Restoration and anti-restoration; a study in English restoration philosophy S. TSCHUDI-MADSEN, Restoration and anti-restoration Stephan Tschudi Madsen,1976 Restoration and History Marcus Hall,2010-02-01 Once a forest has been destroyed should one plant a new forest to emulate the old or else plant designer forests to satisfy our immediate needs Should we aim to re create forests or simply create them How does the past shed light on our environmental efforts and how does the present influence our environmental goals Can we predict the future of restoration This book explores how a consideration of time and history can improve the practice of restoration There is a past of restoration as well as past assumptions about restoration and such assumptions have political and social implications Governments around the world are willing to spend billions on restoration projects in the Everglades along the Rhine River in the South China Sea without acknowledging that former generations have already wrestled with repairing damaged ecosystems that there have been many kinds of former ecosystems and that there are many former ways of understanding such systems This book aims to put the dimension of time back into our understanding of environmental efforts Historic ecosystems can serve as models for our restorative efforts if we can just describe such ecosystems What conditions should be brought back and do such conditions represent new natures or better pasts A collective answer is given in these pages and it is not a unified answer Theory and History of Conservation Calogero Bellanca,2024-11-21 The book aims to provide the ability to approach restoration of historic architecture in a methodical way starting from basic concepts in terminology In the different chapters will be addressed the theoretical aspects of restoration stylistic restoration Anti Restoration Historic Restoration Scientific Philological Restoration in the first volume the Critical Restoration the Critical Conservative Restoration the Pure Conservation maintenance repair and currents trends in the second volume The history of conservation will be studied in different historical periods countries in different conceptions and through its main protagonists The Charters of Restoration will be described and studied The next volume will present the current trends in restoration With contributions by Susana Mora Alonso Mu oyerro and Ignacio Mora Moreno Historical and Philosophical Issues in the Conservation of Cultural Heritage Nicholas Price,M. Kirby Talley,Alessandra Melucco Vaccaro,2016-09-23 This volume is the first comprehensive collection of texts on the conservation of art and architecture to be published in the English language Designed for students of art history as well as conservation the book consists of forty six texts some never before translated into English and many originally published only in obscure or foreign journals The thirty major art historians and scholars represented raise questions such as when to restore what to preserve and how to maintain aesthetic character Excerpts have been selected from the following books and essays John Ruskin The Seven Lamps of Architecture Bernard Berenson Aesthetics and History in the Visual Arts Clive Bell The Aesthetic Hypothesis Cesare Brandi Theory of Restoration Kenneth

Clark Looking at Pictures Erwin Panofsky The History of Art as a Humanistic Discipline E H Gombrich Art and Illusion Marie Cl Berducou The Conservation of Archaeology and Paul Philippot Restoration from the Perspective of the Social Sciences The fully illustrated book also contains an annotated bibliography and an index The Rise of Heritage Astrid Swenson, 2013-12-19 A richly illustrated book exploring the origins of the modern fascination for heritage comparing preservation in France Germany and England The Myth of Santa Fe Chris Wilson, 1997 Debunks the great tourist myth and explains how the Santa Fe architectural and design style so popular with millions of visitors today was consciously created by Anglos in the early 20th century A Very Queer Family Indeed Simon Goldhill, 2016-10-03 We can begin with a kiss though this will not turn out to be a love story at least not a love story of anything like the usual kind So begins A Very Queer Family Indeed which introduces us to the extraordinary Benson family Edward White Benson became Archbishop of Canterbury at the height of Queen Victoria's reign while his wife Mary was renowned for her wit and charm the prime minister once wondered whether she was the cleverest woman in England or in Europe The couple's six precocious children included E F Benson celebrated creator of the Mapp and Lucia novels and Margaret Benson the first published female Egyptologist What interests Simon Goldhill most however is what went on behind the scenes which was even more unusual than anyone could imagine Inveterate writers the Benson family spun out novels essays and thousands of letters that open stunning new perspectives including what it might mean for an adult to kiss and propose marriage to a twelve year old girl how religion in a family could support or destroy relationships or how the death of a child could be celebrated No other family has left such detailed records about their most intimate moments and in these remarkable accounts we see how family life and a family's understanding of itself took shape during a time when psychoanalysis scientific and historical challenges to religion and new ways of thinking about society were developing This is the story of the Bensons but it is also more than that it is the story of how society transitioned from the high Victorian period into modernity Narrative Theory in Conservation Nigel Walter, 2020-03-11 Narrative Theory in Conservation engages with conservation heritage studies and architectural approaches to historic buildings offering a synthesis of the best of each and demonstrating that conservation is capable of developing a complementary but distinct theoretical position of its own Tracing the ideas behind the development of modern conservation in the West and considering the challenges presented by non Western practice the book engages with the premodern understanding of innovation within tradition and frames historic buildings as intergenerational communal ongoing narratives Redefining the appropriate object of conservation it suggests a practice of conserving the questions that animate and energize local cultures rather than only those instantiated answers that expert opinion has declared canonical Proposing a narrative approach to historic buildings the book provides a distinctive new theoretical foundation for conservation and a basis for a more equal dialogue with other disciplines concerned with the historic environment Narrative Theory in Conservation articulates a coherent theoretical position for conservation that addresses the urgent question of how historic buildings that remain in use should respond to change As such the book should be of great interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students from the fields of conservation heritage studies and architecture

Preserving Historic New England James M. Lindgren,1995-11-09 By the first years of the twentieth century the memory of old time New England was in danger What had once been a land of small towns populated by tradition minded Yankees was now becoming almost unrecognizable with a floodtide of immigrants and the constant change of a modernizing society At the same time cities such as Boston Portsmouth and Salem were bursting at the seams with factories high rises and uncontrollable growth During a period when the Colonial Revival and progressive movements held sway Yankees asserted their influence through campaigns to redefine the meaning of their Anglo American forebears As part of the reaction the modern preservation movement was founded by William Sumner Appleton Jr a privileged old blooded Bostonian Resisting not simply this avalanche of change but the amateurish romanticism of fellow antiquaries Appleton founded the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities in 1910 While examining SPNEA in the context of progressivism Preserving Historic New England focuses on its redefinition of preservation to fit the methodology of science the economy of capitalism and the aestheticism of architecture In so doing preservation not only became a profession defined by those male worlds but remade Yankee memory to accord with the modern corporate order

Intangible Heritage Laurajane Smith,Natsuko Akagawa,2008-12-03 Intangible Heritage fills a significant gap in the heritage literature available and represents a significant cross section of ideas and practices associated with intangible cultural heritage The authors brought together for this volume represent some of the key academics and practitioners working in the area and discuss research and practices from a range of countries
