

Physiology of respiration

The process of gas exchange in the body, called respiration, it has three basic steps:

1. Pulmonary ventilation or breathing

- It is the inhalation (inflow) and exhalation (outflow) of air and involves the exchange of air between the atmosphere and the alveoli of the lungs.

2. External (pulmonary) respiration

- It is the exchange of gases between the alveoli of the lungs and the blood in pulmonary capillaries across the respiratory membrane.
- In this process, pulmonary capillary blood gains  $O_2$  and loses  $CO_2$ .

3. Internal (tissue) respiration

- It is the exchange of gases between blood in systemic capillaries and tissue cells. In this step the blood loses  $O_2$  and gains  $CO_2$ . Within cells, the metabolic reactions that consume  $O_2$  and give off  $CO_2$  during the production of ATP are termed cellular respiration

Respiratory Physiology N. Balfour Slonim, John L. Chapin, 1967      Respiratory Physiology John B. West, 2013-05-27 Present day respiratory physiology stems largely from the explosion of ideas which took place during and after World War II A number of the major players are still active but the opportunity to prepare a personal history of this branch of medicine will soon be lost In a sense then this book offers an exceptional even unique opportunity We are offered a first hand chronicle of the advancements made in respiratory physiology in the course of this century by one of the principal figures in the field The volume covers every aspect of the evolution of this important area of knowledge morphology gas exchange and blood flow mechanics control of ventilation and comparative physiology Some of the chapters are personal accounts of the development of respiratory physiology as observed by the author It is hoped that what is lost in objectivity by this approach is more than made up by the captivating insights provided by the author into the process of scientific research and discovery
