The sun was creeping just below the mountains when the car suddenly stopped. "I know I should have filled up this morning!", Mum said to herself in frustration. She clapped her hands on the wheel and went very quiet. Mum and Pat got out and pushed the car safely to the side of the road and sat and pushed the car safely to the side of the road and looked around. There was nothing but desert and distant mountains. Not a car in sight. Later, a cold wind started and they both got back in. The sun had disappeared. A few hours went by when Pat finally spotted headlights. Mum was surprised to see the type of car that stopped for them. The driver raised their car up off the ground. Mum and Pat climbed into the truck and were driven to the next town.

Nina perked over her shoulder. She could see dark and heavy clouds creeping towards her. Suddenly, she could hear the trees howling and dancing from side to side. Nina made sure her beanie was firmly on her head before she continued. She pedalled as fast as she could and did not look back. Nina was almost home. All she had to do was cross the bridge and make the long and slow ride up James Street. Her legs were starting to slow down when suddenly she felt her beanie being pulled off her head, before flying across the bridge. The dark cloud was now above her and she felt a cold drop land on her arm.

Thomas,Brown H. Carpenter,2001-08-30 The future of mass media may appear unpredictable and too complex to fathom but Mass Media in 2025 takes a scholarly theoretical approach to identifying trends and explaining their possibilities. Noted contributors approach a variety of media with a solid grounding in the history of each and an eye for which may be vulnerable and which may thrive in the new technological age. Trends such as interactivity and niche building will affect everything from the newspaper to public relations and this collection of essays provides a fascinating guide to where the next decades may take us. Regardless of the visual, aural or printed form, Mass Media in 2025 illustrates the degree to which older media will have to incorporate the level of interaction and specialization offered by newer media if they are to survive. These effects can already be seen in the proliferation of television channels, in the ironic bent of advertising, in the rise of infotainment in news organizations. This book shows not only how all of this has come to be but also more importantly where it will go.

Leadership for Increasingly Diverse Schools George Theoharis, Martin Scanlan, 2020-10-12. The second edition of Leadership for Increasingly Diverse Schools helps both practicing and aspiring school leaders deepen their knowledge, skills, and dispositions to create schools that best serve all students. This book helps readers sharpen their awareness of how students' multiple dimensions of diversity intersect as well as develop strategies for working with students of all socioeconomic statuses, races, religions, sexual orientations, languages, and special needs. Leadership for Increasingly Diverse Schools provides school leaders with the theory, research, and practical guidance to foster teaching and learning environments that promote educational equity and excellence for all students.

Special features: Each chapter focuses on a specific dimension of diversity and discusses intersectionality across other areas of difference, including ability, disability, linguistic diversity, race, socioeconomic status, sexual orientation, gender, religion, and social frontiers. Chapters synthesize literature, share practical strategies, and tools include school level and district level cases illustrating inclusive leadership and provide extended learning opportunities.
