secondary sources Historical Dictionary of Leonard Bernstein Paul R. Laird, Hsun Lin, 2019-07-31 Leonard Bernstein is one of the most significant musicians in the history of the United States. He was the first conductor born in the United States and trained exclusively in his home country to develop an international profile. Most famous as music director of the New York Philharmonic from 1958 to 1969, Bernstein spent far longer as a guest conductor who developed substantive relationships with several major ensembles. He was a composer-conductor and has made significant contributions as a composer of concert music and scores for musical theater. He was also an excellent pianist, well known for playing piano concertos while he directed the ensemble from the keyboard. Few 20th-century American composers have made such important contributions in each of the areas of symphonic music, ballets, and musical theater. Historical Dictionary of Leonard Bernstein contains a chronology, an introduction, an appendix, an extensive bibliography, and more than 700 cross-referenced entries on Bernstein's life and works. This book is an excellent resource for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about Leonard Bernstein. A Basic Classical and Operatic Recordings Collection on Compact Discs for Libraries Kenyon C. Rosenberg, 1990. Lists classical and operatic recordings that are specifically available in the new and desirable compact disc format. Individual titles are graded for their appropriateness to specific types and sizes of libraries. The main portion covers some 160 composers whose works are important in constituting a nuclear library collection of serious music. There are over 1,200 titles included and individually numbered and fully cross-referenced and graded. For numerous works, two or more performances are cited in order to provide the librarian with greater choices. Monophonic works are specifically indicated. Many of the works are annotated. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Portland, OR. School of Music Programs University of Michigan. School of Music, 1994. Songwriters of the American Musical Theatre Nathan Hurwitz, 2016-09-01. From the favorites of Tin Pan Alley to today's international blockbusters, the stylistic range required of a musical theatre performer is expansive. Musical theatre roles require the ability to adapt to a panoply of characters and vocal styles. By breaking down these styles and exploring the output of the great composers, Songwriters of the American Musical Theatre offers singers and performers an essential guide to the modern musical. Composers from Gilbert and Sullivan and Irving Berlin to Alain Boublil and Andrew Lloyd Webber are examined through a brief biography, a stylistic overview, and a comprehensive song list with notes on suitable voice types and further reading. This volume runs the gamut of modern musical theatre from English light opera through the American Golden Age up to the mega-musicals of the late Twentieth Century, giving today's students and performers an indispensable survey of their craft.
