Gorman, 1981 Natural Resource-based Conflicts in the Greater Horn of Africa, 2001 Climate Change and Resource Conflict Judith M. Bretthauer, 2016-08-25 This book examines the links between climate change and resource scarcity to violent conflict Does climate change cause conflicts This book analyses the economic political and social conditions under which countries with low levels of freshwater or arable land experience armed conflict There are strong theoretic arguments linking climate change and scarcity of livelihood resources to conflict However empirical accounts are contradictory Using qualitative comparative analysis fsQCA this book compares 22 political economic and social conditions across 30 countries experiencing scarcity of available freshwater or arable land The results show that there are three types of resource scarce countries that experience conflicts neo patrimonial states oil rich states that are poorly integrated into the global economy and least developed states In addition the results reveal that there are two types of resource scarce countries that remain peaceful non agrarian countries with either even development between groups or high integration into the global economy with high levels of adaptive capacities This explains the contradictory results of previous empirical studies and suggests that resource scarcity might contribute to conflict in least developed countries This book will be of much interest to students of climate change critical security peace and conflict studies and IR in general Discussing Conflict in
