Rethinking Regional Innovation And Change Path Dependency Or Regional Breakthrough:

Rethinking Regional Innovation and Change: Path Dependency or Regional Breakthrough Gerhard Fuchs, Philip Shapira, 2005 To what extent can regions diverge from established paths of economic development Are their futures determined by institutional and industrial structures that may be hundreds of years old or do innovations transfers and adaptations of knowledge technology learning systems and policy mechanisms offer realistic opportunities for regional development Rethinking Regional Innovation and Change Path Dependency or Regional Breakthrough brings together papers from leading international scholars in the field of regional development and policy The contributors examine the interactions between path dependent developments institutions and governance structures that influence regional innovation capacity Using cases from both highly developed and less developed regions they explore the complex relationships between technical and industrial development paths and regional institutions They assess the extent to which regional innovative capacity can be increased by strengthening re orienting or creating institutions and policies and they examine opportunities for reflexive practice at the regional level as a critical tool in orienting regional development Up to date case studies present diverse theoretical perspectives from economics political science geography planning and public policy This volume will be of particular interest to researchers analysts and policymakers in the fields of regional development innovation policy and institutional and organizational change as well as faculty and students in public policy public administration planning geography regional economics and economic development Rethinking Regional Innovation and Change: Path Dependency or Regional Breakthrough Gerhard Fuchs, Philip Shapira, 2006-02-17 Rethinking Regional Innovation and Change brings together papers from leading international scholars in the field of regional development and policy The contributors examine the interactions between path dependent developments institutions and governance structures that influence regional innovation capacity Up to date case studies present diverse theoretical perspectives from economics political science geography planning and public policy Taken as a whole the volume offers a broad and up to date perspective on the inheritance aspect of an area s future Without exception the chapters are insightful interesting and a pleasure to read Let us hope that this excellent work will find its way to the desks of authorities in charge for regional policy If anything the book still urges policy makers to start from the simple piece of wisdom that regions tend to go from where they are coming Paradoxically it is from this very notion of path dependency that most regional breakthroughs can be expected Gert Jan Hospers Regions Volume 256 April 2005 Handbook of Regional Innovation and Growth Philip Cooke, Bjørn Asheim, Ron Boschma, Ron Martin, Dafna Schwartz, Franz Tötting, 2011-01-01 Today economic growth is widely understood to be conditioned by productivity increases which are in turn profoundly affected by innovation This volume explores these key relationships between innovation and growth bringing together experts from both fields to compile a unique Handbook The Handbook considers innovation from fresh perspectives encompassing topics such as services innovation inward investment and innovation creative industry innovation and green innovation It is divided into seven sections dealing with regional innovation and growth theory dynamics evolution agglomeration innovation worlds innovation system institutions and innovation governance and policy This definitive compendium on regional innovation and growth will undoubtedly appeal to teachers students researchers and practitioners of innovation and growth dynamics worldwide

Path Dependence and New Path Creation in Renewable Energy Technologies James Simmie, 2016-01-08 Why are old technologies persisted with after better alternatives have been invented This book examines this question a central concern of evolutionary economics specifically focusing on renewable energy technologies The concept of path dependence is used to analyse why and how technological development can become locked in to inefficient ways of doing things This book shows how lock in can be avoided by the creation of new technological pathways The chapters focus on the comparatively recent introduction of new wind turbine technologies for the generation of carbon free electricity This case study provides valuable lessons in understanding the issues confronting inventors attempting to commercialise their new ideas in the form of innovations in the face of historically established conventional technologies It is also set within the critical debate on climate change and the need to de carbonise energy supplies in order to stop further man made deterioration in the global environment This book was originally published as a special issue of European Planning Studies

OECD Reviews of Regional Innovation Competitive Regional Clusters National Policy Approaches OECD, 2007-05-30 This report analyses the objectives targeting instruments and inter governmental role sharing used by 26 regional cluster programmes in 14 OECD countries

Remaking the Global Economy Jamie Peck, Henry Wai-Chung Yeung, 2003-08-21 With a bibliography pp 231 252

Procuring Complex Performance Nigel Caldwell, Mickey Howard, 2010-09-13 This book examines the management of Procuring Complex Performance PCP in large scale programmes that includes the downstream support phase in sectors such as construction healthcare transport aerospace marine and defence It brings together a series of edited chapters to explain why the traditional combination of linear project management and highly detailed contracts are now unsuited to the dynamics of emerging customer requirements based on performance and outcome Working with leading business professors across the UK and Europe Caldwell and Howard present the case for why large scale programmes of world class organizations often represent a shifting frontier between the boundaries of public private provision and silos of operations expertise Adopting a procurement perspective the authors explain how complex performance means not just coping with the dynamics of buyer supplier relationships but incorporates the shift from production orientation towards availability of bundled services such as maintenance and upgrade delivered over extended often multi decade timeframes The strength of PCP is its empirical case based support for new business models based on through life management availability contracting and service support which challenge simplistic notions of dyadic hierarchical relationships and transfer of risk to the supply base This unique publication is essential reading for scholars and practitioners seeking to understand the context of innovation and supply as a coordinated and integrated approach to managing and procuring complex performance Keys to the City Michael Storper, 2013-07-21 Why do some cities grow economically while others decline Why do some show sustained economic performance while others cycle up and down In Keys to the City Michael Storper one of the world's leading economic geographers looks at why we should consider economic development issues within a regional context at the level of the city region and why city economies develop unequally Storper identifies four contexts that shape urban economic development economic institutional innovational and interactional and political The book explores how these contexts operate and how they interact leading to developmental success in some regions and failure in others Demonstrating that the global economy is increasingly driven by its major cities the keys to the city are the keys to global development In his conclusion Storper specifies eight rules of economic development targeted at policymakers Keys to the City explains why economists sociologists and political scientists should take geography seriously Tourism and Innovation C. Michael Hall, Allan M. Williams, 2008-02-19 Tourism is often described as an industry with high growth rates and it is subject to radical change in how it is produced and consumed However there is still a relatively poor understanding of how such changes are brought about that is through innovation This book is the first to provide a comprehensive review of innovation in tourism while also considering how tourism itself contributes to innovative local regional and national development strategies This timely book places tourism innovation in the context of current academic and policy concerns relating to knowledge competition and the management of change A substantial introductory chapter provides an overview of what makes innovation in tourism both distinctive from and similar to innovation in other economic sectors This is followed by three general scene setting chapters which explore how competition and the search for competitiveness drive tourism innovation how knowledge transfers and knowledge creation lead the process and how institutions shape innovation These provide a coherent theoretical framework for understanding the roles of different agencies in innovation ranging from the state to the firm to the consumer The next four chapters analyze innovation at different scales Two chapters review the territorial dimensions of innovation through the fresh perspectives of the national and regional innovation systems followed by reviews of the determinants of innovation in the firm and the contested and complex role of entrepreneurship The final chapter summarises the importance of understanding tourism innovation This is a groundbreaking volume which provides an accessible introduction to a key but neglected topic It provides a readable account of the multidisciplinary research on innovation and relates the emerging theoretical framework to tourism A clear conceptual framework is complemented by fifty boxes which provide a range of illustrative international case studies This book will be a useful guide for researchers and students of tourism studies management and business and geography The Social Dynamics of Innovation Networks Roel Rutten, Paul Benneworth, Dessy Irawati, Frans Boekema, 2014-06-27 The social dynamics of innovation networks captures the important role of trust social capital institutions and norms and values in the creation of knowledge in innovation networks In doing so this book connects to a long standing debate on the socio spatial context of innovation in economic geography which is usually referred to as the Territorial Models of Innovation TIMs literature This present volume breaks with the TIM literature in several important ways In the first place this book emphasizes the role of individual agency because individuals and their networks are increasingly recognized as the principal agents of knowledge creation Secondly this volume looks at space as a continuous field of opportunity rather than as bounded territory with a set of endowments such as knowledge base and social capital Although individually these elements are not new to the TIM literature it has thus far failed to grasp their critical implication for studying the social dynamics of innovation networks The approach to the socio spatial context of innovation in this volume is summarized as Knowledge Economy 2 0 It emphasizes that human creativity is now the main source of economic value and that human creativity and knowledge creation is not an organized process within organizations but happens bottom up in formal and informal professional and social networks of individuals that cut across multiple organizations

Milieus of Creativity Peter Meusburger, Joachim Funke, Edgar Wunder, 2009-03-10 Milieus of Creativity is the second volume in the book series Knowledge and Space This book deals with spatial disparities of knowledge and the impact of environments space and contexts on the production and application of knowledge The contributions in this volume focus on the role of places environments and spatial contexts for the emergence and perpetuation of creativity Is environment a social or a spatial phenomenon Are only social factors relevant for the development of creativity or should one also include material artefacts and resources in its definition How can we explain spatial disparities of creativity without falling victim to geodeterminism This book offers insights from various disciplines such as environmental psychology philosophy and social geography It presents the results of a research conference at Heidelberg University in September 2006 which was supported by the Klaus Tschira Foundation

Innovation in Multinational Companies Jannika Mattes, 2010 This study deals with the organisation of innovation projects of multinational companies The focus is on learning processes which occur within the company group as well as those taking place between the company and its regional environment This work establishes a bridge between organisational and regional learning

Government Incentives for Innovation and Entrepreneurship Mahmoud M. Abdellatif, Binh Tran-Nam, Marina Ranga, Sabina Hodžić, 2022-11-30 This book examines the role of government fiscal and non fiscal incentives in spurring innovation and entrepreneurship in developed and developing economies It explores and examines the role of government programs in different stages of firm growth pre startup startup and scale up By developing a theoretical framework and reviewing international evidence the book identifies the best combination of government incentives to stimulate innovation and entrepreneurship and provides concrete policy recommendations for decision makers Some of the issues tackled in this book include national innovation policy innovation support programs effectiveness of the support challenges associated with the programs risk sharing and partnerships for innovation This book is of interest to academics students practitioners policymakers governmental and non governmental organizations as well as other stakeholders who wants to be informed about the challenges progress and current trend in stimulating innovation and entrepreneurship

Regional Helix Ecosystems and Sustainable Growth Luís

Farinha, Domingos Santos, João J. Ferreira, Marina Ranga, 2020-08-29 This book discusses the importance of innovation and entrepreneurial ecosystems in supporting regional competitiveness It also encourages academics business professionals and policy makers to rethink innovation ecosystems as drivers of regional competitiveness demonstrating the complex interactions between regional economic and social actors and their impact on regional competitiveness Further the book examines the role of entrepreneurship and innovation policies in different regions e g lagging regions rural regions etc and describes critical success factors in multi level technologies and innovation policies and strategies

Spatial Dynamics in the Experience Economy Anne Lorentzen, Karin Topsø Larsen, Lise Schrøder, 2015-05-22 This book explores the dynamics of place location and territories from the perspective of an experience based economy It offers a valuable contribution to this new approach and the planning and management challenges it faces This book emphasises three key avenues to understanding the experience economy First the book reconsiders innovation processes and the relationship between the consumption and production of experience value Second it considers emerging forms of governance related to experience based development in businesses and cities Third it examines the role of place as a value resource and outcome of experiential innovation and planning This book will be of interested to researchers concerned with urban and regional development

Knowledge Production in European Universities Kwiek Marek, 2012-11-23

The book studies transformations of European universities in the context of globalization and Europeanization the questioning of the foundations of the Golden Age of the Keynesian welfare state public sector reforms demographic changes the massification and diversification of higher education and the emergence of knowledge economies Such phenomena as academic entrepreneurialism and diversified channels of knowledge exchange in European universities are linked to transformations of the state and changes in public sector services The first contextual part of the book studies the changing state university relationships and the second empirically informed part draws from several recent large scale comparative European research projects

German Annual of Spatial Research and Policy 2009 Heiderose Kilper, 2009-09-18

Preface Introduction 1 Heiderose Kilper New Disparities in Spatial Development in Europe several topics are included in both the title and theme of the German Annual of Spatial Research and Policy for the Year 2009 We are first of all concerned with the concept of spatial disparities which has its roots in national spatial planning and spatial development policy Regional development as interregional equalisation policy for example is well anchored in the German constitution through fundamental legal standards and the division of powers among the respective federal states The establishment of uniform living conditions within the federal territory and securing the uniformity of living conditions beyond the borders of any single federal state Section 72 Paragraph 2 of German Basic Law GG are expressly specified as aims of government action in the constitution of the Federal Republic of Germany With the major reform of Germany's financial system in 1969 and incorporation of the joint task Improvement 1 of the Regional Economic Structure in Section 91a of German Basic Law GG interventions on the part of the federal government and the wealthy federal states for the benefit of states and regions with less economic success were legitimised in constitutional terms as well All of this would be inconceivable without the concept of spatial disparities Handbook of Industry Studies and Economic Geography Frank Giarratani, Geoffrey J. D.

Hewings, Philip McCann, 2013-12-27 This unique Handbook examines the impacts on and responses to economic geography explicitly from the perspective of the behaviour mechanics systems and experiences of different firms in various types of industries The industry studies approach all Business Process Management Michael Glykas, 2012-09-18 Business Process Management BPM has been in existence for decades It uses complements integrates and extends theories methods and tools from other scientific disciplines like strategic management information technology managerial accounting operations management etc During this period the main focus themes of researchers and professionals in BPM were business process modeling business process analysis activity based costing business process simulation performance measurement workflow management the link between information technology and BPM for process automation etc More recently the focus moved to subjects like Knowledge Management Enterprise Resource Planning ERP Systems Service Oriented Architectures SOAs Process Intelligence PI and even Social Networks In this collection of papers we present a review of the work and the outcomes achieved in the classic BPM fields as well as a deeper insight on recent advances in BPM We present a review of business process modeling and analysis and we elaborate on issues like business process quality and process performance measurement as well as their link to all other organizational aspects like human resources management strategy information technology being SOA PI or ERP other managerial systems job descriptions etc We also present recent advances to BPR tools with special focus on information technology workflow business process modeling and human resources management tools Other chapters elaborate on the aspect of business process and organizational costing and their relationship to business process analysis organizational change and reorganization In the final chapters we present some new approaches that use fuzzy cognitive maps and a recently developed software tool for scenario creation and simulation in strategic management business process management performance measurement and social networking The audience of this book is quite wide The first chapters can be read by professionals academics and students who want to get some basic insight into the BPM field whereas the remaining present more elaborate and state of the art concepts methodologies and tools for an audience of a more advanced level
