Empire, Nationalism and the Postcolonial World Michael Collins, 2013-03-01 By presenting a new interpretation of Rabindranath Tagore's English language writings this book places the work of India's greatest Nobel Prize winner and cultural icon in the context of imperial history and thereby bridges the gap between Tagore studies and imperial postcolonial historiography Using detailed archival research the book charts the origins of Tagore's ideas in Indian religious traditions and discusses the impact of early Indian nationalism on Tagore's thinking It offers a new interpretation of Tagore's complex debates with Gandhi about the colonial encounter Tagore's provocative analysis of the impact of British imperialism in India and his questioning of nationalism as a pathway to authentic postcolonial freedom The book also demonstrates how the man and his ideas were received and interpreted in Britain during his lifetime and how they have been sometimes misrepresented by nationalist historians and postcolonial theorists after Tagore's death An alternative interpretation based on an intellectual history approach this book places Tagore's sense of agency his ideas and intentions within a broader historical framework Offering an exciting critique of postcolonial theory from a historical perspective it is a timely contribution in the wake of the 150th anniversary of Tagore's birth in 2011

The Vedantic Relationality of Rabindranath Tagore Ankur Barua, 2018-10-25 This book is a thematic study of the poet thinker Rabindranath Tagore's conceptual project of harmonizing the one and its many Tagore's writings in Bengali and in English on religious and social themes are held together by the leitmotif of a harmony which operates across several existential religious and social polarities the finite and the infinite the temporal and the eternal and the individual and the universal Tagore creatively appropriated materials from diverse sources such as the classical Hindu Vedantic systems the folk piety of Bengal and others to configure a dialectic which shapes his writings on both religious and social themes On the one hand each individual is irreducibly distinct from everyone else and on the other hand each individual gains their spiritual depth precisely by being placed within the dynamic matrices of an interrelated whole Thus we find Tagore rejecting certain monastic forms of Hindu world renunciation and also certain ecstatic dimensions of devotional worship the former because they efface individuality and the latter because they can generate self absorbed styles of living Again Tagore is as sharply opposed to Bengali imitateness of English modes of being in the world as he is to Bengali forms of insularity the former because it dilutes the concrete richness of indigenous lifeforms and the latter because it confines individuals to parochial enclosures Tagore's life long endeavor was to configure a third way by rejecting both the blank homogeneity of an undifferentiated one and the particularistic insularities of a multitude without a deeper center of coherence
