Handbook of Public Policy Implementation Fritz Sager, Céline Mavrot, Lael R. Keiser, 2024-07-05 In this comprehensive Handbook international experts examine theoretical and empirical research to analyse a core element of the public policy process implementation Traversing numerous sub disciplines and traditions including top down and bottom up approaches to public policy implementation research the chapters present a synthesis of the state of scholarship and stimulate future thinking in the field

Policy Analysis in the Twenty-First Century Beryl Radin, 2019-05-16 The field called policy analysis focused originally on the formulation of new policies and was structured to give advice to those in the top reaches of government agencies Within several decades the field moved beyond the formulation stage of the policy process creating new policies to agenda setting implementation and evaluation of existing policies New skill sets emerged and staff were found in many parts of the policy world Despite these changes there has been little attention paid to the possible shifts in the relationship between analysts and clients and students of policy analysis often enter the world of work with little exposure to the situations they might face Policy Analysis in the Twenty First Century is designed to familiarize students with the diversity of experiences that they can expect to face in their practitioner role Author Beryl Radin bases the discussion on case studies that illustrate realities in the current policy analysis environment Set in very different environments including both US and international settings the players in the cases illustrate three different stages of a career beginning the career mid career and people at the end of their career The cases are based on realistic situations and demonstrate the volatility and complexity of the decision environments At the same time they provide attention to the analysts personal values and career goals This book will be required reading for faculty and masters level students in both public management and policy analysis classes It may also be used in executive programs

Handbook of Research Methods and Applications in Comparative Policy Analysis B. Guy Peters, Guillaume Fontaine, 2020-04-24 Public policy research has become increasingly comparative over the past several decades but the methodological issues involved in this research have not been discussed adequately This Handbook provides a discussion of the fundamental methodological issues in comparative policy research as well as descriptions and analyses of major techniques used for that research The techniques discussed are both quantitative and qualitative and all are embedded in the broader discussion of comparative research design

Policy Sectors in Comparative Policy Analysis Studies Iris Geva-May, B. Guy Peters, Joselyn Muhleisen, 2020-06-09 Volume Four of the Classics of Comparative Policy Analysis Policy Sectors in Comparative Policy Analysis Studies contains chapters concerned with comparison within disciplinary policy sectors The volume contains detailed analyses of policies within six major policy sectors and illustrates the important differences that exist across policies healthcare environment education social welfare immigration and science and technology The reader will find some common aspects and dimensions theoretical or methodological across all policy domains as well as differences dictated by the characteristics of the discipline or the locus in which the policy point at issue takes place Indeed some scholars have argued that the differences and similarities that exist across and within policy sectors can transcend the differences or similarities across political systems Policy Sectors in Comparative Policy Analysis Studies will be of great interest to scholars and learners of public policy and social sciences as well as to practitioners considering what can be reliably contextualized learned facilitated or avoided through lesson drawing The chapters were originally published as articles in the Journal of Comparative Policy Analysis which in the last two decades has pioneered the development of comparative public policy The volume is part of a four volume series the Classics of Comparative Policy Analysis including Theories and Methods Institutions and Governance Regional Comparisons and Policy Sectors Each volume showcases a different new chapter comparing domains of study interrelated with comparative public policy political science public administration governance and policy design authored by the JCPA authored by the JCPA co editors Giliberto Capano Michael Howlett Leslie A Pal and B Guy Peters

Institutions and Governance in Comparative Policy Analysis Studies Iris Geva-May, B. Guy Peters, Joselyn Muhleisen, 2020-06-09 Volume Two of the Classics of Comparative Policy Analysis contains chapters concerned with Institutions and Governance in Comparative Policy Analysis Studies They highlight that at the core of any policy making the different institutions and modes of governance have a significant effect Questions about the impact of governance have become more central to comparative policy analysis as scholars have given more attention to globalization organizational cultural differences policy learning transfer and diffusion The chapters included in this volume tackle the nature of policies and policy analytic practices within and across organizations actors and institutions as well as among governance modes The chapters demonstrate the ways in which institutions and governance in the public and private sectors shape policies and conversely how policy choices can shape the institutions associated with them Other chapters focus on how the diffusion of knowledge and lesson drawing address challenges of policy making cooperation and harmonization Institutions and Governance in Comparative Policy Analysis Studies will be of great interest to scholars and learners of public policy and social sciences as well as to practitioners considering what can be reliably contextualized learned facilitated or avoided given their own institutional or governance systems The chapters were originally published as articles in the Journal of Comparative Policy Analysis which in the last two decades has pioneered the development of comparative public policy The volume is part of a four volume series the Classics of Comparative Policy Analysis including Theories and Methods Institutions and Governance Regional Comparisons and Policy Sectors Each volume also showcases a new chapter comparing interrelated domains of study with comparative public policy political science public administration governance and policy design authored by JCPA co editors Giliberto Capano Iris Geva May Michael Howlett Leslie Pal and B Guy Peters

Plan Prediction Ray Wyatt, 2016-11-19 This book develops an innovative system in the form of an app that harnesses the power of the internet to predict which sorts of people will prefer which policy in ANY planning situation It chronicles the accumulated research wisdom behind the system s reasoning along with several less successful approaches to policy making that have been found wanting in the past including the myth usually peddled by strategic planners that it is possible to find a best plan which optimally satisfies everybody The book lays out an entirely new kind of Planning Support System PSS It will facilitate decision making that is far more community sensitive than previously and it will drastically improve the performance of anyone who needs to plan within socially sensitive contexts which is all of us A standout feature of the system is its commitment to scientific rigour as shown by its predicted plan scores always being graphically presented within error margins so that true statistical significance is instantly observable Moreover the probabilities that its predictions are correct are always shown a refreshing change from most if not all other Decision Support Systems DSS that simply expect users to accept their outputs on faith alone

East Asia, Peacekeeping Operations, and Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster Relief Catherine Jones, Garren Mulloy, 2021-11-29 Focusing on East Asia this collection explores the paradox of functional regional cooperation in the areas of humanitarian assistance disaster relief and UN Peacekeeping operations in a context of increasing regional tensions and threats East Asia comprising the states of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and China Japan the Republic of Korea and the Democratic People s Republic of Korea is facing a range of human traditional climate and ideational threats In addressing some of these threats particularly those arising from climate induced disasters this region has been able to develop some ad hoc cooperative practices that according to functional logics of regional integration could lead to longer term sustained coordinated responses and even regional partnerships Similarly the region is increasingly contributing to UN peacekeeping operations where these states also cooperate in the context of an UN led mission Yet despite the potential for these interactions to lead to greater regional integration and coordinated action in responding to a range of security threats these interactions are increasingly taking place in a context of animosity both between regional powers and with extra regional powers This edited collection explores these functional interactions and posits conclusions about the potential for longer term sustained coordinated action These papers engage with a range of theoretical approaches in explaining the patterns of relations that are present in the region in relation to humanitarian assistance disaster relief and UN peacekeeping operations The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Australian Journal of International Affairs
