While land disputes relating to nationalism have resulted in the loss of human life in some regions in others ties between ethnicity and land are asserted more peacefully Nationalism and challenges to the validity of the links between people and places have caused widespread bloodshed in the disputed territory of Palestine involving competing

Contested Forms of Governance in Marine Protected Areas Natalie Bown, Tim S. Gray, Selina M. Stead, 2013-01-17 In this book the authors examine the governance of marine protected areas MPA and in particular they compare two different forms of governance co management CM and adaptive co management ACM CM is characterized by the decentralization of the decision making process incorporating the governed as well as the government ACM is characterized by the dynamic process whereby co management decision making is made continuously responsive to the changing ecological and socio economic circumstances of the MPA The authors carry out a comprehensive critical analysis of CM and ACM before applying these concepts to the case study of the Cayos Cochinos Marine Protected Area off Honduras to assess two successive management cycles 2004 9 and 2008 13 The area was designated as an MPA in 1993 a governmental decision which was met with resentment by local communities CM was introduced in 2004 to involve these local stakeholders in the decision making process but achieved limited success In an attempt to deal with these deficiencies ACM was adopted in the second management plan in 2008 but whereas the position of the local communities improved it tipped the scales too far away from conservation A third management plan is currently being prepared that promises to strike a better balance between ecological and socio economic objectives A central theme of the book is to examine how far the CCMPA adhered to the principles of CM and ACM respectively in its first two management plans Coastal environment in a changing world
