Making Teaching and Learning Matter Judith Summerfield, Cheryl C. Smith, 2010-12-09 This volume captures the spirit of collaboration and innovation that its authors bring into the classroom as well as to groundbreaking undergraduate programs and initiatives Coming from diverse points of view and twenty different disciplines the contributors illuminate the often perplexing debates about what matters most in higher education today Each chapter tells a unique story about creating vital pedagogical arenas that have the potential to transform teaching and learning for both faculty and students These exploratory spaces include courses under construction cross college and interdisciplinary collaborations general education reform initiatives and fresh perspectives on student support services faculty development freshman learning communities writing across the curriculum on line degree initiatives and teaching and learning centers All these spaces lend shape to an over arching system wide project bringing together the often disconnected silos of undergraduate education at The City University of New York CUNY America s largest urban public university system Since 2003 the University s Office of Undergraduate Education has sponsored coordinated efforts to study and improve teaching and learning for the system s 260 000 undergraduates enrolled at 18 distinct colleges The contributors to this volume present a broad spectrum of administrative and faculty perspectives that have informed the process of transforming the undergraduate experience Combined the voices in these chapters create a much needed exploratory space for the interplay of ideas about how teaching and learning need to matter in evolving notions of higher education in the twenty first century In addition the text has wider social relevance as an in depth exploration of change and reform in a large public institution

Dialogue With Bakhtin on Second and Foreign Language Learning Joan Kelly Hall, Gergana Vitanova, Ludmila A. Marchenkova, 2004-12-13 This volume is the first to explore links between the Russian linguist Mikhail Bakhtin s theoretical insights about language and practical concerns with second and foreign language learning and teaching Situated within a strong conceptual framework and drawing from a rich empirical base it reflects recent scholarship in applied linguistics that has begun to move away from formalist views of language as universal autonomous linguistic systems and toward an understanding of language as dynamic collections of cultural resources According to Bakhtin the study of language is concerned with the dialogue existing between linguistic elements and the uses to which they are put in response to the conditions of the moment Such a view of language has significant implications for current understandings of second and foreign language learning The contributors draw on some of Bakhtin s more significant concepts such as dialogue utterance heteroglossia voice and addressivity to examine real world contexts of language learning The chapters address a range of contexts including elementary and university level English as a second language and foreign language classrooms and adult learning situations outside the formal classroom The text is arranged in two parts Part I Contexts of Language Learning and Teaching contains seven chapters that report on investigations into specific contexts of language learning and teaching The chapters in Part II Implications for Theory and Practice present broader discussions on second and foreign language learning using Bakhtin s ideas as a springboard for thinking This is a groundbreaking volume for scholars in applied linguistics language education and language studies with an interest in second and foreign language learning for teacher educators and for teachers of languages from elementary to university levels It is highly relevant as a text for graduate level courses in applied linguistics and second and foreign language education      Families, Education and Giftedness Jim Campbell, Laura Mazzoli Smith, 2013-02-12 What is it like to be YOUNG GIFTED AND WORKING CLASS in contemporary England How do working class family values support high educational achievement What do researchers and policy makers have to learn about giftedness from working class families These provocative questions are explored in this ground breaking book Most studies of giftedness focus on the characteristics of individuals and draw upon psychological frameworks to understand them Participants in most gifted education programmes are recruited disproportionately from the higher social classes Sceptical of the concept of giftedness Mazzoli Smith and Campbell question conventional methodologies using a narrative approach to understand how four families of working class origins each with a gifted child construct their values in relation to education and social class They explore the influence of their family histories cultural values and life styles upon educational engagement and achievement The authors show that gifted education policies are poorly matched to the values of these families and argue that much research into giftedness has been flawed by social and cultural discrimination They propose an agenda for change in research paradigms in the giftedness field which should be characterized by interdisciplinarity and more culturally relative conceptions of giftedness      The Social Context of Learning in India Manoj Kumar Tiwary, Sanjay Kumar, Arvind Kumar Mishra, 2023-05-09 Why are children from disadvantaged and minority communities overrepresented among academic underachievers poor learners and school dropouts This volume engages with this question and examines classroom learning as a process that involves a multitude of actors situated in specific social cultural and historical contexts The volume covers an interdisciplinary spectrum of educational processes contexts educational ambitions and limitations of low caste working class and middle class students from different Indian communities and regions The volume delves into the problem of academic underperformance from a social identity perspective and probes into social context based variability in classroom learning systemic disadvantages in the form of negative stereotypes and the family as an under studied social group in all discussions of schooling It also examines the teachers perceptions and attitudes towards Adivasi students and other minority groups in primary schools and their effect on children s classroom engagement The chapters in this volume provide insights into unresolved and critical research questions that require the attention of teachers school management educators and policymakers alike This book will also be useful for academicians policymakers teacher educators pedagogic practitioners in India and abroad and state and central government institutions working on school education educational psychology policymaking in education learning methods and research on educational enhancement      Critical Theories for School Psychology and Counseling Sherrie Proctor, David P. Rivera, 2021-11-29 Critical Theories for School Psychology and Counseling introduces school psychologists and counselors to five critical theories that inform more equitable inclusive work with marginalized and underserved student populations Offering accessible conceptualizations of each theory and explicit links to application in practice and supervision the book speaks to common professional functions and issues such as cognitive assessment school based counseling discipline disproportionality and more This innovative collection offers graduate students university faculty and practicum and internship supervisors an insightful new direction for serving learners across diverse identities cultures and abilities      Handbook of Multicultural School Psychology Emilia C. Kincheloe, Danny Weil, 2001-12-07 In this definitive three volume set top scholars illuminate the historical social cultural political administrative psychological and philosophical issues behind the standards debate The nation's demand for more sophisticated knowledge workers who can easily access information using computers requires that they be able to interpret that information judge and assess it and give it meaning In short students must be taught how to think Is education as it now exists in the United States a mere memorization and regurgitation of facts If so is this a pseudo education In this three volume encyclopedia a 100 page introductory overview and 41 essays by top scholars present a new vision of education and educational rigor in a variety of classroom contexts and subject areas Essays cover the most important issues in education today the purpose of education regulating teachers school accreditation testing nontraditional schools bilingual education justice and education the politics of education learning theory and cognition and opposition to standards and more The encyclopedia also includes a historical timeline of educational reform and an annotated bibliography      Creating Learning without Limits Mandy Swann, Alison Peacock, Susan Hart, Mary Jane Drummond, 2012-04-16 This book tells the story of how one primary school community worked to build a learning environment that is inclusive humane and enabling for everybody a place free from the damaging effects of fixed ability thinking and practices Drawing on compelling accounts of everyday life in the school it describes how in just a few years the school once in special measures grew into a thriving community with distinctive views of learning curriculum and pedagogy monitoring and accountability that found expression in every aspect of school life The work of the school community was guided by the findings of a previous project Learning without Limits Hart Dixon Drummond and McIntyre 2004 an empirical study of the classroom practice of individual teachers who had rejected the concept of fixed ability Creating Learning without Limits explores what becomes possible when the same ideas and principles are used creatively to guide and inspire whole school improvement This book is not simply a celebration of the success of the school it engages with the struggles and difficulties encountered by the staff as they set about learning to reshape pedagogy and curriculum by reference to their shared values of inclusion social justice and human educability It gives a detailed analysis of how the headteacher harnessed the power of collective action The insights generated by this study have enduring relevance and applicability to people in other contexts for staff groups craving for more equitable school improvement for individual teachers wondering how best to foster children s learning capacity for school leaders and teacher educators who find their values increasingly compromised Creating Learning without Limits takes on one of the most important issues in education today This is a must read for educators policy makers and parents alike Jo Boaler Professor of Mathematics Education Stanford University California Formerly a teacher and researcher at the Universities of London and Sussex This will undoubtedly turn out to be amongst the most important educational books of the decade If you want to know why the standards agenda must inevitably fail and what we might do instead read this book Professor Michael Fielding Institute of Education University of London UK This is an inspiring and reviving book Anne Watson Professor of Mathematics Education University of Oxford UK This book provides a grounded demonstration of the importance of educational principles the most important of which is the understanding that each child s potential for learning is limitless I urge you to let it influence your thinking too Professor Andrew Pollard Institute of Education University of London UK The book deserves a really wide readership Professor Clyde Chitty Institute of Education University of London UK This book is slim in size but hefty in significance Barry Hymer Professor of Psychology in Education Education Faculty University of Cumbria UK A classic for our time it should be read by all who seek approaches to teaching and learning that are free from externally imposed views of ability and potential Professor Lani Florian School of Education University of Aberdeen UK This book could be the catalyst for the educational change that we are all praying for Julie Lilly Head Teacher UK

Neurophenomenology and Its Applications to Psychology Susan Gordon, 2013-06-12 This book explores the meaning and import of neurophenomenology and the philosophy of enactive or embodied cognition for psychology It introduces the psychologist to an experiential non reductive holistic theoretical and practical framework that integrates the approaches of natural and human science to consciousness In integrating phenomenology with cognitive science neurophenomenology provides a bridge between the natural and human sciences that opens an interdisciplinary dialogue on the nature of awareness the ontological primacy of experience the perception of the observer and the mind brain relationship which will shape the future of psychological theory research and practice      Postformal Education Jennifer M.

Gidley,2016-08-05 This book explains why the current education model which was developed in the 19th century to meet the needs of industrial expansion is obsolete It points to the need for a new approach to education designed to prepare young people for global uncertainty accelerating change and unprecedented complexity The book offers a new educational philosophy to awaken the creative big picture and long term thinking that will help equip students to face tomorrow s challenges Inside readers will find a dialogue between adult developmental psychology research on higher stages of reasoning and today s most evolved education research and practice This dialogue reveals surprising links between play and wisdom imagination and ecology holism and love The overwhelming issues of global climate crisis growing economic disparity and the youth mental health epidemic reveal how dramatically the current education model has failed students and educators This book raises a planet wide call to deeply question how we actually think and how we must educate It articulates a postformal education philosophy as a foundation for educational futures The book will appeal to educators educational philosophers pre service teacher educators educational and developmental psychologists and educational researchers including postgraduates with an interest in transformational educational theories designed for the complexity of the 21st century This is the most compelling book on education I have read for many years It has major implications for all who are in a position to influence developments in teacher education and educational policy Gidley is one of the very rare scholars who can write intelligently and accessibly about the past present and future in education I was challenged and ultimately convinced by her contention that what masquerades as education today must be seen for what it is an anachronistic relic of the industrial past Gidley s challenge is to co evolve a radically new education All who seek to play a part must read this book Brian J Caldwell PhD Educational Transformations former Dean of Education at the University of Melbourne and Deputy Chair Australian Curriculum Assessment and Reporting Authority ACARA      Appropriating the

Discourse of Social Justice in Teacher Education Marta P. Baltodano,2015-03-05 In recent years there have been strong movements of reforms in teacher education The most common are intended to adjust teacher preparation to the standardization demands of NCLB Race to the Top and CAEP to make teacher education more accountable These reforms carried out in the name of excellence accountability diversity and inclusion constitute subliminal efforts to appropriate the possibilities for real transformation in teacher education However in spite of the pervasive rhetoric to identify diversity and social justice with the accountability and standardization movement there are endeavors to create transformations in teacher preparation that are authentic These deliberate changes seek to counteract the neoliberal vision of school reform and strive to reclaim the original goals of public education represented in a vision of rigorous content knowledge democratic schooling and social justice Appropriating the Discourse of Social Justice in Teacher Education is a testimony to that kind of authentic reform It documents the transformational efforts of a teacher education program that infused the preparation of its teachers with a vision of education as a public good This book validates the claim that the process of reproduction of social inequalities in teacher education is not a perfect static process but on the contrary the real seeds of transformation within teacher education departments are abundant The Praeger Handbook of Urban Education Philip M. Anderson,Kecia Hayes,Joe Kincheloe,Karel Rose,2006-03-30 Maintaining that urban teaching and learning is characterized by many contradictions this work proposes that there is a wide range of social cultural psychological and pedagogical knowledge urban educators must possess in order to engage in effective and transformative practice It is necessary for those teaching in urban schools to be scholar practitioners rather than bureaucrats who can only follow rather than analyze understand and create Ten major sections cover the myriad issues of urban education as it exists today Whatever Happened to Inclusion? Phil Smith,2010 Law policy and practice in the United States has long held that students with disabilities including those with intellectual disabilities have the right to a free and appropriate public education in a non restrictive environment Yet very few of these students are fully included in general education classrooms Educational systems use loopholes to segregate students universities regularly fail to train teachers to include students and state regulators fail to provide the necessary leadership and funding to implement policies of inclusion Whatever Happened to Inclusion reports on the inclusion of students with intellectual disabilities from national and state perspectives outlining the abject failure of schools to provide basic educational rights to students with significant disabilities in America The book then describes the changes that must be made in teacher preparation programs policy funding and local schools to make the inclusion of students with intellectual disabilities a reality The Oxford Handbook of Philosophical and Qualitative Assessment in Music Education David James Elliott,Marissa Silverman,Gary McPherson,2019 The Oxford Handbook of Philosophical and Qualitative Assessment in Music Education offers critical perspectives on a wide range of conceptual and practical issues in music education assessment and evaluation as these apply to music education in schools and community settings Dance Education around the World Charlotte Svendler Nielsen,Stephanie BurrIDGE,2015-04-21 Dance has the power to change the lives of young people It is a force in shaping identity affirming culture and exploring heritage in an increasingly borderless world Creative and empowering pedagogies are driving curriculum development worldwide where the movement of peoples and cultures generates new challenges and possibilities for dance education in multiple contexts In Dance Education around the World Perspectives on Dance Young People and Change writers across the globe come together to reflect comment on and share their expertise and experiences The settings are drawn from a spectrum of countries with contributions from Europe the Americas the Middle East Asia the Pacific and Africa giving insights and fresh perspectives into contrasting ideas philosophies and approaches to dance education from Egypt to Ghana Brazil to Finland Jamaica to the Netherlands the UK USA Australia New Zealand and more This volume offers chapters and narratives on Curriculum developments worldwide Empowering communities through dance Embodiment and creativity in dance teaching Exploring and assessing learning in dance as artistic practice Imagined futures for dance education Reflection evaluation analysis and documentation are key to the evolving ecology of dance education and research involving individuals communities and nations Dance Education around the World Perspectives on Dance Young People and Change provides a great resource for dance educators practitioners and researchers and pushes for the furtherance of dance education around the world Charlotte Svendler Nielsen is Assistant professor and head of educational studies at the Department of Nutrition Exercise and Sports research group Body Learning and Identity University of Copenhagen Denmark Stephanie Burridge lectures at Lasalle College of the Arts and Singapore Management University and is the series editor for Routledge Celebrating Dance in Asia and the Pacific
