Case Studies In Educational Change David Carter,2012-10-12 This text the second in a two volume set examining the process of educational reform describes case studies on the change process of education as it impacts on the individual at work The authors provide interesting comparisons of similar changes occurring within education in different national settings including Australia New Zealand Israel the USA and the UK The case studies are based on three themes systematic change the transition from policy to practice and curriculum contexts The effects of governmental control over the curriculum and attempts to reform education by legislation are explained and the similarities are seen as marginalisation of professional educators corporatisation of education systems instrumentalisation of curriculum and the inability of those in power to draw from past knowledge on educational change Written to stand alone this book can also be read in conjunction with volume 1 International Perspectives on Educational Reform and Policy Implementation which examines the historical social and economic influences on education policy reform The authors argue that change takes a predictable format and once understood can be directed and managed The books are intended to be of interest to all involved in the planning and implementation of change together pointing the way to effective management of such change processes Reorganization and Administration of an Elementary School to Meet the Needs of a Community George Cleveland Kyte,1925 Public Sector Reform B. Nolan,2001-04-10 In these times of dramatic social economic and political change governments around the world are questioning their roles and responsibilities in the public sector There is a trend away from traditional public sector model and that of market ideology but there does not yet exist a universally accepted alternative Brendan Nolan offers a comparative analysis of public administration in several OECD countries the UK USA Australia and Scandinavia and explores possible future directions

Beyond the Self-Managing School Brian Caldwell,Jim M. Spinks,2003-09-02 The broad approach of local management of schools or self managing schools is now widely accepted In Britain there is even consensus between the three major political parties that the approach should be continued and extended A key issue though is what comes next for self managing schools Drawing on their work and experience in research consultancy Caldwell and Spinks examine the way in which education is changing and outline what is desirable and workable for schools today with clear guidelines for policy makers and practitioners The focus is specifically on the school the classroom the student and the future of learning in society Practitioners will find this book immediately accessible and useful Sociological Theory and

Educational Reality Alan Barcan,1993 An examination of the major classical sociological theories relevant to education and of the rise and decline of the new sociology of education Author also discusses the vexed questions of equality of opportunity the relationship between school and society the growth of educational bureaucracies and the roles of state church and family in education in Australia since 1949 Includes endnotes tables and index APAIS 1992: Australian public affairs information

This book is the outcome of a colloquium series organized by The University of Sydney in which leading and emerging researchers were invited to name what they took to be the deep flaws at the heart of contemporary educational and policy and practice in Australia and globally to voice their potentially heretical views on what most urgently needs to be done The chapters in this collection are paired to offer two takes on each topic from supplementing to critiquing to countering and most points in between The issues addressed in this volume include the place of education in national and international marketplaces mass testing and standardisation the future of multiculturalism in schools the public funding of private schools the complicated relationship between evidence and policy and the shifting politics of inequality This book is based on the idea that recognising deep disagreements on big issues is a necessary accompaniment to imagining and developing productive ways forward A Proposed Reorganization of the School System Orange County Ora W.
