Rethinking Interagency Collaboration And Young People:

Rethinking Inter-agency Collaboration and Young People Helen Stokes, Debra Tyler, 1997 Improving Educational Equity in Urban Contexts Carlo Raffo, 2013-12-17 An enduring educational concern that has plagued researchers and policy makers in a number of affluent countries is the endemic nature of educational inequalities These inequalities highlight distinct differences in the educational skills knowledge capabilities and credentials between learners demographic characteristics They also point to issues of educational disadvantage that emanate from a combination of factors including family life communities the geographies of space and place gender and ethnicity This book examines some of the causes and responses to educational inequalities and focuses upon poor urban contexts where educational disadvantage is at its most concentrated and where educational policy and practice has over time proliferated It questions how wider inequities experienced by young people in urban contexts generate educational inequalities and disadvantage detailing explicitly what an equitable approach to education might look like Included in the book is an innovative educational equity framework and toolkit with illustrative policy and practice case studies bringing together unique scholarship and analysis to examine future educational policy in a holistic comprehensive and equitable way It will be valuable reading for postgraduate students researchers and policy makers with an interest in education and educational equity Children Taken Seriously Jan Mason, Toby Fattore, 2005 Annotation Practice oriented focuses on how professionals can use children s rights theories in their work with children Well respected authors recognized as leading academics and policy makers in childhood s studies Wide readership will be of interest to professionals working in social work education and mental health as well as to academics and policy makers Reconsidering Resilience in Education Adeela ahmed Shafi, Tristan Middleton, Richard Millican, Sian Templeton, 2020-09-03 This book explores the concept of resilience and its significance in responding to a rapid and ever changing globalised world whilst critiquing its buzzword status in contemporary times Drawing on research from a range of educational settings the book demonstrates that the resilience of individuals and their surrounding systems should not be viewed in isolation and that the interplay between individual resilience community resilience and resilient societies is complex and symbiotic On this basis it illustrates that efforts to promote resilience would benefit from a systems approach capable of coping with this complexity Using the ideas of agency and the power of self determinism a development of Bronfenbrenner s bio ecological model is presented to illustrate the complexity of their interplay Existing models of resilience are developed with the book offering the Dynamic Interactive Model of Resilience DIMoR as a way to analyse and support resilience which moves beyond a reductionist descriptive and fashionable presentation of resilience Education, Social Justice and Inter-Agency Working Sheila Riddell, Lyn Tett, 2003-08-27 This book explores policy and practice in a range of areas where education and other agencies interact Its theme is central to those interested in promoting social justice for adults and children experiencing the effects of exclusion Juvenile Justice Chris Cunneen, Robert Douglas White, 2002

This book provides an introduction to the main concepts and issues in juvenile justice in Australia and provides a consolidated overview of the dynamics of youth crime and the institutions of social control This book will be of particular interest to criminology and law students Educating for Resilience Graeme Withers, Jean Russell, 2001 Presents a framework or generalised model for the development of policy and practice in the care education and support of all young people Part 1 presents a grounded argument about principles underlying prevention and intervention and Part 2 presents a statement of the preferred model with structures and programs Social Security Journal ,1999 Promoting Successful Transition to Adulthood for Students with Disabilities Robert L. Morgan, Tim Riesen, 2016-02-01 Comprehensively addressing the challenges of transition this book provides practical knowledge and tools geared toward real world educators It presents clear guidelines for all aspects of team based transition planning for individuals with various levels of disability illustrated with vignettes of three secondary students who are followed throughout the book The authors describe evidence based practices for conducting assessments and promoting optimal outcomes in the areas of employment postsecondary education and independent living Keys to family involvement self determination interagency collaboration and problem solving are highlighted Several reproducible forms can be downloaded and printed in a convenient 8 1/2 x 11 size Inter-agency Collaboration Ann Glaister, Robert T. D. Glaister, 2005 Policy developments increasingly require public services to work across traditional professional boundaries This volume draws together some Scottish case studies of collaborative activity across education health and social work which focus upon children and considers issues emerging at the interface between policy and practice from the different professional perspectives There is beginning to appear some evaluation of the policies in Scotland But while policy is national implementation is local having to take account of local constraints and opportunities and being implemented by individual practitioners Interagency Collaboration conveys a sense of the experience of what is happening on the ground and to illustrate the impact at operational practitioner level It will appeal to policy makers and students of new partnerships for the development of services for children For We Are Young And . . . ? Sally Beadle, Roger Holdsworth, Johanna Wyn, 2011-03-15 For we are young and offers a provocative perspective on Australia's young people against a global and local backdrop of uncertainty and change It asserts the importance of a critically informed and positive approach to youth moving beyond seeing young people through the lens of shortcomings and problems to be solved For we are young and draws directly on the work of the Youth Research Centre at The University of Melbourne and its legacy of innovative and significant research on young Australians Opening with the theoretical context of youth research the book draws on contemporary examples to discuss new conceptual and research approaches the ways in which young people participate in change and the challenges and possibilities that are presented by current conditions For we are young and identifies emerging issues and future directions for youth research policy and professional practice Resources in Education ,2001 The SAGE Handbook of Special Education Lani Florian, 2013-12-14 The second edition of The SAGE

Handbook of Special Education provides a comprehensive overview of special education offering a wide range of views on key issues from all over the world The contributors bring together up to date theory research and innovations in practice with an emphasis on future directions for the role of special education in a global context of inclusion This brand new edition features New chapters on families interagency collaboration and issues of lifelong learning The UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Policy reform proposals Equity and social justice in education The impact of new thinking on assessment Issues and developments in classification The preparation and qualifications that teachers need The Handbook s breadth clarity and academic rigour will make it essential reading for researchers and postgraduate students and also for practitioners teachers school managers and administrators
