Long Range Plan For The Federal Courts:

Proposed Long Range Plan for the Federal Courts Judicial Conference of the United States. Committee on Long Range Planning, 1994    The Third Branch , 1991    Judicial Politics in the D.C. Circuit Court Christopher P. Banks, 1999 In this new book political scientist Christopher Banks explains that this unique role evolved largely as a result of the politics of the nation's capital. Because there are few books on circuit courts and their impact upon national politics and law Judicial Politics in the D C Circuit Court will be a welcome addition to the literature. It is a book for political scientists, legal scholars, and students. BOOK JACKET    Congress and Crime Joseph F. Zimmerman, 2014-08-06 Congress in the latter part of the nineteenth century decided to enact a series of statutes facilitating state enforcement of their respective criminal laws. Subsequently, Congress enacted statutes federalizing what had been solely state crimes, thereby establishing federal court and state court concurrent jurisdiction over these crimes. Federalization of state crimes has been criticized by numerous scholars, U S Supreme Court justices, and national organizations. Such federalization has congested the calendars of the U S District Court and the U S Court of Appeals, leading to delays in civil cases because of the Speedy Trial Act that vacates a criminal indictment if a trial is not commenced within a specific number of days, resulted in overcrowded U S penitentiaries, and raises the issue of double jeopardy that is prohibited by the Fifth Amendment to the U S Constitution and the constitution of each state. This book examines the impact of federalization of state crime and draws conclusions regarding its desirability. It also offers recommendations directed to Congress and the President, one recommendation direct to state legislatures for remedial actions to reduce the undesirable effects of federalized state crimes, and one recommendation that Congress and all states enter into a federal interstate criminal suppression compact.    Proposed Long Range Plan for the Federal Courts Judicial Conference of the United States.
