Retold Classic Myths: Theft of Persephone , 1990 Stories Of Classic Myths Retold From St. Nicholas Christopher Pearse Cranch, 1909 Stories Of Classic Myths Retold From St. Nicholas , 1909 The Classic Myths in English Literature and in Art Thomas Bulfinch, Charles Mills Gayley, 2023-10-20 In The Classic Myths in English Literature and in Art edited by Thomas Bulfinch and Charles Mills Gayley the reader is introduced to a meticulously curated anthology that explores the enduring allure and profound impact of classical myths on English literature and art Through a diverse array of literary styles the collection offers a comprehensive examination of how ancient myths have been reimagined and reinterpreted across different periods highlighting the transformative power of mythology in shaping cultural narratives The anthology stands out for its rich tapestry of perspectives weaving together seminal works that underscore the contemporaneous relevance of these age old stories This scholarly compilation benefits immensely from the diverse backgrounds of Thomas Bulfinch and Charles Mills Gayley whose collective expertise in mythology and literature provides an unparalleled insight into the interplay between myth and artistic expression Aligning with various historical and cultural movements their curation underscores the timeless nature of these myths demonstrating how classical stories have

continually adapted to reflect critique and influence societal values and human experiences across ages The Classic Myths in English Literature and in Art is an essential read for those intrigued by the symbiotic relationship between mythology literature and art It offers readers a unique portal to explore the myriad ways in which myth has permeated English literature and art fostering a deeper appreciation for the ingenuity with which these tales have been retold The anthology not only enriches ones understanding of literary and artistic tradition but also invites an engaging dialogue between the past and the present making it an invaluable resource for both scholars and enthusiasts alike Retold Stories, Untold Histories Joanna Ziarkowska, 2014-07-18 Retold Stories Untold Histories concentrates on how challenging questions concerning the nature of historical representation the formation of national ethnic identities and creative agendas are addressed in the diverse and inspiring writings of Maxine Hong Kingston and Leslie Marmon Silko The rationale behind juxtaposing two writers coming from diverse cultural contexts originates in the fact that both Kingston and Silko share the experience of historical and cultural marginalization and more importantly devise similar methods of rendering it in creative writing Writing from the perspective of two distinct marginalized groups Kingston and Silko share the view that the official version of national history may be seen as a narrative of misrepresentation and the exclusion of people who either greatly contributed to the building of the country or occupied the territory of the present United States long before its creation In their texts both writers engage in a polemic against a history that using its legitimizing power as a scientific discipline produces and perpetuates stereotypical images of Chinese and Native Americans and more importantly eliminates the two groups from the process of constructing the national narratives of origins that monitor and control the borders of what constitutes American identity Despite apparent differences in cultural and historical contexts Kingston and Silko share an enthusiasm for employing unconventional tools and sources for offering creative reconstructions of a past which had been silenced or repressed Stories from the Greek Myths Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh, 1912
