Rosa Caramelo:

Literacy Across Languages and Cultures Bernardo M. Ferdman, Rose-Marie Weber, Arnulfo G. Ramirez, 1994-03-08 This book examines the linkage between literacy and linguistic diversity embedding them in their social and cultural contexts. It illustrates that a more complete understanding of literacy among diverse populations and in multicultural societies requires attention to issues of literacy per se as well as to improving an educational process that has relevance beyond members of majority cultures and linguistic groups. The focus of the book is on the social and cultural contexts in which literacy develops and is enacted with an emphasis on the North American situation. Educators and researchers are discovering that cognitive approaches while very valuable are insufficient by themselves to answer important questions about literacy in heterogeneous societies. By considering the implications of family, school, culture, society, and nation for literary processes, the book answers the following questions: In a multi-ethnic context, what does it mean to be literate? What are the processes involved in becoming and being literate in a second language? In what ways is literacy in a second language similar and in what ways is it different from mother tongue literacy? What factors must be understood to better describe and facilitate literacy acquisition among members of ethnic and linguistic minorities? What are some current approaches that are being used to accomplish this? These are vital questions for researchers and educators in a world that has a large number of immigrants, a variety of multi-ethnic and multi-lingual societies, and an increasing degree of multinational activity. Beyond addressing applied concerns, attending to these questions can provide new insights into basic aspects of literacy. Filosofía para la infancia, 2006

Protean Literacy Concha Delgado-Gaitan, 2017-11-22 Originally published in 1996. During the author's decade of critical ethnography in Carpinteria, California, she has illuminated the intricate relationships between Latino families as together they build a sociopolitical community to bridge family and school alliances. How they extend their learning from the social networks to the family arena and to the personal and in reverse represents their protean responses to the diversity and adversity in their lives. This life story captures the collective and individual texts of the Latino children, their parents, and educators used to empower themselves to transform discontinuity in an age where continuity is increasingly foreign. Con los pies en la Tierra. Material para el análisis de la realidad desde grupos de base Paloma Jimena Medina, 2002 The Power of Community Concha Delgado-Gaitan, 2001-11-13 Fifteen years ago Concha Delgado Gaitan began literacy research in Carpinteria, California. At that time Mexican immigrants who labored in nurseries, factories, and housekeeping had almost no voice in how their children were educated. Committed to participative research, Delgado Gaitan collaborated with the community to connect family, school, and community. Regular community gatherings gave birth to the ComitZ de Padres Latinos. Refusing the role of the victim, the ComitZ participants organized to reach out to everyone in the community, not just other Latino families. Bound by their language, cultural history, hard work, respect, pain, and hope, they created possibilities that supported the learning of Latino students who until then had too often dropped out or shown scant interest in school. In a society that accentuates individualism and independence these men and women look to their community for leadership support and resources for children The Power of Community is a critical work that shows how communities that pull together and offer caring ears eyes and hands can ensure that their children thrive academically socially and personally It offers a fresh approach and workable solution to the problems that face schools today Plurales, A course on gender equality ,2014
