

Resistance to Reconstruction

Many white Southerners who held power before the Civil War, known as conservatives, wanted the South to change as little as possible. They were willing to let Africans vote and hold a few offices. Other Southerners took a harsher view. They spread terror to African Americans and anybody who supported them.

They formed secret societies to try to help the South regain its power. The most dangerous group was the Ku Klux Klan, or KKK. Dressed in white robes and hoods to cover their heads. They used violence to murder and scare African Americans and their allies. In 1870, Congress acted to stop the KKK's violence. Congress made it a crime to use force to keep people from voting.

A Geopolitics Of Academic Writing A. Suresh Canagarajah, 2002-12-15 A Geopolitics of Academic Writing critiques current scholarly publishing practices exposing the inequalities in the way academic knowledge is constructed and legitimized As a periphery scholar now working in and writing from the center Suresh Canagarajah is uniquely situated to demonstrate how and why contributions from Third World scholars are too often relegated to the perimeter of academic discourse He examines three broad conventions governing academic writing textual concerns matters of languages style tone and structure social customs the rituals governing the interactions of members of the academic community and publishing practices from submission protocols to photocopying and postage requirements Canagarajah argues that the dominance of Western conventions in scholarly communication leads directly to the marginalization or appropriation of the knowledge of Third World communities

Inculturation and Postcolonial Discourse in African Theology Edward P. Antonio,2006 What is inculturation How is it practiced and what is its relationship to colonial and postcolonial discourses In what ways if any does inculturation represent the decolonization of Christianity in Africa This book explores these questions and argues that inculturation is a species of postcolonial discourse by placing it in the larger context of what has now come to be known as Africanism and by showing how the latter and through it inculturation itself fully participates in the history of postcolonial struggles for indigenous self definition in Africa The thirteen contributors to this volume represent a group of young scholars from the southern eastern and western regions of Africa They come from different disciplines theology philosophy and biblical studies Although they take different approaches to the question of inculturation the fact that they engage it at all is illustrative of the methodological significance of inculturation in African theology

Consuming Technologies Roger Silverstone,Eric Hirsch,1992 Consuming Technologies opens for analysis some crucial but rarely examined areas of social cultural and economic life At its core is a concern with the complex set of relationships that mark and define the place of the domestic in the modern world and an explanation of the relationship between the domestic and public spheres as they are mediated by consumption and technology

Structural Studies, Repairs and Maintenance of Heritage Architecture XVII & Earthquake Resistant Engineering Structures XIII S. Hernández, G. Marseglia, 2021-07-26

Structural Studies Repairs and Maintenance of Heritage Architecture XVII The importance of retaining the built cultural heritage cannot be overstated. Rapid development and inappropriate conservation techniques are threatening many heritage unique sites in different parts of the world. Selected papers presented at the 17th International Conference on Studies Repairs and Maintenance of Heritage Architecture are included in this volume. They address a series of topics related to the historical aspects and the reuse of heritage buildings as well as technical issues on the structural integrity of different types of buildings such as those constructed with materials as varied as iron and steel concrete masonry wood or earth. Restoration processes require the appropriate characterisation of those materials the modes of construction and the structural behaviour of the building. This knowledge can be gained through a series of material characterisation techniques preferably via non destructive tests. Modern computer simulation can provide accurate results demonstrating the stress state of the building and possible failure mechanisms affecting its stability. Of particular importance are studies related to their dynamic and earthquake behaviour aiming to provide an assessment of the seismic vulnerability of heritage buildings. Contributions originate from scientists architects engineers and restoration experts from all over the world and deal with different aspects of heritage buildings including how to formulate regulatory policies to ensure effective ways of preserving the architectural heritage.

Earthquake Resistant Engineering Structures XIII Papers presented at the 13th International Conference on Earthquake Resistant Engineering Structures form this volume and cover basic and applied research in the various fields of earthquake engineering relevant to the design of structures. Major earthquakes and associated effects such as tsunamis continue to stress the need to carry out more research on those topics. The problems will intensify as population pressure results in buildings in regions of high seismic vulnerability. A better understanding of these phenomena is required to design earthquake resistant structures and to carry out risk assessments and vulnerability studies. The problem of protecting the built environment in earthquake prone regions involves not only the optimal design and construction of new facilities but also the upgrading and rehabilitation of existing structures including heritage buildings. The type of highly specialized retrofitting employed to protect the built heritage is an important area of research. The included papers cover such topics as Seismic hazard and tsunamis Building performance during earthquakes Structural vulnerability Seismic isolation and energy dissipation Passive earthquake protection systems

1956 Simon Hall, 2016-09-06

Vibrantly and perceptively told this is the story of one remarkable year a vivid history of exhilarating triumphs and shattering defeats around the world. 1956 was one of the most remarkable years of the twentieth century. All across the globe ordinary people spoke out filled the streets and city squares and took up arms in an attempt to win their freedom. In this dramatic page turning history Simon Hall takes the long view of the year's events putting them in their post war context and looking toward their influence on the counterculture movements of the 1960s to tell the story of the year's epic global struggles from the point of view of the freedom fighters dissidents and countless ordinary people who worked to overturn oppressive and authoritarian systems in order to build a brave new world It was an epic contest 1956 is the first narrative history of the year as a whole and the first to frame its tumultuous events as part of an interconnected global story of revolution      Strange Worship Drew J. Strait, 2024-07-19 Christian nationalism threatens democracies and the church's witness around the world In the US the election of Donald Trump and the January 6 Capitol insurrection spilled Christian power worship into public view Since then we have worked hard to define what American Christian nationalism is and where it came from but how do we challenge it Strange Worship offers tangible steps for resisting political idolatry violent extremism dominion theology threats to democracy and the personal isolation and loneliness that lead to radicalization By drawing from the fields of biblical studies theology and peace and security studies Strange Worship invites congregations to disrupt theologies of oppression and architect a more just church and world      Fascism in Italian Cinema since 1945 G. Lichtner, 2013-05-29 From neorealism's resolve to Berlusconi revisionist melodramas this book examines cinema's role in constructing memories of Fascist Italy Italian cinema has both reflected and shaped popular perceptions of Fascism reinforcing or challenging stereotypes remembering selectively and silently forgetting the most shameful pages of Italy's history      Native Removal Writing Sabine N. Meyer, 2022-01-27 During the Standing Rock Sioux protest against the Dakota Access Pipeline an activist observed Forced removal isn't just in the history books Sabine N Meyer concurs noting the prominence of Indian Removal the nineteenth century policy of expelling Native peoples from their land in Native American aesthetic and political praxis across the centuries Removal has functioned both as a specific set of historical events and a synecdoche for settler colonial dispossession of Indigenous communities across hemispheres and generations It has generated a plethora of Native American writings that negotiate forms of belonging the identities of Native collectives their proprietary relationships and their most intimate relations among one another By analyzing these writings in light of domestic settler colonial international and tribal law Meyer reveals their coherence as a distinct genre of Native literature that has played a significant role in negotiating Indigenous identity Critically engaging with Native Removal writings across the centuries Meyer's work shows how these texts need to be viewed as articulations of Native identity that respond to immediate political concerns and that take up the question of how Native peoples can define and assert their own social cultural and legal political forms of living being and belonging within the settler colonial order Placing novels in conversation with nonfiction writings Native Removal Writing ranges from texts produced in response to the legal and political struggle over Cherokee Removal in the late 1820s and 1830s to works written by African Native writers dealing with the freedmen disenrollment crisis to contemporary speculative fiction that links the appropriation of Native intangible property culture with the earlier dispossession of their

real property land In close contextualized readings of John Rollin Ridge John Milton Oskison Robert J Conley Diane Glancy Sharon Ewell Foster Zelda Lockhart and Gerald Vizenor as well as politicians and scholars such as John Ross Elias Boudinot and Rachel Caroline Eaton Meyer identifies the links these writers create between historical past narrated present and political future Native Removal Writing thus testifies to both the ongoing power of Native Removal writing and its significance as a critical practice of resistance Modern Italian Literature Ann Caesar, Michael Caesar, 2007-09-11 Covers 1690 to the present Iran's Political Economy since the Revolution Suzanne Maloney, 2015-08-13 Over three decades after the Iranian Revolution reconfigured the strategic landscape in the Middle East scholars are still trying to decipher its aftereffects Suzanne Maloney provides the first comprehensive overview of Iran's political economy since the 1979 revolution and offers detailed examinations of two aspects of the Iranian economy of direct interest to scholars and non specialist readers of Iran the energy sector and the role of sanctions Based on the author's research as both a scholar and government advisor the book also features interviews with American and Iranian government officials Moving chronologically from the early years under Khomeini through the economic deprivations of the 1980s during the Iran Iraq war through liberalization under Khatami to the present Maloney offers fascinating insights into Iran's domestic politics and how economic policies have affected ideology leadership priorities and foreign relations The Civil Rights Movement and the Logic of Social Change Joseph E. Luders, 2010-01-25 Social movements have wrought dramatic changes upon American society This raises the question Why do some movements succeed in their endeavors while others fail Luders answers this question by introducing an analytical framework that begins with a shift in emphasis away from the characteristics of movements toward the targets of protests and affected bystanders and why they respond as they do This shift brings into focus how targets and other interests assess both their exposure to movement disruptions as well as the costs of conceding to movement demands From this point diverse outcomes stem not only from a movement's capabilities for protest but also from differences among targets and others in their vulnerability to disruption and the substance of movement goals Applied to the civil rights movement this approach recasts conventional accounts of the movement's outcome in local struggles and national politics and clarifies the broader logic of social change
