Lady Rena who dresses in Victorian costumes and speaks with a British accent lives alone except for six cats, her redoubtable housekeeper Marcella and Dr Corbeau a graduate of Duke Medical School who enjoys playing a stoic butler. Not a single resident in the coastal rural community of Williston has seen Lady Rena leave her house in the last thirty years but Lady Rena has one confidant Harry Wade a neighbor who lives down the lane with his wife and faithfully visits Lady Rena. But when Marcella's son suddenly dies under suspicious circumstances and then Marcella disappears without a trace Harry, his wife Rosemary and a sheriff's deputy become embroiled not only in an intriguing murder case but also find themselves facing specters from the past. In this lively tongue-in-cheek murder mystery someone or something is harboring a secret in Williston and it is up to the motley crew of detectives to find out what it is.

The City Cultures Reader Malcolm Miles, Tim Hall, Iain Borden, 2004 Cities are products of culture and sites where culture is made. By presenting the best of classic and contemporary writing on the culture of cities this reader provides an overview of the diverse material on the interface between cities and culture. Lost Beyond Telling Richard Howard Stamelman, 1990 In seeking to give voice to absent things or lost experiences Richard Stamelman says modern poetry attempts to give absence a shape. Loss in his view is both the cause and the subject of the modern poem. Fittingly in Lost beyond Telling he formulates and develops what he calls a poetics of loss with which he frames his treatment of modern French poetry. French News, 1963 Nonprofits as Policy Solutions to the Burden of Government Herrington J. Bryce, 2017-01-23 This book addresses a specific subset of nonprofits that are chartered with a single mission: decrease the burden of government. Designing and engaging nonprofits to lessen the burden of government requires a specific description and acknowledgement of the burden to be lessened and these may include the provision of infrastructure, the relief of debt or the provision of general public services that are not motivated by charity. It also requires the assignment of specific operating powers to the nonprofit including the power of eminent domain. This book explores these and other related topics including the avoidance of resource dependence on government when attempting to reduce its burden. The book is addressed to the policy makers and rule makers who design policies that affect the ability of the nonprofit to effectively lessen the burden of government. It is also addressed to public administrators in search of innovative ways of implementing these policies consistent with the laws and to the creative nonprofit managers who are charged with carrying out the mission often in collaboration with the government or other entities To the advanced student in all related fields the author offers not only material for discussion but enables discovery of what is possible by giving key examples of organizations meeting the terms and objective of lessening a significant burden of government
