Beyond Words Wendy Harding, Jacky Martin, 2009-03-26

This is a book about reading or rather about the moment when the usual frames of interpretation no longer apply. That is where the Othering Excursion begins. Through disruptive forms of rhetoric writers discard the structures and norms of the cultural system and use the disorders thus created to suggest what lies beyond it. Cultivating distortion, conceptual blocks and chaotic constructions, their texts flout normal processes of interpretation. Whereas traditional approaches often overlook these disorders or treat them as a form of informational noise, in this study they become the basis of critical reflection. Harding and Martin elaborate a critical concept and a range of reading methods to deal with what seem to be zones of obscurity in literary texts. Cutting across boundaries of race, ethnicity and gender, they treat a wide range of poetry and short fiction that challenges traditional interpretations. Giving new readings of canonical texts, the book examines works by American authors that are widely read and taught like Elizabeth Bishop, A. R. Ammons, Don DeLillo, Leslie Marmon Silko or Sandra Cisneros. At the same time it includes studies of emerging writers like Kate Braverman, Dan Chaon or Chase Twichell. There is something deeply moving in witnessing the birth of a new concept. And indeed, Wendy Harding and Jacky Martin's concept of Othering is a welcome addition to an already crowded field where concepts like difference, alterity or hybridity are firmly established. But the new concept is more than an addition; it is more in the nature of a substitution as it aims to replace the now exhausted concepts, allowing the authors to avoid the trivialities of a criticism based on gender and race and by focusing on form and language or style to recapture the now largely lost intuitions of close reading. This combination of close reading and a firm grasp of theory is one of the attractions of the book. I am impressed by their mastery of the intricacies of theory and the range of their literary corpus in terms both of genres and texts. I have no doubt that their book will be a major contribution to the renewal of the study of contemporary American literature. Professor Jean Jacques Lecerle, University of Nanterre, Paris.

In Beyond Words, Wendy Harding and Jacky Martin offer a new attitude to reading that approaches true diversity by ignoring trends toward traditional groupings of authors by race and gender and instead examining democratically recent American literature in terms of its unique and peculiar achievements. In choosing texts that employ the rhetoric of the inexpressible, the authors have identified Othering as the common thread running through short fiction and poetry by authors as varied as Allen Ginsberg, Raymond Carver, Sandra Cisneros, Adrienne Rich and Li Young Lee. In transliterating the language of the ineffable and unspoken, Beyond Words employs its superbly original methodology toward unfolding previously inaccessible layers of meaning and provoking a fuller understanding of the creative process and its cultural milieu. Michael Waters, Professor of English at Salisbury University, USA.

Reading Beyond Words Dayle Vienneau,2015 Franciscan Lectio Dan Riley OFM,2022-10-04 Franciscan Lectio is for all those on a spiritual journey who long to see the world more beautifully and deeply and become more attentive and present An ancient tradition dating back to the third century lectio divina has long served as an avenue of contemplative prayer but the practice has often been systematized intellectualized or only practiced by monastics Few authors have attempted to universalize lectio using contemporary language or approach it from a Franciscan perspective St

Paul says that the Word of God is alive and active in our hearing and if the incarnation is true then the Word can be experienced in all places Lectio therefore is not only a spiritual practice for reading sacred texts but can be applied to any felt experience Our experiences too are sacred we need only to acknowledge their depth and beauty In the spirit of St Francis of Assisi we can see the God of all creation who has always been hidden in plain sight a presence that shows forth in every created thing In Franciscan Lectio Fr Dan Riley comes alongside us in our own encounters with lectio and inspires our spiritual imagination through story art poetry nature Franciscan mysticism and Scripture helping us to see that all of life is unitive and sacred
