Justice Unbound Patrizia Longo, 2018-12-17 This important anthology provides students and teachers with voices of social and global justice that have been marginalized or forgotten by history. It gives thought leaders from the Global South a platform and engages the voices of oppressed communities including Charles Mills and Franz Fanon and Ella Baker. This text is a comprehensive analysis of modern and contemporary theories of justice. Since the publication in 1971 of John Rawls's A Theory of Justice, there has been much debate on his views from both the right and the left of the political spectrum. But there is a lack of textbooks that provide not only a compilation of substantial selections on challenges to Rawls's theory from feminist and postcolonial scholars but that also include writings by non-white and non-Western authors on different aspects of justice. This book fills this huge gap and brings together many influential writings on the topic of justice that are often omitted in philosophy and political theory collections. This work addresses complex issues in an increasingly diverse society.

A Way of Transformation Geraldine S. Smyth, 1995 The book provides a lively contribution to the ecumenical task of correlating theology and culture, ethics and ecclesiology. Focussing on the World Council of Churches conciliar process of justice, peace and the integrity of creation between the assemblies of Vancouver 1983 and Canberra 1991, the author combines historical analysis, theological critique and renewal and a sensitivity to the role of symbol in seeking a way of transformation in today's church and world.

Ideals and Ideologies Terence Ball, 2019-07-04 Ideals and Ideologies: A Reader is a comprehensive compilation of classic and contemporary readings representing all of the major isms. It offers students a generous sampling of key thinkers in different ideological traditions and places them in their historical and political contexts. Used on its own or with Political Ideologies and the Democratic Ideal, the anthology accounts for the different ways people use ideology and conveys the continuing importance of ideas in politics.

New to this 11th Edition: Alexander Keyssar Voter Suppression: Then and Now, a distinguished historian traces the tawdry history of attempts, successful and unsuccessful, to disenfranchise voters. Andrew Sullivan Democracies End When They Become Too Democratic, an eminent conservative commentator and author argues that under certain circumstances democracies pose a danger to their very own existence. Timothy Egan The Dumbed Down Democracy, a prominent author and columnist argues that American democracy has been dumbed down due in large part to the absence of civic education in the public school curriculum. Max Boot and David Brooks Conservatives Assess Trump, two leading contemporary conservatives ponder the fundamental ideological problems the current president poses for the movement and consider the ways in which Donald Trump is and isn't a true conservative. Eugene V. Debs Speech to the Conference for Progressive Political Action, an early 20th-century American socialist and former presidential candidate articulates his vision for a new workers party that would challenge capitalism in the United States. Robert Kagan This is How Fascism Comes to America, a prominent neoconservative historian detects disturbing parallels between the rise of Donald Trump and that of various interwar fascists Erik Loomis A New Chapter in the Black Liberation Movement an American historian makes the case for Black Liberation with a particularly compelling case study how prisoners mainly black work essentially as slaves in both public and for profit prisons in the United States Black Lives Matter A Vision for Black Lives Demands for Black Power Freedom Justice leaders of the Black Lives Matter movement set forth their basic ideological beliefs and public policy prescriptions Josephine Livingstone The Task Ahead for Feminism the author argues that much remains to be done after the MeToo movement

Hope for the Earth Ernst M. Conradie, 2005-05-18 Hope for the Earth explores the viability of an eschatological approach to an ecological theology spirituality and praxis in the South African context The basic intuition of such an eschatological approach is that an environmental praxis can only be empowered on the basis of an adequate understanding of Christian hope Despair in the face of environmental destruction will inevitably lead to a spirit of resignation Where then can a vision of hope that includes hope for the earth be found The author proposes a road map for eschatology based on the observation that eschatology has traditionally responded to three aspects of the human predicament namely 1 the evil effects of sin 2 the problem of finitude and transience and 3 the limitations of human power and knowledge in space Part A This analysis is used to fathom the depths of despair as a result of environmental destruction Part B The Biblical roots and subsequent history of Christian eschatology are discussed briefly Part C Recent contributions in Christian eschatology ecological theology cosmology and South African expressions of hope are explored in depth in search of a vision of hope that includes hope for the earth itself Part D The eschatological road map is used to develop a vision of hope for the earth on the basis of a theology of life life amidst death and destruction life beyond death and eternal life in the presence of God Part E

Finally the implications of this vision for an ecological ethos spirituality and praxis in the South African context are indicated

Part F Is It Too Late? John B. Cobb Jr., 2021-04-20 In the fifty years since its initial publication Is It Too Late has proven its prescience in ways both significant and dire As the first book length philosophical and theological analysis of the environmental crisis this work introduced a generation to the key elements of crisis while suggesting ways that religion can be a force for hope rather than an instrument of despair Covering an ambitious range of issues from deforestation to abortion from religious views of the natural world to the need for technological innovation to avoid nature's destruction John Cobb moves deftly from philosophical to theological to scientific learning and integrates these interdisciplinary insights into a compelling vision for what he calls a new Christianity Comprehensive in scope non technical in expression and concise in length Is It Too Late provides the scholar and the student alike with a readable and compelling orientation to the philosophical and theological stakes of ecology This Fortress edition includes a new preface in which Cobb reflects on the current situation the specific promises and perils we now face and how his own thinking on matters theological and ecological has evolved in the last half century

Wounded Visions Jonas Jonson, 2013-01-07 Jonas Jonson who was directly involved with the ecumenical movement for forty years offers in this book an inside perspective on an ever changing global Christianity Reviewing developments in ecumenism from the 1960s to the present Jonson discusses the decolonization of mission interreligious relations God's preferential option for the poor and unity in diversity He also maps the global ecumenical landscape and presents the Fourth Church comprising charismatic Pentecostal and evangelical movements of the twentieth century How did the ecumenical movement respond to the fall of communism the opening of China and the globalization of financial markets Why did so many big churches caught in the whirlwind of change retreat from their ecumenical commitments in order to promote and protect their own interests Jonson addresses these questions and more in this comprehensive review of global Christianity and the ecumenical movement

Christianity and Earthkeeping Ernst Marais Conradie, 2011-04-01 Why should Christians engage in earthkeeping as Christians and from within Christian communities What is the underlying theological rationale for that In this book some 19 reasons why Christians may be encouraged to engage in earthkeeping are identified juxtaposed and assessed in order to call for clarity to invite discussion and to elicit creative tensions No single position is advocated it would be helpful if Christians could engage in earthkeeping on the basis of any of these motivations

How Would We Know What God is Up To? Ernst M. Conradie, Cynthia Moe-Lobeda, 2023-03-01 This second volume in the series on An Earthed Faith will address the following question Given what we know about the Anthropocene how does one even begin to answer the question What is this God up to and how ought humans respond This is a question of theological method including the sources and interlocutors of Christian theology its aims and starting points social theories shaping it and presuppositions grounding it Addressing this question is the classic task of doing contextual theology namely describing and analysing a particular context and considering how this context may best be addressed theologically and practically The question highlights the need for prophetic theology to discern the signs of the time to recognise a moment of truth Kairos and to discern counter movements of the Spirit The question of method opens the door to constructive critique of how theology has been done and should be done

Long, Neely Dixon McCarter, 1990-01-01 This excellent resource provides help for ministers who must plan their sermons not only according to the liturgical church year but also in response to the secular calendar of national holidays and public ceremonies and in response to the program calendar of local and denominational emphases Individual chapters discuss preaching about racial relations family church and nation the global witness of the church work evangelism stewardship and giving thanks Suggestions for sermons on each theme are provided as well

What is Mission? J. Andrew Kirk, How should today's Church shape its response to the Gospel How can we set about making disciples of all nations in our post Christian multifaith world What does mission mean in our times Here is a book that addresses these issues and many more with honesty and openness It strips mission of its old associations with colonialism and militarism It looks anew at the underlying theology reminding us that our task is God's mission not a human construct It explores key aspects of contemporary mission from the familiar such as the relation of mission to evangelism and to people of other faiths to the unusual and thought provoking such as mission and the environment justice for the poor and the overcoming of violence Students of mission and Christians who wish to engage with today's world to integrate faith and life will find here an inclusive comprehensive and lucid presentation of all the relevant discussions

Creation and Complexity Christine Ledger, Stephen Pickard, 2004 Creation and Complexity are two themes that draw the sciences and theology together The remarkable advances of science in the modern period have opened up new knowledge and revealed ever deepening layers of complexity in the world from the cosmic macro level to the micro world of quantum There seems no end to the rich tapestry of the cosmic order and process A science of complexity has been spawned The discoveries of the sciences have been matched in the twentieth century by a renewal in the doctrine of creation Behind this lies a renaissance in trinitarian thinking which offers fresh insight into the dynamic of God in creation past present and future The complexity of the triune God in creation find echoes in the rich complexity of the world uncovered by the contemporary sciences This book explores the nature of complexity in God's creation
