Nationalism In Southeast Asia:

Nationalism in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling, 2004-08-02 Nationalism in Southeast Asia seeks a definition of nationalism through examining its role in the history of southeast Asia a region rarely included in general books on the topic By developing such a definition and testing it out Tarling hopes at the same time to make a contribution to southeast Asian historiography and to limit its ghettoization Tarling considers the role of nationalism in the nation building of the post colonial phase and its relationship both with the democratic aspirations associated with the winning of independence and with the authoritarianism of the closing decades of the 20th century Religion and Nationalism in Southeast Asia Joseph Chinyong Liow, 2016-08-19 Religion and nationalism are two of the most potent and enduring forces that have shaped the modern world Yet there has been little systematic study of how these two forces have interacted to provide powerful impetus for mobilization in Southeast Asia a region where religious identities are as strong as nationalist impulses At the heart of many religious conflicts in Southeast Asia lies competing conceptions of nation and nationhood identity and belonging and loyalty and legitimacy In this accessible and timely study Joseph Liow examines the ways in which religious identity nourishes collective consciousness of a people who see themselves as a nation perhaps even as a constituent part of a nation but anchored in shared faith Drawing on case studies from across the region Liow argues that this serves both as a vital element of identity and a means through which issues of rights and legitimacy are understood Nationalism and Cultural Revival in Southeast Asia Sri Kuhnt-Saptodewo, Volker Grabowsky, Martin Grossheim, 1997 Government and Nationalism in Southeast Asia Virginia Thompson, 1942 Government and Nationalism in Southeast Asia Rupert Emerson, Lennox Algernon Mills, Virginia Thompson, 1974 The Spectre of Comparisons Benedict Anderson, 1998-09-17 The Spectre of Comparisons contains important theoretical and historical considerations about the nature of nationalism the prospects for the Left in the so called New World Disorder Underdevelopment and Economic Nationalism in Southeast Asia Frank H. Golay, 1969 Government and Nationalism in Southeast Asia Rupert Emerson, 1942 A Modern History of Southeast Asia Clive J. Christie, 1996 This book considers the overall decolonization of Southeast Asia and shows how despite the great diversity of the region issues of identity religion and loyalism affected the newly formed nation states in remarkably similar ways State and Sub-State Nationalism in Southeast Asia Jacques Bertrand, 2024-12-31 Nationalism is a political phenomenon with deep roots in Southeast Asia Yet state attempts to create homogenous nations met with resistance This Element focuses on understanding the rise and subsequent ebbing of sub state nationalist mobilization in response to state nationalism Two factors allowed sub state nationalist movements to be formed and persist first state nationalisms that were insufficiently inclusive second the state s use of authoritarian tools to implement its nationalist agenda But Southeast Asian states were able to reduce sub state nationalist mobilization when they changed their policies to meet two conditions i some degree of explicit recognition of the distinctiveness of groups ii institutional flexibility toward regional local territorial units to accommodate a high degree of group self governance The Element focuses on four states in the region namely Indonesia the Philippines Thailand and Myanmar

Government and Nationalism in Southeast Asia Rupert Emerson,1966 A History of Modern Southeast Asia John Sturgis Bastin,Harry Jindrich Benda,1977

Imperial Policy and Southeast Asian Nationalism Hans Antlov,Stein Tonnesson,2013-10-08 Traditionally the tumultuous period 1930 50 in South East Asia has been viewed as a dichotomy of European vs Asian or imperialist vs nationalist This highly acclaimed volume presents another triangular perspective and challenges established wisdom about the period

Government and Nationalism in Southeast Asia Rupert Emerson,1976 Women in Southeast Asian Nationalist Movements Susan Blackburn,Helen Ting,2013-07-31

Books on Southeast Asian nationalist movements make very little if any mention of women in their ranks Biographical studies of politically active women in Southeast Asia are also rare Women in Southeast Asian Nationalist Movements makes a strong case for the significance of women s involvement in nationalist movements and for the diverse impact of those movements on the lives of individual women activists Some of the 12 women whose political activities are discussed in this volume are well known while others are not Some of them participated in armed struggles while others pursued peaceful ways of achieving national independence The authors show women negotiating their own subjectivity and agency at the confluence of colonialism patriarchal traditions and modern ideals of national and personal emancipation They also illustrate the constraints imposed on them by wider social and political structures and show what it was like to live as a political activist in different times and places Fully documented and drawing on wider scholarship this book will be of interest to students of Southeast Asian history and politics as well as readers with a particular interest in women nationalism and political activism

Nation-building Gungwu Wang,2005 Addressing questions such as how should historians treat the earlier pasts of each country and the nationalism that guided the nation building tasks this book tries to put them not only in the perspective of Southeast Asian developments of the past five decades but also the larger areas of historiography

Regionalism in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling,2006-09-27 This innovative text provides the reader with an historical analysis of Southeast Asia from the unusual perspective of regionalism

Nations and States in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling,1998-05-13 This reflective and provocative 1998 book outlines the emergence of the nation states of modern Southeast Asia It considers various ways of looking at Southeast Asian history combining narrative analysis and discussion The book focuses mainly on the period from the eighteenth century to the present It is divided into three sections the first gives a broad historical overview of Indonesia Malaysia Singapore Brunei the Philippines Burma Myanmar Vietnam and Siam Thailand the second reflects in a comparative context on significant problems in understanding Southeast Asia s past and present the third explores the current state of writing Southeast Asian history Underlying the discussion is an awareness of how ongoing tensions between East and West shape history and frame the present This book reflects a lifetime s scholarship and will become a major interpretive synthesis of modern Southeast Asia Southeast Asia and the Great Powers Nicholas Tarling, 2013-06-17 Southeast Asia has on the basis of the nation state secured both a large measure of interstate peace and cooperation and a degree of autonomy from great powers outside the region ASEAN both represents that position and promotes it But it also depends on the attitude of the great powers The Spectre of Comparisons , 2000
