Residential Differentiation

Arthur C. Nelson, James C.
Nicholas, Julian C. Juergensmeyer

Residential Differentiation:

The Urban Mosaic Duncan Timms, 1971 This detailed study examines the concept of the city as a mosaic of social worlds

American Neighborhoods and Residential Differentiation Michael J. White, 1988-07-14 Residential patterns are reflections of social structure to ask who lives in which neighborhoods is to explore a sorting out process that is based largely on socioeconomic status ethnicity and life cycle characteristics This benchmark volume uses census data with its uniquely detailed information on small geographic areas to bring into focus the familiar yet often vague concept of neighborhood Michael White examines nearly 6 000 census tracts approximating neighborhoods in twenty one representative metropolitan areas from Atlanta to Salt Lake City Newark to San Diego The availability of statistics spanning several decades and covering a wide range of demographic characteristics including age race occupation income and housing quality makes possible a rich analysis of the evolution and implications of differences among neighborhoods In this complex mosaic White finds patterns and traces them over time showing for example how racial segregation has declined modestly while socioeconomic segregation remains constant and how population diffusion gradually affects neighborhood composition His assessment of our urban settlement system also illuminates the social forces that shape contemporary city life and the troubling policy issues that plague it A Volume in the Russell Sage Foundation Census Series

Residential Léon Deben, 1990 Power and Urban Space in Pre-Modern Holland Clé Lesger, 2024-02-22 Cities and urban societies have many faces In this study the pre modern cities of Holland are presented as arenas where power relations between social classes are expressed in a more or less permanent appropriation of physical space and through discursive strategies The continuity of the power relations in the cities of Holland spanning centuries makes it urgent to look not only at the assumption of urban space as an expression of power relations within society but also at the contribution of this appropriation to the acceptance and continuity of the existing power relations in pre modern Holland Within this broad area extensive attention is paid to the very prominent and enduring appropriation of urban space in the field of housing the less permanent but violent appropriation of urban space during the public execution of scaffold punishments the maintenance of public order by civic militias and appropriation during riots and revolts In addition city descriptions maps and pictures of the pre modern cities of Holland are scrutinised for what they can reveal about the appropriation of urban spaces These themes each have an extensive historiography but they have never been brought together in an interpretative framework that fits in with Pierre Bourdieu s model of society and the work of especially John Allen on power until now

Residential Segregation and Neighborhood Change Keith Stribley, Karl E. Taeuber, 2017-09-05 This book is an invaluable reference First published in 1965 it is at once a snapshot of a moment in history and a timeless conceptualization of the issues inherent in societal segregation Residential segregation historically occupies a key position in patterns of race relations in the urban United States It not only inhibits the development of informal neighborly relations between white people and African Americans but ensures the segregation of a variety of public and private facilities The clientele of schools hospitals libraries parks and stores is determined in large part by the racial composition of the neighborhood in which they are located Problems created by residential segregation are the focus of this work African Americans in cities resemble whites in cities Both racial groups are highly urbanized and most of the immigrants of either race to a city are former residents of another city Within cities racial groups display similar patterns of residential behavior with those of higher incomes seeking out newer and better housing Both races respond similarly to national social and economic factors which set the context within which local changes occur Karl E and Alma F Taeuber's main approach to the analysis of residential segregation and processes of neighborhood change is comparative and statistical By quantitative comparison of the situation in many different cities they attempt to assess those patterns and processes which are common to all communities and those which vary Residential segregation is shown to be a prominent and enduring feature of American urban society By bringing empirical data to bear on an important and timely social problem this book will aid in the search for reasonable solutions All types of cities southern and northern large and small are beset with the difficulties that residential segregation imposes on harmonious race relations and on the solution of pressing city problems

The Structure of Nineteenth Century Cities James H Johnson, Colin Pooley, 2021-06-29 When this book was first published in 1982 despite considerable research on 19th Century towns in Britain and America there had been little attempt to search for links between these empirical studies and to relate them more to more general theories of 19th Century urban development The book provides an integrated series of chapters which discuss trends and research problems in the study of 19th Century cities It will be of value to researchers in urban geography social history and historical geography

Residential Segregation in Comparative Perspective Kuniko Fujita, 2016-04-08 We know very little about variations in urban class and ethnic segregation among nations and even less about differences among cities in different regions of the world Spatial organization places and neighbourhoods matters significantly in some cities in reproducing class relations and ethno racial hierarchies but may be much less important in others The degree and the impact of segregation depend upon contextual diversity By emphasizing the importance of contextual diversity in the study of urban residential segregation the book questions currently popular urban theories such as global city neoliberal urbanism and gentrification These theories tend to dissociate cities from their national and regional context and thus ignore their history culture politics and institutions The aim of this book is to introduce the significantly different urban experiences in social and spatial segregation patterns and rationales which exist among the world's regions and to demonstrate that urban theory needs to draw systematically upon this wide range of experiences The cities selected Athens Beijing Budapest Copenhagen Hong Kong Madrid Paris São Paulo Taipei and Tokyo were chosen in order to achieve geographical spread to maximise the diversity of types of socioeconomic regulation This volume is thus able to avoid the interpretative limitations and misconstructions resulting from universalizing the Anglo American experience

The International Handbook of the Demography of Race and Ethnicity

Rogelio Sáenz, David G. Embrick, Néstor P. Rodríguez, 2015-06-03 Examining key countries in every region of world this handbook presents population profiles and analyses concerning racial ethnic disparities and changing intergroup relations Inside prominent scholars from various parts of the world and disciplines address the links between stratification demography and conflict across the globe Organized by region continent coverage for each profiled country includes demographic information a historical overview that addresses past racial ethnic conflict identification of the most salient demographic trends and issues that the country faces theoretical issues related to the linkages between stratification demography and conflict methodological issues including quality of data and cutting edge methods to better understand the issue at hand and details on the possible future of the existing trends and issues with particular emphasis on public policy and human rights This handbook will help readers to better understand the commonalities and differences that exist globally in the interplay between stratification demography and conflict In addition it also provides an excellent inventory of theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches that are needed to better comprehend this issue This handbook will appeal to students researchers and policy analysts in the areas of race and ethnic relations demography inequality international sociology international relations foreign studies social geography and social development Himalayan

Quality of Life Benjamin L. Saitluanga, 2017-04-18 The book is a study of intra urban inequality in quality of life QOL in Aizawl city The main objectives of the study include analysis of processes and patterns of social differentiation along the three dimensional space of Aizawl city as well as analysis of spatial inequality in QOL at the lowest administrative structure of the city An investigation into spatial pattern of residential differentiation was done at both horizontal and vertical spaces Spatial variation in well being of residents of Aizawl city and the quality of their immediate environment was also studied by taking both objective and subjective indicators The study employed a number of descriptive inferential and multivariate statistical techniques including correlation factor analysis principal component analysis cluster analysis and spatial autocorrelation methods like Moran's I and Local Indicators of Spatial Association LISA Mapping techniques and graphical methods like Choropleth map histogram and line graph were also used With the help of factor analysis the social space of Aizawl city was found to be differentiated along socio economic status family status household size status workers status and ethnic status The most important factor determining residential differentiation was socio economic status Choropleth map of factor scores reveals that the inner city localities were dominated by high socio economic class while poorer people dominated the peripheries Non local ethnic minorities were few but concentrated in some adjoining peripheral localities as well as in inner city localities which have been inhabited by their ancestors since the colonial period Vertical pattern of residential differentiation was also analyzed by taking income variable as a proxy of socio economic status Multi storey buildings in Aizawl city were co inhabited by both richer people and poorer people The richer people were found at the top floors while the poorer people occupied the basement floors Normally the owners of the buildings were found at the top floors while the basement floors were dominated by the renters Spatial variation in QOL was measured with the help of principal component analysis as a weighting technique by taking variables pertaining to both objective and subjective QOL dimensions The values of composite QOL index showed that the central localities have scored better than their peripheral counterparts Correlation analysis of the relationship between objective indicators and subjective indicators provided a low positive value indicating the absence of relationship between the two dimensions of quality of life Spatial autocorrelation analysis was also performed to see the pattern of clustering of spatially weighted QOL variables across Local Councils With the help of Global Moran's I spatial clusters and spatial outliers were observed for objective dimension of QOL within the study area The value of Moran's I was found to be insignificant for subjective QOL dimension indicating the absence of significant pattern of clustering The study also identified 7 social areas of Aizawl city on the basis of factor scores and composite scores of QOL variables calculated for all Local Councils The identification of clusters was taken out with the help of hierarchical clustering method of cluster analysis These clusters were labeled appropriate names and their characteristics were described in detail The thesis concluded with recommendation of designating these social areas as social development planning zones for obtaining inclusive development Global Connectivity and Local Transformation Jiaming

Sun, 2008-02-07 Increasing overseas traveling booming Internet and electronic communication and expanding global social ties are primary features of intensifying global connectivity and integration Global Connectivity and Local Transformation conceptualizes global connectivity as a powerful but varied mechanism that links local people to the global society Professor Jiaming Sun explores the massive global connectivity that has been woven in two decades in Shanghai People with stronger and more extensive global connectivity with a net of other social economic characteristics make significant differences in terms of cultural adaptation in local society By employing the empirical study method this study features detailed quantitative analyses to measure global connectivity in an innovative and compelling way Impact Fees Arthur C.

Nelson, James C. Nicholad, Julian C. Juergensmeyer, 2017-11-08 This is the only impact fee book you'll need for the next decade or longer This comprehensive reference book updates the popular pioneering works on impact fees by introducing new methodologies concepts applications and theories The authors contend that it's time to go beyond narrowly defined impact fees to proportionate share development fees broadly applied to publicly provided facilities and services and their operation Impact fees are one time charges applied to new development to generate revenue for the construction or expansion of capital facilities outside the boundaries of the new development for system improvements engendered by the new development At least that was the traditional use of impact fees A generation ago they were generally not used legally for the operation maintenance repair alteration or replacement of capital facilities for social purposes such as affordable housing and daycare or for green purposes such as habitat preservation This book updates impact fee law practice and applications and breaks new ground by showing how the impact fee logic of proportionate share can be used for these and other purposes Through actual ordinances summaries of technical reports numerous case studies and model ordinances and codes readers will learn how to design and implement a proportionate share development fee program This is essential reading for anyone interested in impact fees      China's Emerging Cities Fulong Wu,2007-11-13 With urbanism becoming the key driver of socio economic change in China this book provides much needed up to date material and covers key topics on Chinese urban development      A Social Geography of England and Wales Richard Dennis,Hugh Clout,2013-10-22 A Social Geography of England and Wales considers the theoretical concepts of the social geography of England and Wales This book is composed of 11 chapters that discuss the theories of industrialization and urbanization The opening chapters deal with the origins and settlement of English people as well as the workings of feudal society with its hierarchy of groups of different legal status ranging from the king through the base of the system The succeeding chapters examine the vital formative phase in British social history Other chapters explore the strengths and weaknesses of several ecological and economic models of urban structure that are transported from North America to Great Britain A chapter looks into the variations in housing type and quality form intriguing reflections of fundamental differences in British Society based on a theory of housing classes This text also surveys residents of the inner areas of many British cities now experience substantial social problems which are compounded in areas of multiple deprivation The final chapters cover the dispersion of urbanism into the countryside where it has provoked fundamental social and spatial changes related to commuting retirement migration and tourism This book is of value to historians sociologists researchers and undergraduate students      Creating Chinese Urbanism Fulong Wu,2022-10-27 Creating Chinese Urbanism describes the landscape of urbanisation in China revealing the profound impacts of marketisation on Chinese society and the consequential governance changes at the grassroots level During the imperial and socialist periods state and society were embedded However as China has been becoming urban the territorial foundation of earth bound society has been dismantled This metaphorically started an urban revolution which has transformed the social order derived from the state in society The state has thus become more visible in Chinese urban life Besides witnessing the breaking down of socially integrated neighbourhoods Fulong Wu explains the urban roots of a rising state in China Instead of governing through autonomous stakeholders state sponsored strategic intentions remain In the urban realm the desire for greater residential privacy does not foster collectivism State led rebuilding of residential communities has sped up the demise of traditionalism and given birth to a new China with greater urbanism and state centred governance Taking the vantage point of concrete residential neighbourhoods Creating Chinese Urbanism offers a cutting edge analysis of how China is becoming urban and grounds the changing state governance in the process of urbanization Its original and material interpretation of the changing role of the state in China makes it suitable reading for researchers and students in the fields of urban studies geography planning and the built environment

Proportionate Share Impact Fees and Development Mitigation Arthur C. Nelson,James C. Nicholas,Julian Conrad

Juergensmeyer, Clancy Mullen, 2022-11-30 After decades of evolving practice often tested in court development impact fees have become institutionalized in the American planning and local government finance systems But they remain contentious especially as they continue to evolve This book is the third in a series of impact fee guidebooks for practitioners following A Practitioner's Guide to Development Impact Fees and Impact Fees Proportionate Share Development Fees Proportionate Share Impact Fees and Development Mitigation is the culmination of the authors careers devoted to pioneering applications of the dual rational nexus test That test requires 1 establishing the rational nexus between the need for infrastructure broadly defined to mitigate the impacts of development and 2 ensuring that development mitigating its infrastructure impacts benefits proportionately The book elevates professional practice in two ways First it shows how the rational nexus test can be applied to all forms of development infrastructure impact mitigation Second it establishes the link between professional ethics and equity as applied to proportionate share impact fees and development mitigation The book is divided into four parts with the first reviewing policy and legal foundations the second detailing the planning calculation and implementation requirements the third exploring economic ethical and equity implications and the fourth presenting state of the art case studies Proportionate Share Impact Fees and Development Mitigation sets new standards for professional practice

Housing and Residential Structure John Short, Keith Bassett, 2021-11-30 First published in 1980 Housing and Residential Structure was written to take stock of the many changes that had recently taken place in explanatory approaches to housing markets and residential structure The book is divided into three parts Part One focuses on the demand orientated approaches of human ecology and neo classical economics Part Two discusses the institutional approaches with reference to an analysis of private and public sector housing in Britain drawing on illustrative material from North America and France to aid the comparative analysis of institutional structures Part Three is devoted to an evaluation of the Marxist approaches to housing and residential structure from Marx and Engels to Castells and Harvey

Residential Change and Demographic Challenge Annett Steinführer, Sigrun Kabisch, Katrin Grossmann, 2016-04-08 Going beyond the assumption that East Central European cities are still in transition this book draws on the postsocialism paradigm to ask new questions about the impact of demographic change on residential developments in this region Focussing on four second order cities in this region it examines Gdansk and Łódź in Poland and Brno and Ostrava in the Czech Republic as examples and deals with the nexus between urban development and demographic change for the context of East Central European cities It provides a framework for linking urban and demographic research It discusses how residential areas and urban developments cope with changes in population development household types and different forms of in and out migration and goes on to explore parallels and differences in comparison with broader European patterns This book will be useful to academics of urban planning and development especially in transition areas Central and Eastern European studies demographics and population studies and sociology social exclusion

nineteenth and early twentieth century Kyiv was an important city in the European part of the Russian empire rivaling Warsaw in economic and strategic significance It also held the unrivaled spiritual and ideological position as Russia's own Jerusalem In Imperial Urbanism in the Borderlands Serhiy Bilenky examines issues of space urban planning socio spatial form and the perceptions of change in imperial Kyiv Combining cultural and social history with urban studies Bilenky unearths a wide range of unpublished archival materials and argues that the changes experienced by the city prior to the revolution of 1917 were no less dramatic and traumatic than those of the Communist and post Communist era In fact much of Kyiv's contemporary urban form architecture and natural setting were shaped by imperial modernizers during the long nineteenth century The author also explores a general culture of imperial urbanism in Eastern Europe Imperial Urbanism in the Borderlands is the first work to approach the history of Kyiv from an interdisciplinary perspective and showcases Kyiv's rightful place as a city worthy of attention from historians urbanists and literary scholars Urban Historical Geography Dietrich Denecke, Gareth Shaw, 1988-06-30 Originally published in 1988 this book provides a fascinating comparative review of research in urban historical geography in Britain and West Germany It draws together a wide range of material on the history of urban development to explore the theoretical and methodological possibilities offered by comparative surveys of contrasting national and regional urban expenses The chronological focus of the essays ranges in time from the medieval period onwards and the contributors explore not only the specifically intellectual consequences of their empirical research but also its policy implications for urban planners and conservationists Serious extended comparative debate has hitherto been absent from the field of urban historical geography as a whole this volume sought to reverse that trend and in so doing to establish a fresh research agenda for an important and expanding discipline Proceedings of the 25th International Symposium on Advancement of Construction Management and Real Estate Xinhai Lu, Zuo Zhang, Weisheng Lu, Yi Peng, 2021-10-11 This proceedings book focuses on innovation cooperation and sustainable development in the fields of construction management and real estate The book provides a detailed analysis and description of the disciplinary frontiers in the field of building management and real estate and how they can be promoted in the context of the epidemic A wide variety of papers provide a reference value for both scholars and practitioners The proceedings book is the documentation of the 25th International Symposium on Advancement of Construction Management and Real Estate CRIOCM 2020 which was held at the School of Public Administration Central China Normal University Wuhan China in 2020
