Palmer* Elena Soto, 2024-02-09 Have you wrestled with the complexity of classroom teaching Have you often wondered what might be impeding your performance in the classroom Parker J Palmer's exploration into teaching and the problems that teachers encounter offers practical theories that address the questions one has or perhaps might not have thought to ask This book is about Parker J Palmer's theories of education interwoven with his spiritual vision of education Undergirding the spiritual aspect of his vision is his theory about the significance of the teacher's authentic self Within the narrative is the personal story of one teacher's daunting experiences as she ventured into the field of teaching after a career in the corporate world Meeting Palmer while in graduate school and closely studying his work served to modify her perspective about teaching for the better This ultimately changed her as a teacher in ways that could not have occurred had she not had this encounter This book aims to inform as well as to help transform the experience of teaching for both teacher and student Pilgrimage as Transformative Process Heather A. Warfield, Kate Hetherington, 2018-11-26 The construct of transformation has emerged as a prominent theme in academic discourse Based on the accepted notion that processes and living organisms are in an ongoing state of development it is unsurprising that this concept of transformation would find resonance within literature on the pilgrimage phenomenon Examples of transformational processes intersecting with pilgrimage are the movement from sickness to wellness from grief to closure and from fractured to integrated That the pilgrimage journey itself can be construed as a transformational quest was noted by Winkleman and Dubisch 2005 who stated Life transforming experiences are at the core of both traditional and more contemporary forms of pilgrimage In the current volume Warfield and Hetherington examine the transformational process of pilgrimage journeys Contributors are Sharenda Holland Barlar Anne M Blankenship Valentina Bold Shirley du Plooy Alexandria M Egler Miguel Tain Guzman Kate Hetherington Scott Libson Chadwick Co Sy Su Kip Redick Roy

FRANCIS, James O'Higgins-Norman, Daniel G. Scott, 2009-10-13 Acknowledging and understanding spiritual formation is vital in contemporary education This book explores the dynamic relationship between education and wellbeing It examines the theory underpinning the practice of education in different societies where spirituality and care are believed to be at the heart of all educational experiences The book recognizes that regardless of the context or type of educational experience education is a caring activity in which the development of the whole person, body, mind and spirit is a central aim for teachers and educators in both formal and informal learning The chapters in this handbook present and discuss topics that focus on spirituality as an integral part of human experience and consequently essential to educational programs which aim to address personal and communal identity, foster resilience, empathy and compassion and promote meaning and connectedness The Grace of Playing Courtney T. Goto,2016-02-10 Believers and teachers of faith regularly know the in breaking of God s Spirit in their midst when revelatory experiencing unexpectedly shifts habits of thinking feeling and doing toward more life giving ways of being and becoming When the moment is right Spirit breathes new life into dry bones Though religious educators have much practical wisdom about facilitating learning that is creative and transformative sharper concepts cases and theory can help them do it more critically and assist learners to practice openness to wonder surprise and authenticity The Grace of Playing explains how we can create the conditions for revelatory experiencing by understanding it in light of playing The notion of playing as if can be powerfully reclaimed from ecclesial ambivalence casual speech and commercial interests that often lead playing to be associated with childishness frivolity or entertainment This book theorizes adults playing for the sake of faith drawing on D W Winnicott s psychoanalytic theory a revision of Jurgen Moltmann s theology of play biblical texts medieval devotional practices as well as art and aesthetics that help local faith communities engage in theological reflection Communal forms of playing in at God s new creation provide insights into pedagogies in which learners are creating and are created anew Whole Church Rune Larsson,2021-07-20 Whole church for the sake of the world A church informs about its faith through all that it is says and does This threefold way of telling determines what the recipient hears Therefore if a church wants to be true to its mission it must constantly ask itself two questions What is the church s calling and what is the message it sends How do our churches deal with this challenge The Church is not for its own sake but for the world one of the analyzed documents says It is called to be an instrument for our loving God s plan to heal a broken world The basic pattern is found in the Holy Scriptures but in every time and every cultural context the Church must seek relevant ways and forms And why not do this in conversation and with open ears to the experiences of others and with the courage to change if necessary The first part of the book is the result of such a listening Perhaps it surprises someone that I turned to three American Catholics to listen to their experiences Inspired by the radical message of the Second Vatican Council they challenge their own church to a radical paradigm shift on the way of being a trustworthy church Using the model they developed as a base I turned to my own church the Uniting Church in Sweden by asking the same question battery and the same to an ecumenical document The Church Towards a Common Vision And the result Yet another reminder that every church that wants to be part of God s mission for the sake of the world must constantly test itself in the face of the critical questions of how it faithfully can pass on its message of joys and hope to the world Partners in Wisdom and Grace Marylin T. Kravatz,2010-05-10 Creative tension calls for a dialogical conversation in order to find mutual ground that can be beneficial for both partners Partners in Wisdom and Grace explores the possibility of such tension created by the absence of religious education as a dialogical partner in the National Directory for Catechesis published by the U S Bishops in 2005 These queries are central Will catechesis take religious education as a conversation partner And will religious education return the favor This book concludes that catechesis and religious education remain distinct enterprises that have their own specific identities and make their own particular contributions toward educating for a religious way of life This is an invitation for catechesis and religious education to generate a continuous healthy dialogue and mutually enrich each other while maintaining their distinct identities Spirituality and Social Work Beth R.

Crisp,2016-04-01 For much of the twentieth century professional social work sought to distance itself from its religious origins with the consequence being that the role of spirituality in the lives of service users tended to be sidelined Yet it is clear that many people begin to explore their spirituality precisely at times when they are trying to make sense of difficult life circumstances or experiences and may come into contact with social workers In recent years there has been an increasing understanding that in order to be relevant to the lives of people they work with social workers need to go beyond their material needs but there is little understanding of how spirituality can be sensitively incorporated into practice especially when either practitioners or service users have no religious affiliation or there is no shared religious background In this pathbreaking volume Beth Crisp offers social workers ideas of beginning conversations in which spiritual values and beliefs may surface allowing service users to respond from their own framework and to begin to discuss the specific religious or spiritual practices and beliefs which are important to them She considers spirituality in the context of lived experience a perspective that she argues breaks down any mystique and suspicion of explicitly religious language by focusing on language and experiences with which most people can identify Such a framework allows exploration of issues that emerge at different stages in the lifespan both by persons who are religious and those who do not identify with any formal religion Most literature on spirituality within social work refers to the elderly to those who are sick or have been bereaved yet as Crisp points out spirituality is important for people of all ages and not just at seemingly exceptional moments The Child in

Christian Thought Marcia J. Bunge,2001 A collection of seventeen essays presenting theological perspectives on children throughout history Discusses the care of children their spiritual education and the role of parents the church and the state in raising children Teaching That Transforms Debra Dean Murphy,2007-01-01 Teaching That Transforms challenges the assumption that worship and education should be separated Instead argues Debra Dean Murphy worship the center of the church s life is distinctly tied in Christian education and formation It is in corporate worship that the lives of Christians are most acutely formed and shaped writes Murphy All efforts at forming and discipling Christians should presume the centrality of worship Murphy critiques the predominant modern liberal models of education and lays out a theological account of education that is centered on praise She then explains how this alternative approach would change and renew Christian education Children's Prayer Vivienne Mountain,2016-04-11 This book provides strong arguments for giving prayer a central place in the education and nurture of children It is based on research in Australian Catholic parent controlled Christian Independent Jewish Muslim and government schools The author demonstrates focused attention and care in the data collection from the words of children and their drawings of people praying She takes us through her thorough processes of analysis and synthesis The research shows that prayer is valued by all children whether they come from a religious background or not For some children it is a way of associating with their communities and traditions of faith For others prayer is practised in an individualistic manner Prayer is a way to perceive and respond to the experiences of life It can help in dealing with the challenging emotional states of anxiety loneliness fear anger and guilt It can give hope for the future It provides a way of seeking help for others as well as expressing praise and thanksgiving Vivienne Mountain has a background in teaching and in clinical counselling She lectures in Spirituality and Ministry with Children at Stirling Theological College University of Divinity Australia She has published three books as well as contributing chapters to a number of others and articles for national and international journals
