Resiliency And Capacity Building In Innercity Learning Communities:

Resiliency and Capacity Building in Inner-city Learning Communities Dawn Leigh Sutherland, Laura Sokal, 2003
The voices that are represented in this book offer differing perspectives on ways to support inner city children and families. Each essay offers a unique contribution to our understanding of the interdependence of the people in these communities yet all share the common message that inner city children and families have strengths that can be built on to maximize their positive outcomes. This book is especially relevant to teachers who work with children and families with challenges.

Understanding ADHD Ken W. McCluskey, Andrea McCluskey, 2001 This personal and moving account of raising a child with ADHD is remarkable for its humour, real life examples and useful strategies for teachers and parents. It is one of the few books to make the topic of ADHD truly come alive. Understanding ADHD shows how parents and teachers can work together in a positive and productive fashion. Topics addressed include identification, causation, theory, treatment, behaviour management, teaching strategies, self concept and prognosis.

Resilience in Children, Families, and Communities Ray D. Peters, Bonnie Leadbeater, Robert J. McMahon, 2004-12-16 Despite the numerous benefits derived from major technological and medical innovations of the past century, we continue to live in a world rife with significant social problems and challenges. Children continue to be born into lives of poverty; others must confront daily their parent's mental illness or substance abuse; still others live amid chronic family discord or child abuse. For some of these children, life's difficulties become overwhelming. Their enduring trauma can lead to a downward spiral until their behavioral and emotional problems become lifelong barriers to success and wellbeing. Almost no one today would deny that the world is sometimes an inhospitable, even dangerous place for our youth. Yet most children, even those living in high risk environments, appear to persevere. Some even flourish. And this begs the question: why, in the face of such great odds, do these children become survivors rather than casualties of their environments? For many decades, scholars have pursued answers to the mysteries of resilience. Now, having culled several decades of research findings, the editors of this volume offer an in-depth, leading edge description and analysis of Resilience in Children, Families, and Communities: Linking Context to Practice and Policy. The book is divided into three readily accessible sections that both define the scope and limits of resilience as well as provide hands-on programs that families, neighborhoods, and communities can implement. In addition, several chapters provide real-life intervention strategies and social policies that can be readily put into practice. The goal is to enable children to develop more effective problem-solving skills to help each child to improve his or her self-image and to define ways in which role models can affect positive outcomes throughout each child's lifetime. For researchers, clinicians, and students, Resilience in Children, Families, and Communities: Linking Context to Practice and Policy is an essential addition to their library. It provides practical information to inform greater success in the effort to encourage resilience in all children and to achieve positive youth development.

Community Resilience under the Impact of Urbanisation and Climate Change Chirisa, Innocent, Mabeza,

Christopher,2019-01-06 As the world today faces messy problems what in some circles has been called global weirding the term resilience has taken centre stage This is crunch time as we grapple with the negative effects of both climate change and urbanisation Some commentators have compared the huge problems we face today to Oom Schalk s proverbial leopard waiting for us in the withaak s shade Do we endlessly count Oom Schalk s proverbial leopard s spots This is the question posed by a stellar cast of academics researchers and experts whose contributions in this text is a rallying cry for action to build resilience to the challenging impact of urbanisation and climate change To that end this volume gives hope about the potential for human agency Our challenge however is to re examine our values to change our conservation conversation and return to a more wise and holistic understanding of ourselves and our place in the Universe Perhaps then only can the obituaries on our demise stay locked in the drawer Language Teacher Psychology Sarah Mercer,Achilleas

Kostoulas,2018-01-05 To date the majority of work in language learning psychology has focused on the learner In contrast relatively little attention has been paid to teacher psychology This volume seeks to redress the imbalance by bringing together various strands of research into the psychology of language teachers It consists of 19 contributions on well established areas of teacher psychology as well as areas that have only recently begun to be explored This original collection which covers a multitude of theoretical and methodological perspectives makes a significant contribution to the emerging field of language teacher psychology as a domain of inquiry within language education Public Policy in the Community

Marilyn Taylor,2011-07-13 The idea of community involvement and empowerment has become central to politics in recent years Governments keen to reduce public spending and increase civic involvement believe active communities are essential for tackling a range of social economic and political challenges such as crime sustainable development and the provision of care Public Policy in the Community examines the way that community and the ideas associated with it civil society social capital mutuality networks have been understood and applied from the 1960s to the present day Marilyn Taylor examines the issues involved in putting the community at the heart of policy making and considers the political and social implications of such a practice Drawing on a wide range of relevant examples from around the world the book considers the success of existing approaches and the prospects for further developments Thoroughly updated to reflect advances in research and practice the new edition of this important text gives a state of the art assessment of the place of community in public policy

Global Cases in Best and Worst Practice in Crisis and Emergency Management Ali Farazmand,2016-04-19 Global Cases in Best and Worst Practice in Crisis and Emergency Management is the first book to focus on select global cases from the perspective of best and worst practices in the context of crisis and emergency management Bringing together the most established scholars and experts in the field it offers theories along with an empirical success Learning from Arnstein's Ladder Mickey Lauria,Carissa Schively Slotterback,2020-10-12 Sherry Arnstein writing in 1969 about citizen involvement in planning processes in the United States described a ladder of citizen participation that showed participation ranging from low to high Arnstein depicted the failings of typical participation processes at the time and characterized aspirations toward engagement that have now been elevated to core values in planning practice But since that time the political economic and social context has evolved greatly and planners organizers and residents have been involved in planning and community development practice in ways previously unforeseen Learning from Arnstein s Ladder draws on contemporary theory expertise empirical analysis and practical applications in what is now more commonly termed public engagement in planning to examine the enduring impacts of Arnstein s work and the pervasive challenges that planners face in advancing meaningful public engagement This book presents research from throughout the world including Australia Brazil India Indonesia Portugal Serbia and the United States among others that utilizes critiques revises and expands upon Arnstein s aspirational vision It is essential reading for educators and students of planning Jamaica International Monetary Fund. Western Hemisphere Dept.,2014-06-20 This 2014 Article IV Consultation highlights that a gradual economic recovery appears to be under way in Jamaica Growth is estimated at 0.9 percent in FY2013/14 as mining agriculture and tourism picked up Recorded unemployment remains high but fell from 16 percent to 13.5 percent in seasonally adjusted terms from April 2013 to January 2014 Inflation declined to 7.6 percent year over year at end April as the impact of the ongoing depreciation of the exchange rate was countered by weak domestic demand Growth is projected to reach almost 11.2 percent in 2014/2015 as the negative fiscal impulse comes to an end

Responding to Climate Change in Asian Cities Diane Archer,Sarah Colenbrander,David Dodman,2016-11-03 The role of cities in addressing climate change is increasingly recognised in international arenas including the Sustainable Development Goals the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change and the New Urban Agenda Asia is home to many of the countries that are most vulnerable to climate change impacts and along with Africa will be the site of most urban population growth over the coming decades Bringing together a range of city experiences Responding to Climate Change in Asian Cities provides valuable insights into how cities can overcome some of the barriers to building climate resilience including addressing the needs of vulnerable populations The chapters are centred on an overarching understanding that adaptive urban governance is necessary for climate resilience This requires engaging with different actors to take into account their experiences vulnerabilities and priorities building knowledge including collecting and using appropriate evidence and understanding the institutions shaping interactions between actors from the national to the local level The chapters draw on a mix of research methodologies demonstrating the variety of approaches to understanding and building urban resilience that can be applied in urban settings Bringing together a range of expert contributors this book will be of great interest to scholars of urban studies sustainability and environmental studies development studies and Asian studies Profiles of the Regional Educational Laboratories, 1997-1998 Robert M.
