Reflective Learning For Social Work:

Reflective Practice in Social Work Christine Knott, Terry Scragg, 2010-04-16 Reflective practice is a key element of learning and development on social work courses This fully updated new edition explores a range of approaches to reflective practice and includes sections on gender reflecting on emotion and using reflection as a catalyst for change as well as asking the fundamental question what is reflective practice Written in three parts this essential guide starts with a broad exploration of reflection drawing on some key texts that have informed its development It then moves on to real practice issues including the management of social work practice and interprofessional working

Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry Nona Lyons, 2010-04-07 Philosophers have warned of the perils of a life spent without reflection but what constitutes reflective inquiry and why it s necessary in our lives can be an elusive concept Synthesizing ideas from minds as diverse as John Dewey and Paulo Freire the Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry presents reflective thought in its most vital aspects not as a fanciful or nostalgic exercise but as a powerful means of seeing familiar events anew encouraging critical thinking and crucial insight teaching and learning In its opening pages two seasoned educators Maxine Greene and Lee Shulman discuss reflective inquiry as a form of active attention Thoreau s wide awakesness an act of consciousness and a process by which people can understand themselves their work particularly in the form of life projects and others Building on this foundation the Handbook analyzes through the work of 40 internationally oriented authors Definitional issues concerning reflection what it is and is not Worldwide social and moral conditions contributing to the growing interest in reflective inquiry in professional education Reflection as promoted across professional educational domains including K 12 education teacher education occupational therapy and the law Methods of facilitating and scaffolding reflective engagement Current pedagogical and research practices in reflection Approaches to assessing reflective inquiry Educators across the professions as well as adult educators counselors and psychologists and curriculum developers concerned with adult learning will find the Handbook of Reflection and Reflective Inquiry an invaluable teaching tool for challenging times

Reflective Thinking in Social Work Mekada Julia Graham, 2017-02-17 It is vital that social work students learn to integrate their personal and professional selves if they are to meet the challenges of social work in complex changing environments This accessible text is designed to enable readers to explore and build on their existing skills and abilities supporting them to become competent and self aware reflective practitioners Reflective Thinking in Social Work uses stories told by a range of social work students to model reflective practice learning Discussing issues such as identity motivation to enter the social work profession and lived experiences in the journey into social work the book brings together stories of hardship privilege families hopes interests and community activism from many diverse ethnic backgrounds Each narrative is introduced by the author and ends with a commentary drawing out the key themes and exploring how the reader can use the narrative to enhance their own understanding and critical thinking and to engage in transformative practice Framed by an in depth discussion of available frameworks for reflective practice in different contexts and the importance of narratives in constructing identities this is an invaluable text for social work students at both bachelor s and master s degree levels Reflective Learning for Social Work Nick Gould,Imogen Taylor,1996 The 1st volume to bring to a social work readership a book which focuses on reflective learning in social work this text brings together conceptual research and case material on reflective learning from academic and practice settings Reflective Learning for Social Work Nick Gould,Imogen Taylor,2017-03-02 Since the publication of Donald Schon s The Reflective Practitioner in 1983 there has been a dramatic growth of research and writing developing the concept of reflective learning Surprisingly there has been little application of concepts of reflective learning to social work education This volume makes accessible for the first time to a social work readership a book which focuses on reflective learning in social work brings together material on reflective learning from both academic and practice settings creates a seminal text for educators and trainers in universities and practice settings has relevance to an international readership with contributions from the UK USA Canada and Australia Reflective Social Work Practice Richard Ingram,Jane Fenton,Ann Hodson,2017-09-16 This book provides social workers with a framework for reflecting on their day to day practice Using a social worker s diary as a starting point it provides valuable insight in to how reflection enhances skills and how factors such as values and emotions can shape social work practice Reflective Learning for Social Work Nick Gould,Imogen Taylor,1996 The 1st volume to bring to a social work readership a book which focuses on reflective learning in social work this text brings together conceptual research and case material on reflective learning from academic and practice settings Handbook for Practice Learning in Social Work and Social Care Joyce Lishman,2007-05-15 This substantially revised expanded and updated edition of the popular Handbook of Theory for Practice Teachers is a comprehensive summary of the theory knowledge research and evidence relating to practice learning in social care focussing on knowledge based practice with a focus on improving outcomes Teaching Reflective Learning in Higher Education Mary Elizabeth Ryan,2014-11-05 This book is about understanding the nature and application of reflection in higher education It provides a theoretical model to guide the implementation of reflective learning and reflective practice across multiple disciplines and international contexts in higher education The book presents research into the ways in which reflection is both considered and implemented in different ways across different professional disciplines while maintaining a common purpose to transform and improve learning and or practice The Readers will find this book is innovative and new in three key ways Firstly in its holistic theorisation of reflection within the pedagogic field of higher education Secondly in conceptualising reflection in different modes to achieve specific purposes in different disciplines and finally in providing conceptual guidance for embedding reflective learning and reflective practice in a systematic way across whole programmes faculties or institutions in higher education The book considers important contextual factors that influence the teaching of forms and methods of reflection It provides a functional analysis of multiple modes of reflection including written oral visual auditory and embodied forms Empirical chapters analyse the application of these modes across disciplines and at different stages of a programme The theoretical model accounts for students stage of development in the disciplinary field along with progressive and cyclical levels of higher order thinking and learning and professional practice that are expected within different disciplines and professional fields Secondly in conceptualising reflection in different modes to achieve specific purposes in different disciplines It provides a functional analysis of multiple modes of reflection including written oral visual auditory and embodied forms Empirical chapters analyse the application of these modes across disciplines and at different stages of a programme in terms of demonstrating levels of reflection The book includes images diagrams and different text forms to support the creative applications of reflection And thirdly the book is innovative in providing conceptual guidance for embedding reflective learning and reflective practice systematically across whole programmes faculties or institutions in higher education contexts across the world

Reflective Practice For Social Workers: A Handbook For Developing Professional Confidence Bruce, Linda, 2013-04-01 This book demystifies the reflective process and provides a straight forward knowledge base to enhance professional development

Beyond Reflective Practice Helen Bradbury, Nick Frost, Sue Kilminster, Miriam Zukas, 2012-09-11 Reflective practice has moved from the margins to the mainstream of professional education However in this process its radical potential has been subsumed by individualistic rather than situated understandings of practice Presenting critical perspectives that challenge the current paradigm this book aims to move beyond reflective practice It proposes new conceptualisations and offers fresh approaches relevant across professions Contributors include both academics and practitioners concerned with the training and development of professionals Definitions of reflection which are often implicit often focus on the individual s internal thought processes and responsibility for their actions The individual what they did thought felt is emphasised with little recognition of context power dynamics or ideological challenge This book presents the work of practitioners educators academics and researchers who see this as problematic and are moving towards a more critical approach to reflective practice With an overview from the editors and fourteen chapters considering new conceptualisations professional perspectives and new practices Beyond Reflective Practice examines what new forms of professional reflective practice are emerging It examines in particular the relationships between reflective practitioners and those upon whom they practise It looks at the ways in which the world of professional work has changed and the ways in which professional practice needs to change to meet the needs of this new world It will be relevant for those concerned with initial and ongoing professional learning both in work and in educational contexts

Web-Based Education in the Human Services Richard Schoech, Brenda Moore, Robert James Macfadden, Marilyn Herie, 2014-02-25 A much needed look at innovative and effective methods for creating virtual learning environments for human services Web Based Education in the Human Services reflects the vitality and diversity of Web based courses currently delivered within human services Unlike previous texts that have combined technologies such as Interactive

Television ITV and two way audio where Web involvement was minimal this unique book focuses on Web based models tools and techniques used in courses where the majority of the content is delivered online The book s contributors emphasize the social aspects of learning examining topical areas not usually associated with Web based education as they remind us of the need to move beyond the similarities between WBE and face to face FTF approaches Web Based Education in the Human Services documents a course delivery method coming of age in its desire to create virtual learning environments that incorporate a variety of techniques and strategies These environments use concepts and tools beyond what packages such as WebCT currently offer highlighting the power of designing a complete Web based curriculum rather than viewing each course separately Many of the most successful approaches presented in this invaluable book don t involve sophisticated tools or programming but the creative design of interactive scenarios emotional content and feedback mechanisms that reinforce the instructor s role as the crucial ingredient for success Web Based Education in the Human Services examines adult learning theories teaching practice skills through Web based technology how to bridge the gap between theory and practice faculty perceptions of the effectiveness of Web based instruction compared to face to face instruction the accessibility of Web based education the significance of emotion in learning Web based delivery of a graduate professional training program the creation delivery and evaluation of a pilot course using Blackboard 6 the development of a Web based undergraduate child welfare course the use of Web based video clips for counselor skills training the design development pilot and revision of a Web based social work practice course an online format for agency based field instruction the design of a Web based graduate program in counseling psychology and much more Web Based Education in the Human Services is an invaluable resource for social work and human services educators including education nursing and psychology Web course developers and college and university administrators
