Romantic Genesis Of The Modern Novel:

The Romantic Genesis of the Modern Novel Charles Schug, 1979 Visionary Closure In The Modern Novel William R Thickstun, 1988-03-29 Romanticism and Anthony Trollope L. J. Swingle, 1990 Examines Trollope in terms of Romantic literary art Joseph Conrad's Critical Reception John G. Peters, 2013-04-29 This book provides a comprehensive up to date history of the commentary written about the life and works of Joseph Conrad The Utopian Novel in America, 1886-1896 Jean Pfaelzer, 2010-11-23 In the late 1800s Americans flocked to cities immigration slums and unemployment burgeoned and America's role in foreign affairs grew This period also spawned a number of fictional glimpses into the future After the publication of Edward Bellamy's Looking Backward in 1888 there was an outpouring of utopian fantasy many of which promoted socialism while others presented refined versions of capitalism Jean Pfaelzer's study traces the impact of the utopian novel and the narrative structures of these sentimental romances She discusses progressive pastoral feminist and apocalyptic utopias as well as the genre's parodic counterpart the dystopia After Innocence Terry Otten, 2010-11-23 The fear of falling the awareness of lost innocence lost illusions lost hopes and intentions of civilization in decline these are the themes which link literature to theology both concerned with the shape of human destiny Otten discusses the continuing viability of the myth of the Fall in literature He relates a wide variety of romantic and modern works to fundamental issues in modern Christianity Henry James and the Ghostly T. J. Lustig, 2011-02-03 The importance of ghosts and liminal experience in general in the fiction of Henry James The Grand Continuum David A. White, 2010-11-23 The assumptions that literary criticism and philosophy are closely linked and that both disciplines can learn much from each other lead David White to examine key passages in James Joyce's novels both as a philosopher and as literary critic In so doing he develops a thesis that Joyce's attempt to capture the mysterious process whereby perception and consciousness are translated into language entails a fundamental challenge to everyday notions of reality Joyce's stylistic brilliance and virtuosity his destruction of normal syntax and meaning shock one into a new reality In the book's final section White examines the subtle relation between literary language and human consciousness and traces parallels between Joyce's stylistic experimentation and Wittgenstein's and Husserl's ideas about language Joyce, Bakhtin, and Popular Literature R. B. Kershner, 2014-02-01 The sheer mass of allusion to popular literature in the writings of James Joyce is daunting Using theories developed by Russian critic Mikhail Bakhtin R. B. Kershner analyzes how Joyce made use of popular literature in such early works as Stephen Hero Dubliners A Portrait of an Artist as a Young Man and Exiles Kershner also examines Joyce's use of rhetoric the relationship between narrator and protagonist and the interplay of voices whether personal literary or subliterary in Joyce's writing In pointing out the prolific allusions in Joyce to newspapers children's books popular novels and even pornography Kershner shows how each of these contributes to the structures of consciousness of Joyce's various characters all of whom write and rewrite themselves in terms of the texts they read in their youth He also investigates the intertextual role of many popular books to which Joyce alludes in his writings and letters or which he owned some well known others now obscure Kershner presents Joyce as a writer with a high degrees of social consciousness whose writings highlight the conflicting ideologies of the Irish bourgeoisie In exploring the social dimension of Joyce s writing he calls upon such important contemporary thinkers as Jameson Althusser Barthes and Lacan in addition to Bakhtin Joyce s literary response to his historical situation was not polemical Kershner argues but in Bakhtin s terms dialogical his writings represent an unremitting dialogue with the discordant but powerful voices of his day many inaudible to us now Joyce Bakhtin and Popular Literature places Joyce within the social and intellectual context of his time Through stylistic social and ideological analysis Kershner gives us a fuller grasp of the the complexity of Joyce s earlier writings

Exile as a Continuum in Joseph Conrad's Fiction Ludmilla Voithovska,2022-08-29 Joseph Conrad is famous for being an unusual strange and even eccentric English writer However despite his difference English criticism has primarily interpreted his fiction from the perspective of the English culture In turn Polish criticism has portrayed Conrad as a Pole who happened to write in English Considering Conrad s transcultural background neither exclusively English nor an exclusively Polish writer this volume investigates the essential features of his expatriate writing as a form distinctly different from any writing done within a single culture Conrad s unique contribution to English literature and sensibility stems from his ability to incorporate the complexity of the exilic condition without discussing it explicitly Furthermore this book establishes Conrad s expatriation archetypes and examines them as they manifest themselves not only in a realistic but more importantly in a symbolic mode Those archetypal features demonstrate themselves through Conrad s thematic choices narrative structure and critical discourse that reflect his complex relationship with both the parent and the adopted reader While the existence of these patterns in Conrad s fiction are not entirely obvious this book aims to illuminate Conrad s contributions to the current critical debate concerning the place of the author in his her own narrative

Politics, Ideology, and Literary

Discourse in Modern China Kang Liu, Xiaobing Tang, 1993-11-16 This collection of essays addresses the perception that our understanding of modern China will be enhanced by opening the literature of China to more rigorous theoretical and comparative study In doing so the book confronts the problematic and complex subject of China's literary theoretical and cultural responses to the experience of the modern With chapters by writers scholars and critics from mainland China Hong Kong and the United States this volume explores the complexity of representing modernity within the Chinese context Addressing the problem of finding a proper language for articulating fundamental issues in the historical experience of twentieth century China the authors critically re-examine notions of realism the self subject and modernity and draw on perspectives from feminist criticism ideological analysis and postmodern theory Among the many topics explored are subjectivity in Chinese cultural theory Chinese gender relations the viability of a Lacanian approach to Chinese identity the politics of subversion in Chinese reportage and the ambivalent status of the icon of paternity since Mao At the same time this book offers a probing look into the transformation that Chinese culture as well as the study of that culture is currently undergoing it also reconfirms private discourse as an ideal site for an investigation into a real and imaginary private and collective encounter with history Contributors Liu Kang Xiaobing Tang Liu Zaifu Stephen Chan Lydia H Liu Wendy Larson Theodore Hutters David Wang Tonglin Lu Yingjin Zhang Yuejin Wang Li Tuo Leo Ou fan Lee

Fictionality and Reality in Narrative Discourse Li-fen Chen, 2000-01-20 This dissertation is an attempt to define a Chinese modernism exemplified by the narrative practices of four major writers in Taiwan today from the perspective of comparative literature and recent development of literary theory I propose that modernity of Taiwanese fiction is not so much a result of Western influences as an evolution of Chinese narrative tradition itself To argue my point I delineate a poetics of Chinese narrative from which I devise a method of reading and a criterion of evaluation for contemporary Taiwanese fiction in defining its achievement and historical significance This study of Taiwanese fiction also aims at providing a better understanding of fundamental aesthetic assumptions of Western modernism in the context of its own literary tradition Chapter One Introduction investigates the theoretical foundation and its line of development in Western and Chinese poetics respectively It first examines the Platonic view of mimesis and Aristotelian aesthetic view of fictionality and their influence on the critical tradition the continuity of the ancient battle between philosophy and poetry as seen in the structuralist and deconstructionist theories then the relationship between subjective fictionality and ironic objectivity in Chinese poetics the continuity of the dilemma in the Chinese novelists in their dual allegiance to the ideal and the real A final section gives a critical overview of the literary scene in Taiwan The following four chapters provide examples of the internal tension between fictionality and ironic awareness in the Taiwanese modernist texts I suggest that instead of stretching the metaphorical potential of fiction to a highly intellectualized abstraction or playing down the interpretive claims of fiction by dramatizing its vulnerability like their Western counterpart the Taiwanese modernists create their texts on the borderline between the high and the low Self assertive as well as self denying each of them confronts his own intellectual vision with paradox and ambivalence In Ch en Ying chen this is expressed as a battle between a lyrical vision of ideological values and an instinctive self clowning in Ch i teng Sheng as a form of competition between pattern and contingency in Wang Chen ho as a celebration and abuse of the fictionality of fiction and in Wang Wen hsing an intense self parody I conclude that the sensitivity to the irrational and contradiction inherent with a resistance to didacticism constitutes the best part of the Chinese humanistic tradition which is continuously enriched with new dimensions by the contemporary Taiwanese writers

The Russian Hero in Modern Chinese Fiction Mau-sang Ng, 1988-01-01 The Russian influence took root in the Chinese intellectual tradition that evolved after the Literary Revolution of 1917 When the Chinese communists turned to Russia for their inspiration they also accepted the Russian version of the novel s form and function in society However they did not accept it uncritically Chinese understanding of the arts goes back for thousands of years and thus Chinese intellectuals brought their own kinds of tradition and intelligence to these new arts and political solutions In this lucid study the author demonstrates how Chinese writers guided by Russian authors such as Chekhov Turgenev and Andreyev created works of art that are both original and Chinese However he also shows that the familiar heroes of such famous novelists as Lu Xun Yu Dafu Mao Dun and Ba Jin have a strong Russian flavor linked to prototypes in the Russian literary tradition The author depicts the fortune of Soviet literature and the fate of the intellectual hero in the People s Republic of China He believes that the humanistic May Fourth intellectual tradition which inspired enthusiasm for classical Russian literature has been revived with the publication of works like Dai Houying's Man ah Man and Zhao Zhenkai's Waves English Literary History and Bibliography John Gerard O'Leary,1928 A Mirror for Americanists William C. Spengemann,1989 In the Hollow of the Wave Bonnie Kime Scott,2012-05-23 Examining the writings and life of Virginia Woolf In the Hollow of the Wave looks at how Woolf treated nature as a deliberate discourse that shaped her way of thinking about the self and the environment and her strategies for challenging the imbalances of power in her own culture all of which remain valuable in the framing of our discourse about nature today Bonnie Kime Scott explores Woolf's uses of nature including her satire of scientific professionals and amateurs her parodies of the imperial conquest of land her representations of flora and fauna her application of post impressionist and modernist modes her merging of characters with the environment and her ventures across the species barrier In shedding light on this discourse of Woolf and the natural world Scott brings to our attention a critical neglected and contested aspect of modernism itself She relies on feminist ecofeminist and postcolonial theory in the process drawing also on the relatively recent field of animal studies By focusing on multiple registers of Woolf's uses of nature the author paves the way for more extended research in modernist practices natural history garden and landscape studies and lesbian queer studies The Metafictional Muse Larry McCaffery,2010-10-12 McCaffery interprets the works of three major writers of radically experimental fiction Robert Coover Donald Barthelme and William H Gass The term metafiction here refers to a strain in American writing where the self conscious approach to the art of fiction making is a commentary on the nature of meaning itself
