The University of Louisville Dwayne D. Cox,William J. Morison,2014-10-17 Dwayne Cox and William Morison trace the twists and turns of the University of Louisville s two hundred year journey from provincial academy to national powerhouse From the 1798 charter that established Jefferson Seminary to the 1998 opening of Papa John Stadium Cox and Morison reveal the unique and fascinating history of the university's evolution. They discuss the early failures to establish a liberal arts college, tell the extraordinary story of the Louisville Municipal College U of L's separate division for African Americans during the era of segregation, detail the political wrangling and budgetary struggles of the university's move from quasi-private to state-supported institution, and confront head-on the question of the university's founding date. The history of the University of Louisville defies the stereotype of orderly and planned growth. For many years the university was essentially a consortium of two professional schools: medicine and law. Not until the first decade of the twentieth century did the liberal arts gain a firm and permanent foothold. Because of its early emphasis on practical professional education and the virtual autonomy of its separate units for many years, the University of Louisville is unusual in the annals of higher education. Cumulated Index

God & Money Charles McDaniel, 2007 God & Money confronts the current dominant right-wing Republican evangelical Christian view that unfettered market-driven capitalism and Christian faith and values are compatible. Drawing on such ethical luminaries as Reinhold Niebuhr, G. K. Chesterton, Peter Berger, and John Paul II, author Charles McDaniel shows that to reverse the current decline in public morality, capitalism must be balanced by enduring religious and moral values.

Challenging the captivity of Christian culture by free market global capitalism, McDaniel joins other Christian ethical visionaries in advocating a redemptive economy, one that champions individual human dignity, true community, and the moral regeneration of cultural traditions in vital dialectic with the inevitable market capitalism of the contemporary world. The

Canada Medical Record, 1882 Steven J. Taylor, 2021-07-26 A tribute to the influence of one of the intellectual forbearers of Disability Studies in Education (DSE), this collection of six essays honors the scholar and activist Steven J. Taylor. The Centennial Professor of Disability Studies and director of the Center on Human Policy at the Syracuse University School of Education, was recognized internationally for his enduring commitment to disability policy advocacy and the meaningful inclusion of people with disabilities throughout society. His research, teaching, and scholarship shaped our understanding of disability through a sociological lens honed over decades of enquiry that trace back from his early work on deinstitutionalization and to the present disability trends and controversies. Taylor made clear how we socially construct humanness belonging community and care in much the same way we construct deviance and stigma Steven J Taylor Blue man Living in a Red World provides insight into the theoretical grounding that has fueled DSE research and scholarship for decades You will also find opportunities for personal reflection about how one might find Taylor s work intrinsic to current efforts to challenge the persistent segregation and mistreatment of people labeled with intellectual or developmental disabilities As the third volume in this series that is devoted to unraveling and better understanding the evolution of thought among those recognized as the early voices and critical leaders who laid the foundation for disability studies in education the contributors to this text reexamine the impact of Taylor s scholarship on their own thinking teaching academic and civic activities These essays will help you discover that Taylor continues his mentorship of those who ascribe to DSE tenets and more importantly encourages each of us to use our positions to influence the next generation of disability activists and scholars Contributors are Julie Allan Jennifer Randhare Ashton Elisabeth De Schauwer Cheryl M Jorgensen Nancy Rice Janet Story Sauer Ashley Taylor Geert Van Hove and Linda Ware
