Urban Residence Christien Klaufus, 2012-04-01 Riobamba and Cuenca two intermediate cities in Ecuador have become part of global networks through transnational migration incoming remittances tourism and global economic connections Their landscape is changing in several significant ways a reflection of the social and urban transformations occurring in contemporary Ecuadorian society Exploring the discourses and actions of two contrasting population groups rarely studied in tandem within these cities popular settlement residents and professionals in the planning and construction sector this study analyzes how each is involved in house designs and neighborhood consolidation Ideas ambitions and power relations come into play at every stage of the production and use of urban space and as a result individual decisions about both house designs and the urban layout influence the development of the urban fabric Knowledge about intermediate cities is crucial in order to understand current trends in the predominantly urban societies of Latin America and this study is an example of needed interdisciplinary scholarship that contributes to the fields of urban studies urban anthropology sociology and architecture

Arts of the Medieval Cathedrals Professor Kathleen Nolan, Professor Dany Sandron, 2015-06-28 The touchstones of Gothic monumental art in France the abbey church of Saint Denis and the cathedrals of Chartres Reims and Bourges form the core of this collection The essays reflect the impact of Anne Prache's career as a scholar of wide ranging interests and as a builder of bridges between French and American academic communities The authors include scholars in France and the United States both academics and museum professionals while the book's thematic matrix divided into architecture stained glass and sculpture reflects the multiple media explored by Prache during her career A

Renaissance Architecture of Power, 2016-04-08 The growth of princely states in early Renaissance Italy brought a thorough renewal to the old seats of power One of the most conspicuous outcomes of this process was the building or rebuilding of new court palaces erected as prestigious residences in accord with the new classical principles of Renaissance architecture The novelties however went far beyond architectural forms they involved the reorganisation of courtly interiors and their functions new uses for the buildings and the relationship between the palaces and their surroundings The whole urban setting was affected by these processes and therefore the social residential and political customs of its inhabitants This is the focus of A Renaissance Architecture of Power which aims to analyse from a comparative perspective the evolution of Italian court palaces in the Renaissance in their entirety Contributors are Silvia Beltramo Flavia Cantatore Bianca de Divitiis Emanuela Ferretti Marco Folin Giulio Girondi Andrea Longhi Marco Rosario Nobile Aurora Scotti Elena Svalduz and Stefano Zaggia Architecture of Instruction and Delight Pieter van Wesemael, 2001 Architectural Publications Index, 2003

Housing in Italy through the Telescope and the Microphone International Perspectives and Experiences from Housing Project Stakeholders OECD, Triennale de Milan, 2023-10-17 This book sheds light on access to housing in Italy from two different complementary vantage points It puts the Italian housing market in international perspective using OECD

Marginalized Groups, Inequalities and the Post-War Welfare State Monika Baár, Paul van Trigt, 2019-10-22 Examining the ways in which societies treat their most vulnerable members has long been regarded as revealing of the bedrock beliefs and values that guide the social order. However, academic research about the post-war welfare state is often focused on mainstream arrangements or on one social group. With its focus on different marginalized groups, migrants and people with disabilities, this volume offers novel perspectives on the national and international dimensions of the post-war welfare state in Western Europe and North America

The Architecture and Planning of Classical Moscow Albert J. Schmidt, 1989 Dr Schmidt describes the building planning schemes in Moscow from approx. the accession of Catherine the Great in the early 1760s to the mid-reign of Nicholas I about 1840. The author maintains that despite the enormous destruction of historic Moscow caused by the reordering of Gorkii the old Tverskaia St, the Kalinin Prospect, the Arbat under Stalin, Khrushchev, there still exists a significant remnant of the classical city which rose from the ashes of the great fire in 1812. The architects of the classical city, Catherine's builders Vasilii Bazhenov, Matvei Kazakov, those who rebuilt Moscow after 1812, Osip Bove, Domenico Giliardi, Afanasii Grigor'ev are featured together with their individual architectural creations as well as their broader city planning accomplishments. In many respects an atlas of the boulevards, thoroughfares of central Moscow, this book both recreates the Moscow of another era, adds to the understanding of the contours, character of the modern Soviet metropolis.

Social Aspects of Housing and Urban Development Sven Thiberg, 1969

Caribbean Modernist Architecture Gustavo Luis Moré, 2010 In February and March 2008, the International Program and the Department of Architecture and Design at The Museum of Modern Art organised the Museum's first symposium on the modernist architecture of the Caribbean and bordering Latin American countries in collaboration with the Caribbean School of Architecture at the University of Technology, Kingston, Jamaica. The goal was to encourage scholarly, curatorial and broader educational awareness. Topics covered included regional and international legacies, preservation, environmental sustainability and urban planning as they relate to modernist architectural history and contemporary practice. The presenters were leading architects and architectural historians from the region and attendees included their colleagues as well as local and international university students, policy makers, civic leaders and developers from Jamaica, the surrounding Caribbean islands and the United States. This illustrated volume, co-published by MoMA and Archivos de Arquitectura Antillana AAA, an architectural journal based in the Dominican Republic, presents the papers from this critical symposium in both English and Spanish, making them accessible to a broader public

Romano Guardini Romano Guardini, 2023-03-01 This book is not just a history. To be sure, it offers an historical account of the life of Romano Guardini, 1885-1968, as recounted by Guardini himself. However, it is not simply about the past. Precisely because it deals with the life of a faithful and thoughtful person, the book is also about the present and projects itself into the future. For as

Guardini always insisted leading a thoughtful and faithful life means being oriented toward the good life that is toward the vision of a just and loving community This orientation does not just happen by itself nor can it be imposed or dictated from above but has to be nurtured steadily by hearts open to the voice of the Spirit and the call of truth Seen in this way Romano Guardini occupies a crucial place in the world in his world in ours and in the world to come As he emphasizes beautifully at the end of his memoir Narratives of My Life Autobiographical Notes he never considered himself as an isolated individual nor as the spokesman of a dominant ideology or doctrine Rather his work was always energised by and in dialogue with a broader context a context which one of his mentors Max Scheler aptly called the life world

The Court as a Stage Steven J. Gunn,A. Janse,2006 European and English courtly culture and history reappraised through the prism of the court as theatre In the past half century court history has lost the air of frivolity that once relegated it to the margins of serious historical study and has rightfully taken a central part in the study of European states and societies in the age of personal monarchy Yet it has been approached from so many different angles and appropriated to so many different models that it can be hard to put all our new understandings together to achieve a proper perspective on the functions of the court as a whole This collection of essays uses the idea of the court as a stage for social and political interaction to re integrate different styles of court history focusing on courts in England and the Low Countries from the age of Richard II and Albert of Bavaria to that of Elizabeth I and Philip II Themes studied include the relationship between court politics and cultural change the social and political functions of court office holding the military judicial and propagandist roles of the court the economic relationships between courts and cities and the wider social and political significance of court rituals and traditions

Le Moniteur architecture ,1998 Circular Communities Els Leclercq,Mo Smit,2023-02-21 In Circular Communities pioneering collectively supported initiatives that are aimed at closing resource cycles at neighbourhood level take a central position They are all examples of initiatives that contribute to the transition to a circular economy For the analysis of these different circular initiatives the researchers urban designer Els Leclercq and architect Mo Smit developed a unique method the Circular Value Flower method This method helps to organize the collective closing of resource cycles bio and tech materials energy water and nutrients on a neighbourhood scale and provides insight into the added value social ecological aesthetic cultural and economic that can be realized within the built environment Circular

Communities offers inspiration and lessons for integral sustainable interventions at the scale of the neighbourhood and ties in with the new Dutch Environmental Planning Act which explicitly offers room for citizen initiatives and local commissioning in the Netherlands
