What We Have Lost Robert Lee, When the hen lays her eggs the shells are soft and pliable forming their durable armour as they experience the outside world Each of us enters the world with similarly flawed and weak shells Our shells are not broken and cracked by life but are formed of the fragments that we encounter piece by piece growing more complete with each experience What We Have Lost is a series of disconnected but closely related anecdotes in the lives of a family shaped by extreme poverty These individual narratives chronicle the slow sculpting of the characters as they fuse with their world enveloped in mental illness Molded by their mother s paranoia social isolation and obsessive drive to instill the hunger for learning and sense of duty to others the four siblings evolve in unique and often pathological ways Not knowing or understanding the bonds of familial love Garry Judy Rob and Roger need to discover their own path to personal peace None may make it What We Have Lost exposes the cruelty of poverty It opens up the heart of that world in surprising and convoluted ways The pathos is clear the hidden pleasures need unearthing What We Have Lost is a collection of anecdotes but as you read you will find that they are far from disconnected after all Just a Bit Touched Roy

Holland,2000-12 The title for this volume was suggested by a remark of the narrator in the opening paragraph of the first story The Arcadian They re just a bit touched bonkers like While the characters might appear a bit touched each tale is touched by its own perspective since each reflects the point of view of its unique narrator So often the England of the Thirties or Forties is seen through the eyes of a child so that Dickens like the foibles and characteristics of the adult world appear larger than life These early stories are interesting too for the historical perspective they give us of an Andy Capp industrial society long since gone There are other stories written from the perspective of the Fifties the two stories dealing with motor cars The Efelant and Egging on add a more amusing perspective of a time when petrol was dear and neighbours more than a bit touched by curiosity The stories written in Africa with its latent social change Victims for instance add a more violent perspective though hilarity is introduced by the expatriot in It Was A Very Sad Case who seems more than a bit touched by his paranoia The author has written a quartette of stories the other three titles of the quartette being News from Parched Mountain Tales from the Karoo in the new South Africa Flakes of Dark and Light Tales From Southern Africa and Elsewhere and Pivot of Violence Tales from the new South Africa All make a very vivid and lasting impression
