The Restless Decade John Gutmann,Max Kozloff,1984 The Great Depression that restless decade of the 1930s is known to most Americans today through familiar images of the rural South of migrant workers sharecroppers and dust bowl small holdings Now a new view of the period has come to light in the photographs of John Gutmann who focused mainly on cities and captured there a vitality and energy what he calls the extravagance of life that persisted even in the depth of the Depression Jacket

The Social and the Real: Political Art of the 1930s in the Western Hemisphere ,2006 The Photography of John Gutmann Sandra S. Phillips,2000 The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter,2011 Arranged in alphabetical order these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries

The Great Depression in Literature for Youth Rebecca L. Berg,2004-11-17 No area of the United States was untouched by the Great Depression but the severity in which people experienced those significant years depended in large part on where in the nation they lived While dust choked the life out of Americans in the plains apples grew in abundance in the Northwest Unemployment driven poverty robbed urban dwellers of hearth and home while Upper plains farm women traded eggs and chickens like money This bibliography describes the youth literature and relevant resources written about the Great Depression all categorized by geographical location Students educators historians and writers can use this book to find literature specific to their state or region gaining a greater understanding of what the Great Depression was like in their locale The Great Depression was a pivotal period in our nation s history This annotated bibliography guides readers to biographies oral histories memoirs and recollections photograph collections fiction and nonfiction books picture books international resources and other reference sources The Works Progress Administration WPA state guides are included as well as literature about the federal theater arts and music projects A comprehensive listing of museums and state historical societies complement this reference For readers interested in learning about the Great Depression this is a must have resource

Picturing Chinatown Anthony W. Lee,2001-10-02 Throughout European history Jews have been associated with commerce and the money trade rendered both visible and vulnerable like Shylock by their economic distinctiveness This is the story of Jewish perceptions of this economic difference and its effect on modern Jewish identity Studies in Irreversibility Benjamin Schreier, 2009-10-02 The premise of Studies in Irreversibility: Texts and Contexts is that there is a big difference between phenomena, practices, processes and events that are irreversible and those that are reversible and moreover that this difference and its manifold implications remain underappreciated so long as the analysis of culture continues to anchor itself in an emphasis on the capacities of human agency. If messianic modes posit a future to justify the present and so interpret the influence of the past, the papers in this collection are devoted to examining the present of experience from the perspective of its uncompromising and irreducible past, finding in irreversibility a key to an interpretation of futurity. Together these papers outline a method of examining experience as something more or at least other than the desire to know it, and in so doing they shed light on the powerful role of normativity in the narratives we construct in and about culture. Through novel analyses from the disciplines of literature, art criticism, history, philosophy, ethnic studies and ethics, the contributors to this book address key questions about the nature of irreversibility: What differentiates the experience of the irreversible from the experience of the reversible? How is irreversibility recognized? What happens when we acknowledge something to be irreversible? How has society contended with irreversibility and what sorts of tools exist today to interpret its significance? Wary of impetuously fixing the meaning of a still elusive concept, this volume collects papers that employ a wide array of methodologies, mindful that no one critical approach may yet have proved itself. Irreversibility is not simply a quality of the texts examined in this volume, nor is it strictly speaking a lens through which otherwise coherent or stable texts are examined; rather, it emerges as a model that brings together texts and the thinking of them. By together outlining a method of examining culture that moves beyond reliance on tropes such as functionalism, teleology and chance tropes that have dominated twentieth-century cultural analysis, these papers help to inaugurate a new paradigm in the study of culture. John Gutmann, *Parallels in Focus John Gutmann, 1997 American Studies Jack Salzman, 1990-05-25 This volume supplements the acclaimed three-volume set published in 1986 and consists of an annotated listing of American Studies monographs published between 1984 and 1988. There are more than 6,000 descriptive entries in a wide range of categories: anthropology and folklore, art and architecture, history, literature, music, political science, popular culture, psychology, religion, science and technology, and sociology. Pioneering North America Klaus Martens, 2000

Humanitarian Photography Heide Fehrenbach, Davide Rodogno, 2015-02-23 For well over a century, humanitarians and their organizations have used photographic imagery and the latest media technologies to raise public awareness and funds to alleviate human suffering. This volume examines the historical evolution of what we today call humanitarian photography: the mobilization of photography in the service of humanitarian initiatives across state boundaries and asks how we can account for the shift from the fitful and debated use of photography for humanitarian purposes in the late nineteenth century to our current situation in which photographers market themselves as humanitarian photographers. This book investigates how humanitarian photography emerged and how it operated in diverse political institutional and social contexts bringing together more than a dozen scholars working on the history of humanitarianism international organizations and nongovernmental organizations and visual culture in Africa Asia the Middle East Europe and the United States Gutmann Maia-Mari Sutnik, John Gutmann, 1985 Encyclopedia of Twentieth-century Photography Lynne Warren, 2006 Publisher description The Great Parade Pierre Théberge, Galeries Nationales du Grand Palais (Parijs), National Gallery of Canada, 2004-01-01 A beautiful book that showcases how circus figures and artifacts have been portrayed in art over the past two centuries The circus is a dazzling world filled with acrobats and harlequins tumblers and riders monsters and celestial creatures Now this engaging book sets that world in a new light examining how painters sculptors and photographers from the eighteenth century to the present have used the circus as a springboard for their imaginative expression and have envisioned the clown as a metaphor for the modern artist The book presents more than 175 works by such artists as Degas Toulouse Lautrec Rouault Picasso Chagall and Léger Some of these are masterful works shown for the first time these range from the 18 meter stage curtain Picasso designed in 1917 for Erik Satie's ballet Parade to more intimate works such as Nadar and Tournachon's photographs of Pierrot as played by celebrated mime Charles Debureau Buy American Dana Frank, 2000-04-07 With the election of Donald Trump economic nationalism has re-emerged as a patriotic rallying cry But are imports and foreigners really to blame for the disappearance of good jobs in the United States Tracing the history and politics of economic nationalism from the American Revolution to the present historian Dana Frank investigates the long history of Buy American campaigns and their complexities This entertaining story is full of surprises including misguided heroes chilling racism and more than a few charlatans Frank helps reframe the debate between free trade on the one hand and nationalism on the other to suggest alternative strategies that would serve the needs of working Americans instead of the interests of corporations and economic elites and that don't cast foreigners or immigrants as our enemies Cascade Maryanne O'Hara, 2013 Struggling to preserve her family's theater and married to a man desperate for children would be artist Desdemona Hart of 1935 Massachusetts is drawn to creative newcomer Jacob Solomon who is wrongly implicated by anti-Semitic townspeople after a murder Reading California Stephanie Barron, Sheri Bernstein, Ilene Susan Fort, 2000 This collection of essays written by a stellar cast of art historians and scholars looks closely at the forces that shaped fine art and material culture in California Illustrations The United States and the 1930s Anne Sharp Wells, British Library, 2000
