Early Medieval Monetary History Martin Allen, 2016-12-05 Mark Blackburn was one of the leading scholars of the numismatics and monetary history of the British Isles and Scandinavia during the early medieval period He published more than 200 books and articles on the subject and was instrumental in building bridges between numismatics and associated disciplines in fostering international communication and cooperation and in establishing initiatives to record new coin finds This memorial volume of essays commemorates Mark Blackburn s considerable achievement and impact on the field builds on his research and evaluates a vibrant period in the study of early medieval monetary history Containing a broad range of high quality research from both established figures and younger scholars the essays in this volume maintain a tight focus on Europe in the early Middle Ages 6th 12th centuries reflecting Mark s primary research interests In geographical terms the scope of the volume stretches from Spain to the Baltic with a concentration of papers on the British Isles As well as a fitting tribute to remarkable scholar the essays in this collection constitute a major body of research which will be of long term value to anyone with an interest in the history of early medieval Europe

The Emperor in the Byzantine World Shaun Tougher,2019-03-15 The subject of the emperor in the Byzantine world may seem likely to be a well studied topic but there is no book devoted to the emperor in general covering the span of the Byzantine empire Of course there are studies on individual emperors dynasties and aspects of the imperial office role but there remains no equivalent to Fergus Millar s The Emperor in the Roman World from which the proposed volume takes inspiration for its title and scope The oddity of a lack of a general study of the Byzantine emperor is compounded by the fact that a series of books devoted to Byzantine empresses was published in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Thus it is appropriate to turn the spotlight on the emperor Themes covered by the contributions include questions of dynasty and imperial families the imperial court and the emperor s men imperial duties and the emperor as ruler imperial literature the emperor as subject and author and the material emperor including imperial images and spaces The volume fills a need in the field and the market and also brings new and cutting edge approaches to the study of the Byzantine emperor Although the volume cannot hope to be a comprehensive treatment of the emperor in the Byzantine world it aims to cover a broad chronological and thematic span and to play a vital part in setting the agenda for future work The subject of the Byzantine emperor has also an obvious relevance for historians working on rulership in other cultures and periods

The Legionary Fortress at Wroxeter Graham Webster,2014-06-30 The Roman legionary fortress at Wroxeter Viroconium Cornoviorum was built on a strategic crossing point on the River Severn Though the site of the Roman town had long been known through the presence of upstanding ruins the major excavations reported here have shown how the town plan was dominated by the underlying fortress This fortress had been established by Legio XIV c AD 60 and had then been partially rebuilt c AD 66 when the legion was replaced by Legio XX The fortress was downgraded in the late 70s to become a depot for stores before final abandonment c AD 90 The excavations produced extensive evidence for the laying out and construction of the legionary earth and timber defences and of an area within the fortress to the north of the via praetorian where mess halls barrack blocks and a storehouse were found as well as considerable quantities of coins metalwork pottery and glass

Later Prehistoric Settlement in Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly: Evidence from Five Excavations Andy M Jones,Graeme Kirkham,2021-10-07 Later prehistoric settlement in Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly reports on the excavation between 1996 and 2014 of five later prehistoric and Roman period settlements All the sites were multi phased revealing similar and contrasting occupational patterns stretching from the Bronze Age into the Iron Age and beyond

Imperial College Sports Grounds and RMC Land, Harlington Andrew B. Powell, Alistair Barclay, Lorraine Mephram, Chris J. Stevens, 2016-02-16 This volume brings together the results from the excavations at the former Imperial College Sports Ground RMC Land and Land East of Wall Garden Farm near the villages of Harlington and Sipson in the London Borough of Hillingdon The excavations revealed parts of an archaeological landscape with a rich history of development from before 4000 BC to the post medieval period The opportunity to investigate two large areas of this landscape provided evidence for possible settlement continuity and shift over a period of 6000 years Early to Middle Neolithic occupation was represented by a rectangular ditched mortuary enclosure and a large spread of pits many containing deposits of Peterborough Ware pottery flint and charred plant remains A possible dispersed monument complex of three hengiform enclosures was associated with the rare remains of cremation burials radiocarbon dated to the Middle Neolithic Limited Late Neolithic and Early Bronze Age activity was identified which is in stark contrast to the Middle to Late Bronze Age when a formalized landscape of extensive rectangular fields enclosures wells and pits was established This major reorganized land division can be traced across the two sites and over large parts of the adjacent Heathrow terraces A small Iron Age and Romano British nucleated settlement was constructed with associated enclosures flanking a trackway There were wayside inhumations cremation burials and middens and more widely dispersed wells and quarries Two possible sunken featured buildings of early Saxon date were found There was also a small cemetery Subsequently a middle Saxon and medieval field system of small enclosures and wells was established

Medieval Manor House Rediscovered Simon Flaherty, Phil Andrews, Matt Leivers, 2016-12-31 Excavations in advance of housing development at Longforth Farm Wellington revealed limited evidence for late prehistoric settlement but the principal discovery was the remains of a previously unknown high status medieval building complex This is thought to have been a manor house and though heavily robbed key elements identified include a hall solar with garderobe and service wing A forecourt lay to the north and a service yard with at least one ancillary building and a possible detached kitchen to the south To the east was a complex of pits enclosure and field ditches and a pond ere was a restricted range and number of medieval finds but together these suggest that occupation spanned the late 11th or 12th century to probably the 14th century There was a notable group of medieval floor tiles and roof furniture but documentary research has failed to identify the owners and any records relating specifically to this important building One possibility is that it belonged to the Provost of Wells cathedral and was perhaps abandoned in the 14th century when the Bishops may have established their court within the nearby and then relatively new market town of Wellington

Embracing the Song of Phrase: An Mental Symphony within Roman Finds From Exeter

In a global used by screens and the ceaseless chatter of instant transmission, the melodic splendor and psychological symphony developed by the written word frequently fade in to the background, eclipsed by the relentless sound and disturbances that permeate our lives.
