Residential Work With The Elderly:

Residential Work with the Elderly C Paul Brearley, 2023-02-03 First published in 1977 Residential Work with the Elderly brings together theoretical and practical approaches of relevance to providing care for older people in residential homes and long stay geriatric hospitals He describes the kinds of use to which institutional care is commonly put the effects of institutional living on individual residents and the ageing process He also examines ways of using such care to the benefit of both individuals and the resident group so that new improved ways may be found of helping older people in care Intended principally for residential workers in homes for the elderly the book is also designed for nurses and other workers involved in long term hospital care for older people It will also be of value to those involved in day care and special housing provision for the elderly Health Care of the Elderly Tom Arie, 2022-05-24 Originally published in 1981 and edited by a pioneer in psychogeriatric services this book spans medicine psychiatry social work and organisation of services of the elderly written by eminent authors from several different professions Chapters include those on stroke rehabilitation dementia neurosis psychotherapy for the elderly and institutional care among others The book discusses many issues which remain as pertinent today as when it was first published not least the problems of providing health services for ageing populations Leaving Residential Care Jim Black, Paul Brearley, 2013-07-04 Tavistock Press was established as a co operative venture between the Tavistock Institute and Routledge Kegan Paul RKP in the 1950s to produce a series of major contributions across the social sciences This volume is part of a 2001 reissue of a selection of those important works which have since gone out of print or are difficult to locate Published by Routledge 112 volumes in total are being brought together under the name The International Behavioural and Social Sciences Library Classics from the Tavistock Press Reproduced here in facsimile this volume was originally published in 1982 and is available individually The collection is also available in a number of themed mini sets of between 5 and 13 volumes or as a complete collection The Built Environment for the Elderly and the Handicapped United States. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Library Division, 1979 Social Work with Elderly People Cherry Rowlings, 2024-05-10 The care of elderly people particularly those who are frail is a major task facing society Originally published in 1981 this book considers the challenge of caring from a social work perspective It locates social work with elderly people firmly within the mainstream of social work ethics knowledge and skills and demonstrates how work with the elderly both informs and in turn is informed by an understanding of work with other client groups From an initial discussion of why social workers are often reluctant or unable to work with the problems that may be present in old age Social Work with Elderly People continues with a description of the disadvantages that often accompany old age and the problems that elderly people may experience Certain aspects of social work practice are then considered in more detail such as the pace of work the goals of intervention communication and assessment Later chapters focus on practice with elderly people in three different settings on their own in the community with their families and in residential care Issues such as the dynamics of caring and being cared for the assessment and management of dependency and risk and the preservation of individuality in spite of frailty and disability are discussed in a variety of contexts Cherry Rowlings brings to the subject her experience as a practitioner and a team leader in social services departments together with the results of the research she had recently undertaken Many of the examples illustrating practice come from social workers who had been interviewed as part of this research Social Work with Elderly People was intended for teachers on courses leading to a qualification either in social work or in social service students on basic and post qualifying courses and practitioners and supervisors of field and residential staff Other professions with a concern for the care of elderly people doctors health visitors occupational therapists and nurses will also find this book of relevance to their work Independence and the Elderly Malcolm J. Fisk, 2024-05-10 In the 1980s much research into the needs of the elderly was undertaken from the perspective of a sickness model a model which reinforced labels of elderly people as frail disabled dependent and economically unproductive Few studies adopted a positive attitude to ageing and elderly people Originally published in 1986 reissued here with a new preface this book helped to redress this imbalance by focusing on the theme of independence examined particularly from the perspective of current housing and social policies relating to elderly people at the time The author looks at sheltered housing in detail including discussion of alarm systems staying put schemes and residential homes The book was essential reading for academics and practitioners in the health and social welfare fields with a concern for the elderly and the ways in which they could retain a meaningful independence Working in Residential Homes for Elderly People C. Paul Brearley, First published in 1990 Working in Residential Homes for Elderly People outlines the purposes and objectives of residential homes and what it is like to live and work in them The author looks at the factors that make for a good quality of life considering how these can be promoted and how staff can work with people both individually and in groups to help them get the best out of life He reviews prevalent thinking about what happens to people as they grow older and at a practical level he looks carefully at the day to day management of homes suggesting how they should be organized in order to get the best out of the staff buildings and resources Unique in its coverage of the process of ageing good practice and good management the book takes into account the differing needs of both residents and staff With its emphasis on the various aspects of the flexible individual support necessary in providing a good home it will be invaluable to social work and social care students residential workers and their managers Care of the Elderly Mentally Infirm Barbara Gray, Bernard Isaacs, 2022-05-24 Originally published in 1979 this book explains why so many people suffer behavioural changes in later life how this affects those around them the services that exist to assist older people and those who work with them and how such services can be profitably used A recurring theme is the interaction of the different varieties of mental illness with one another and with physical emotional social and personality factors The book provides detailed guidance for social workers caring for the elderly on such topics as how an assessment of a mentally disturbed older person can be made procedure for removal from home under a court order and compulsory admission to hospital ways of communicating with elderly people and gauging the needs of relatives and carers

Working with Older People John Harris, Denise Tanner, 2007-10-11 Working with older people has become an increasingly important part of social work education and practice Whether studying community care adult services human growth and development or social work processes and interventions this book will be a vital source of information and help Working with Older People provides a framework of knowledge skills and values pertinent to qualifying social work courses and the new post qualifying award in Social Work with Adults including discussion of ideas about human development and theories of older age legislation social policy and social welfare skills for working with older people assessment and care planning partnership working Written by two experienced educators and practitioners this key text facilitates individual or group learning through features such as objectives for each chapter case studies and further reading suggestions There are numerous activities throughout the book and the final chapter contains pointers to consider for all of the activities It will be essential reading for social work students and qualified social workers

Lessons on Aging from Three Nations Sara Carmel, Carol A. Morse, Fernando M. Torres-Gil, Jon Hendricks, 2018-10-26 The global phenomenon of the aging of societies during a period of outstanding scientific economic and technological advancements is a blessing for humanity These fundamental changes however create new needs and problems in all areas of life often difficult to address In some countries the trend is towards compression of the period of age related morbidity fewer years of living with disabilities but the absolute numbers of elderly people living with disabilities are increasing worldwide This book highlights a series of global threats problems and challenges in the areas of care and caregiving through the prism of three multicultural nations the United States Israel and Australia The contributors to this book experts in their fields focus on the art of caregiving at the national level including the interface between family and state responsibilities policies and practices in the provision of services and the demands for education and training as well as the problems and difficulties faced by family caregivers This is the second of two edited volumes on aging and caregiving The first Lessons on Aging from Three Nations Volume I The Art of Aging Well examines positive aspects of and successful adaptations to aging This book will be of interest to students of gerontology and geriatrics those working in nongovernmental organizations private for profit and non profit agencies including voluntary charitable and religious groups those working in national regional and local governments and all general readers intrigued with the aging of societies and longevity

Social Work, Ageing and Society C Paul Brearley, 2023-03-31 First published in 1975 Social Work Ageing and Society provides a basic understanding of the needs of older people in society It deals with the role of the old person in society and attitudes to old age as well as the physical emotional and social needs of the ageing individual It shows that material resources and social work skills can make a great deal of difference to the quality of life and health of elderly citizens and is concerned therefore not only with the process of ageing but also with the validity of techniques of social intervention against a background of limited practical resources for the elderly This book will be of interest to social work students and to members of other caring professions Old Age Homes Roger Clough,2021-11-07

Originally published in 1981 in Old Age Homes Roger Clough presents a vivid description of the lives and work of residents and staff in an old people's home His powerful analysis of the realities of residential work would make a major contribution to improved practice to social work training and to social policy formation Many people including some social work professionals still felt that the very existence of residential homes illustrated a failure of society and that living with their own family or on their own was invariably a more satisfactory experience for old people Roger Clough questions this assumption He argues that homes are needed and if they are to be good places in which to live and die there must be a clearer understanding of the interactions that take place within them The descriptive parts of the study based on detailed observation and lengthy interviews strongly reflect the author's genuine compassion and warmth for old people His most illuminating perceptions are presented from the perspective of the old people themselves many of whom were conscious of the double bind in which residents and staff are caught there is a prevailing belief that it is best to keep active in old age yet many of the elderly had little they thought worth doing while the staff saw their role as doing whatever they could for the residents Roger Clough uses his material to test two central hypotheses first that there is a linkage between the attitudes to aging held by staff and the degree of control over their own lives exercised by residents and secondly that this degree of control is strongly correlated with resident satisfaction Through an acute analysis of these key variables he demonstrates the circumstances in which living in a home can be for certain old people at certain times the way of life they themselves would choose His conclusions are of the greatest importance for social work practice and for the changing of staff attitudes in training Old Age Homes would challenge anybody who knows or works with a resident in an old people's home But it would be of outstanding value for the managers practitioners trainers and students to whom it was primarily addressed at the time
